GERMANS ACCEPT ALLIED PLAN FOR DEFAULT RULINGS

International Conference in Full Agreement on Manner in Which They Are to Be Declared.

REICH ALLOWED TO ADDRESS COMMISSION

Of 40 Members of German Delegation in London, Only Three Do Not Have Degree of "Doctor."

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The allies and the Germans have reached a complete agreement on the manner in which defaults are to be declared under the Dawes plan.

After this morning's meeting of the "big 14" of the international conference on reparations, a French spokesman said an agreement was in sight by which Germany would be allowed to address the Interallied Reparation Commission should she be adjudged in default under the Dawes plan.

It was emphasized by this informant that this concession would be accorded Germany as a privilege rather than as a right, and that the final determination of Germany's possible default must remain strictly an allied affair.

The council of 14 today adopted the full text of the report of the first committee of the interallied conference. The council will meet again at 5 p. m. to take up the report of the third committee.

Busy Day for MacDonald.

The conference leaders on the allied side met first this morning and shortly afterward the Germans were admitted to take part in the discussion. It was decided to refer the question of amnesty for German nationals in the occupied territories to the conference jurists. An agreement on this subject is considered probable.

French circles expressed themselves quite satisfied with the morning meeting. They said the Germans presented their propositions in a moderate way and that the tone of the discussion was most courteous.

One of the French spokesmen asserted that many of the points put forward by the Germans were capable of adjustment and reconciliation with the agreements reached by the allies. It was said that in some instances only a slight explanation seemed necessary to make the German and allied views coincide.

This morning's meeting was again held in a committee room of the House of Commons, so as to permit Prime Minister MacDonald to withdraw from time to time in order to take his place on the floor of the House where his proposed Anglo-Russian agreement was being subjected to a hostile attack.

Meanwhile, the conference experts in Downing street continued their consideration of the question of the restoration of Germany's economic unity and the problem presented by the transfer of reparations receipts.

Conference of Finance Ministers.

American Ambassador Kellogg has written to the secretary of the International Conference, according to the Daily Chronicle, stating that the representatives of the United States are in accord with the French proposal to hold a conference of finance ministers in Paris immediately after the close of the meeting here.

The proposal was contained in resolutions, submitted last Saturday for adoption by the allied delegates. The first of these resolutions pertains to the allocation of payments received from Germany since January 1, 1923, and to payments to be received during the first year the Dawes plan is in operation.

Ambassador Kellogg's letter, according to the newspaper, states that inasmuch as the question of reimbursement for the cost of the American army of occupation in the Rhineland and certain American claims for war damages are involved, and as the agenda will also include the question of allocating German payments for the first year under the Dawes program, the United States, as the only "associated power," should participate in the proposed conference.

All but Three Members of German Delegation Are "Doctors."

The echoes in the corridors of the Ritz Hotel these days, with the pages shouting "Dr. Marx," "Dr. Stresemann," "Dr. Luther," and "Dr. So and So," down to the humblest attache of the delegation of the German reparation conference

Channel for U. S. World Flyers to Be Opened Off Greenland by Icebreaker

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, off Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 7.—Lieut. Lowell Smith and Lieut. Erik Nelson, remaining two of the four United States army pilots who set out to fly around the world, settled down here today to an indefinite wait for the establishing of an air base at Angmagsalik, Greenland, their next objective.

The ice breaker Quest is being chartered to break a lane through the floe lying off Angmagsalik, as this is considered the only available landing spot on the East Greenland coast.

"Our hands are tied," Lieut. Smith said today. "There is nothing for us to do but to wait until a base is established, and there is a belt of open water where we can land. Also, we must have supplies."

Smith had been hopeful that the delay might not be over five days, but he said today he did not know how long it would be.

It is considered too great a risk for the flyers to omit the stop at Angmagsalik, because it is about 850 miles from Reykjavik to Ivigtu, the next stopping place, and the planes have a fuel capacity for only 960 miles.

The weather here has been favorable for flying, and only the ice floes off the Greenland coast have prevented the intrepid Yankees from continuing their air voyage homeward.

There are three American warcraft in the harbor. When conditions are right to resume the globe-girdling journey they will take up their stations along the route.

Siggurdur Eggerse, head of the ministry of Iceland, visited the Richmond yesterday afternoon and invited the officers of the cruiser together with the aviators to visit the old site of the Iceland Parliament.

Lieut. McDonald Hops Off With Plane for Wade.

By the Associated Press.

NEW PORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 7.—Lieutenants George C. McDonald and V. E. Bertrandias hopped off from Langley Field this morning for Boston and Pictou, Nova Scotia, in the Douglas cruising plane in which Lieutenant Wade will resume his round the world flight.

KEYPORT, N. J., Aug. 7.—The Boston II, piloted by Lieut. McDonald, made its first stop here at 3:20 p. m. today and tfter being refueled, was on its way to Boston.

Wade to Rejoin World Flight in Training Plane.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Lieut. Leigh Wade and his mechanician, Lieut. Henry R. Ogden, will rejoin the world flight at Pictou Harbor, Nova Scotia, and finish the journey to Boston and across the continent to Seattle.

This announcement was made yesterday by the War Department.

At the request of Major General Mahon M. Patrick, chief of the air service, Secretary of War Weeks authorized the use by Lieut. Wade of the Douglas cruiser at Langley Field, which was used as training plane by the world fyers.

This plane will be flown to Pictou Harbor by First Lieut. George C. McDonald and Victor H. Bertrandias. En route from Langley Field to Pictou Harbor stops will be made at Keyport, N. J., Boston, Bar Harbor and Rockland, Me. The Langley Field plane is the first Douglas cruiser delivered to the air

WASHINGTON INFORMED SAFE LANDING PLACE IS FOUND IN GREENLAND

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.

A SAFE landing place for the world flyers on their next hop has been located by the army advance party on the east coast of Green land at Ekaluit, the army air service was informed today.

The proposed base is about 750 miles from Reykjavik in Iceland, where the two flyers have been awaiting word of the success of the exploring party. It is expected that an early resumption of the attempt to "tie in" the 26,000-mile air line around the world, will not be made.

A message relayed by the cruiser Milwaukee which for the past 48 hours has been cruising along the coast aiding the army advance, said that a safe harbor was available at Gungnat, in the same vicinity, for the supply ship and for hauling out the planes if ordinary repair was necessary.

NOTED PHILADELPHIA SURGEON ENDS LIFE

Note He Left to Wife Indicated That Financial Worry Was Reason.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—Leaving a note to his wife mentioning a debt of $25,00, Dr. Robert Grier Leconte, internationally famed surgeon, soht and killed himself in his home last night.

Relatives found the body lying beside the doctor's desk, with a bullet wound in the left temple. Beside him lay a pistol with one cartridge exploded. Two other cartridges, however, bore the imprint of the firing pin, showing that the doctor had pulled the trigger three times before the weapon was discharged.

Dr. Leconte's death was the third in two days among the noted physicians of this city. Dr. Duncan L. Despard was shot to death Tuesday by a former patient, while Dr. David MacFarland Castle died at the age of 81 after a long illness.

Upon returning from a vacation in Bar Harbor, Dr. Leconte notified his patients that he would be at home yesterday or might be reached through his son-in-law, C. Ross Smith. The latter left Dr. Leconte early in the afternoon. When patients reported to him that Dr. Leconte could not be reached, he called at the doctor's office and found the body.

During the World War, Dr. Leconte was an officer in the Medical Corps and was chosen by Gen. Pershing with four others to act upon an advisory medical board for the American Expeditionary Forces. He was surgeon-general of the Pennsylvania National Guard for two years, a former president of the American Surgical Association and a member of many scientific bodies. For his services during the war he was decorated with the Order of Leopold, the Cross of the Legion of Honor and the Navy Cross.

LONDON ZOO WANTS TO COPY FOREST PARK BEAR HABITAT

The Zoological Society of London, conducting a noted zoo in Regent's Park, is desirous of copying the natural-looking bear habitat of the Forest Park Zoo here. George E. Dieckman, president of the St. Louis Zoological Society and vice president of the Zoo Board, who toured European zoos recently, left with officials of each one an illustrated booklet about the St. Louis institution.

The London zoo people were attracted by the description of the bear habitat and have written Dieckman for details of construction. The pattern for the imitation rock formation used here was obtained from the Mississippi River bluffs at Herculaneum, Mo., but the patterns cannot be loaned.

Dieckman announced that he had purchased a new tigress for the zoo when in Hamburg, Germany. The animal will be shipped soon.

Seaman in Airplane Killed.

NELSON AND BAKER INCREASE LEADS IN BELATED RETURNS

Pluralities of Each Apparently Will Be in Excess of 50,000, an Unprecedented Margin.

LLOYD GRADUALLY CLOSING ON MILLER

Movement Under Way to Enter H. S. Priest as Independent Candidate for Governorship.

Their leads lengthened by belated rural returns from the Tuesday primary, Arthur W. Nelson of Bunceton, Democrat, and Sam A. Baker of Jefferson City, Republican, successful candidates for the nominations for Governor, appear today to have been nominated by pluralities in excess of 50,000. There were indications that complete returns would show Nelson leading Floyd E. Jacobs, his nearest opponent, by more than 70,000.

These are almost unprecedented pluralities for Missouri primary elections, the lead of the successful candidates usually being little in excess of 40,000.

Lloyd-Miller Race Close.

There appeared today considerable question whether Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd or Victor J. Miller of St. Louis would be second to Baker in the Republican field. On the earlier returns Miller led Lloyd by about 5000 on the complete St. Louis returns and some from the country. Lloyd gradually whittled this down in the country, and, with about 1200 precincts remaining to be heard from out of a total of 3978 precincts, was only 2000 behind Miller.

A possibility that Henry S. Priest, defeated antiprohibition candidate in the Democratic primary for the governorship, might seek election as an independent, appeared today. A movement along that line was started in Kansas City by supporters of Jacobs, and when word of it was received in St. Louis considerable interest and speculation was aroused.

Priest's intentions have not been made known. He sailed yesterday for a vacation in Europe, but efforts have been made to reach him by wireless, and a statement from his headquarters has been promised by Sunday.

Would Affect Party Lines.

The possibility of success of independent candidacy by Priest is, of course, problematical. It would make the November election in so far as the Governorship was concerned almost solely a "wet and dry" election, and party lines probably would be eliminated to a greater extent than ever in the history of the State.

On the primary returns so far received Nelson, who in the event of such a contest would be considered, as he quite generally was in the primary, a dry candidate, received approximately 30,000 votes less than the total received by his competitors. Delayed returns have increased his proportion of the vote and the indications are that complete returns will give him within a very few thousand votes of as many as all the other Democratic candidates.

Included in Priest's total were approximately 7000 Republican votes, which number would be ingnitesimal in comparison with the number he would receive in a general election when all that would be necessary for a Republican to do to vote for him would be to mark a cross after his name on the blanket ballot. He also undoubtedly would receive a heavy vote from Democrats.

Would Divide "Dry" Vote.

The "dry" vote would be divided between Nelson and Baker, both of whom are considered dry, though neither in the primary campaign announced a position on prohibition.

Gus O. Nations of St. Louis, formerly Chief Federal Prohibition Enforcement Officer of Missouri, a candidate for the Republican nomination for Attorney-General, appears from the incomplete returns to have been defeated by the largest plurality of any candidate. On returns from 2595 of the 3978 precincts, Nations was trailing Assistant Attorney-General Otto by 64,000 votes and it appeared probably that Otto's plurality on complete returns would be in excess of 80,000.

Votes of Candidates.

The total votes of candidates on the returns received were:

HONDURAN WAR MINISTER FLEES TO JOIN REVOLT

TWO AMERICANS REPORTED SLAIN

Said to Have Been Killed in Village During Attack by Rebels — U. S. Marines Reported Sent to Border.

By the Associated Press.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Aug. 7.—The War Minister, Gen. Gregorio Ferrera, fled from the capital to the mountains this morning, taking with him a large number of troops and a large quantity of arms and ammunition, in open rebellion against the Government. Vigorous revolutionary activities have already begun near the Nicaraguan border, and hostilities are expected to break out here at any moment.

The peace treaty signed on board the United States cruiser Milwaukee at Amapala in May has proved unsuccessful in maintaining peace.

The cabinet has been reformed, Salvador Agirre becoming Foreign Minister, Gen. Martinez Funes taking the portfolio of war, and Felipe Calix becoming Minister of the Interior to succeed Gen. Tiburcio Carias, who has resigned.

By the Associated Press.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 7.—Two Americans are reported to have been killed in San Marcos de Solen, Honduras, when Gen. Peraita, the revolutionary leader, attacked the village. Government forces have been sent to guard the frontier.

It is reported that the American marines in Honduras have been sent to the border to repel the revolutionists.

The outbreak of a new revolution in Honduras, following the revolutionary movement in the spring which came to an end after diplomatic intervention was reported several days ago. Dispatches on August 3 gave the news of the attack on San Marcos de Colon by 400 insurrectionists under General Julio Peralt and other rebellious army officers, and official advices to the State Department in Washington from Tegucigalpa on August 5 confirmed the news of the attack and stated San Marcos had been looted and nine persons killed. No mention was made of any of these being Americans.

The scene of the outbreak is near the Nicaraguan border, and the dispatches have stated the Nicaraguan government was cooperating with the Honduran authorities to keep the frontier clear of revolutionists, some of whom were reported to have taken refuge across the border in Nicaragua.

LODGE WARNS AGAINST BRYAN

By the Associated Press.

NAHANT, Mass., Aug. 7.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in an address dictated from his sick bed and made public here, warns Republicans against what he terms the "calamity" of Gov. Charles W. Bryan becoming President, as he said is very likely to happen if Coolidge fails to receive a majority of the electoral vote and the election is thrown into Congress.

Senator Lodge declared a deadlock probable in the House and that if the election came to the Senate "it is quite possible" that the two Farmer-Labor Senators and others listed as Republicans would vote with the Democrats and elect Bryan. The address, at first prepared for delivery, was released only for press publication.

$60,000 SWINDLER IDENTIFIED

Confidence Man Held in Montreal Accused by Floridan.

By the Associated Press.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—Edward Long, alias "Chappie" Lewis, was identified yesterday by Joseph Blumenston, a resident of Florida, as the man who swindled him out of $60,000 in St. Augustine, Fla., in 1912. Long was arraigned in police court here last week with a man named Wallace on a charge of being connected with a wire tapping scheme through which H. L. Christie of Chicago was defrauded of $25,000.

FALLON CHARGES PLOT BY HEARST TO DESTROY HIM

Tells Jury Ruination Was Planned Because of Birth Certificate of Actress' Children He Had.

DENIES HE BRIBED A FEDERAL JUROR

Asserts Former Employe Confessed Conspiracy—Publisher's Assistant, Enters Denial.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—William J. Fallon, on trial before Federal Judge McClintic for alleged jury bribing, yesterday testified that his trial was the outgrowth of a plot by William Randolph Hearst, and Victor Watson, assistant publisher of the New York American, a Hearst paper, to ruin him.

The indicted attorney, quoting an alleged confession of Ernest Eidlitz a former employe, told the jury his destruction had been planned because Eidlitz had revealed to Watson Fallon's possession of birth certificates of the children of a certain motion picture actress. The defendant quoted the alleged Eidlitz confession as reputed to have been made in the apartment of Billie Bennett, actress, in the presence of Miss Bennett, Fallon, Walter O'Neil and Mr. Mona Lewis, who lived with Miss Bennett.

Fearful of Arrest.

Fallon's testimony on the confession alleged to have been made to him by Eidlitz included this quotation:

"Eidlitz said to me that he told Watson he was fearful he would be arrested and that he knew I had birth certificates of a certain motion picture actress and that I knew Mr. Hearst had sent a woman who pretended to be a Countess to Florida to get evidence • • • He said he had told Mr. Watson that I intended to use that information to blackmail Mr. Hearst.

"Eidlitz said he told Mr. Watson that I had the number of the car and name of the man, who went to Mexico, with the same party, the same motion picture actress. He said that a few days later Hearst communicated with Watson and said to Watson, 'Fallon must be destroyed.'"

Charged With Bribery.

Fallon was charged with bribing Charles W. Rendigs, a juror in the Durell-Gregory mail fraud case, where Fallon represented one of the defendants, but he answered this charge yesterday with the assertion that he did not meet Rendigs until after the trial of the mail fraud case. He immediately afterward accused Ernest Eidlitz, former investigator of Fallon, of telling Watson of Fallon's possession of the papers.

Fallon testified that Eidlitz told him that he had been informed by a reporter of the New York American that Fallon was going to have him arrested for signing Fallon's name to checks. He asserted Eidlitz said he had received $9000 from the American with a promise of $20,000 if Fallon was convicted.

Both sides rested their cases at noon today. Judge McClintic then dismissed the jury until tomorrow.

In his cross-examination of the witnesses, called by the Government in rebuttal, Fallon continued in his efforts to prove that he was the victim of a plot.

Newspaper Maintained Witness.

Carl Helm of the American staff admitted that the newspaper had maintained Ernest Eidlitz, one of the Government's witnesses against Fallon, for many months last year. He also admitted that the American paid the expenses of Eidlitz on a trip to Freeport, N. Y., for a few weeks last summer.

Victor Watson, assistant publisher of the American, called in rebuttal, was asked when he first had heard of birth certificates of children "of a certain motion picture actress." He said it was during the perjury trial of Charles W. Rendig, the juror Fallon was charged with having bribed.

"Did you ever hear Mr. Hearst, or anyone else, say that Fallon must be destroyed, or words to that effect?" Watson was asked.

MAN ELECTROCUTED BY LIVE WIRE IN TREE

Lineman Meets Instant Death While Attempting to Free Wire From Limbs.

Cornelius J. Hickey, a United Railways "trouble man," was electrocuted in an unusual accident yesterday afternoon at Florissant.

To free a high-voltage transmission line from obstructing tree limbs, Hickey climbed 25 feet into a tree and began sawing. A minute afterward, fellow workmen heard him cry out and then saw his body fall to the ground. He was dead when they reached his side.

Testifying at the inquest that followed, the workmen reported that one of the sawed-off limbs evidently dropped on the power line and acted as a conductor of the current from the wire to Hickey. It so happened that part of the wire's insulation had been worn off by friction with the tree and that the afternoon showers had dampened the tree, causing it to transmit the current.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death by electrocution.

Hickey is survived by his widow, two sisters and two brothers. He resided at 2516 Grover avenue.

WHISPERS TO LOEB, CLUTCHES HIS ARM

Witness Then Is Led Away From Murder Defendant; Fellow College Mates Also Testify.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Introduction of lay witnesses by the defense today in seeking mitigation of punishment for Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of Bobby Franks, whom they had kidnaped, brought from Robert E. Crowe, State's Attorney, the shouted charge that one of them had "committed deliberate perjury."

Miss Lorraine Nathan, a "schoolday" friend of Loeb, was on the witness stand when Crowe, in seeking to impeach her testimony, charged that she was varying her remarks from statements she had made in his office shortly after Loeb was arrested for the Franks murder.

The State at the opening of today's hearing had rejected a defense proposal, it was indicated, to dispense with lay witnesses, and the hearing then was begun with Max Schrayer, former student of the University of Wisconsin, on the stand. He told of Loeb's nervous peculiarities, and then was followed as a witness by Miss Nathan.

Once Fond of Loeb.

Miss Nathan just had testified that she previously was fond of Loeb as he was of her but that she did not "feel that way now" and that, being a lady, would not lie to aid Loeb. Crowe's denial of the defense's right to have Miss Nathan read her earlier statement led to an early recess of court.

The defense and State were directed to bring in authorities on the defense's contention that Miss Nathan should see the record of earlier remarks before proceeding as a witness.

Miss Nathan made a pretty, though somewhat nervous, picture, on the stand. She testified in a cool, but somewhat catchy voice, and her conclusions as to Loeb's conduct so closely paralleled that of three noted mental experts who had preceded her that the State's Attorney ironically started his cross-examination by addressing her as "Doctor."

On the witness stand she avoided Loeb's glances but when she passed him as she left the court room, she clutched his arm, whispered in his ear and still was talking when a bailiff jerked Loeb away from her grasp.

Miss Nathan also exchanged greetings with Leopold.

Former University Student First Lay Witness for Defense.

Schrayer identified himself as 21 years old and a Chicago jobber of household goods since graduation from the University of Michigan, where he was a fraternity brother of Loeb.

Schrayer's first answers to questioning by Chief of Defense Counsel Darrow met repeated objections by Crowe, who insisted the witness was drawing conclusions.

Schrayer said he had observed Loeb to be very nervous, to which the State objected and was sustained. Darrow asked the question in other phrases and brought this reply.

"I observed he had a twitching of the mouth, was nervous in his gestures with his hands, dragged his ankle and on special occasions drank a great deal. He fainted several times at Michigan. He smoked a great deal and showed nervousness in doing it."

Repeated efforts on the part of Darrow to have the witness give his observations as to the responsibility of Loeb brought as many objections from Crowe.

$482,170 CLAIM BASED ON SALE OF HOLLAND BUILDING

100 PER CENT PROFIT IS ALLEGED ON SALE

Appointment of Ancillary Receiver to Present Claim Against Defunct Concern Asked For.

Claim is being made by the Hawkins Mortgage Co. of Portland, Ind., now in bankruptcy proceedings at Indianapolis, for $482,170 against the bankrupt United Home Builders. It is asserted that this money was advanced by the Hawkins Co. for the purchase by the United Home Builders of the old Holland Building, 211 North Seventh street, from William Sacks, oil promoter and former banker.

The Hawkins Co. yesterday applied to Referee in Bankruptcy Alexander, temporarily sitting here, for appointment of an ancillary receiver to present its claim against the United Home Builders, which is being liquidated by State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh as receiver.

Sacks, who not long previously had returned here from the Oklahoma oil fields with considerable wealth, bought the Holland Building in July, 1921, and it was asserted that he put up only $18,000 in cash for the purchase, but assumed notes for $200,000. Five months later he sold the building to the United Home concern for a price announced as $477,500. The apparent profit to Sacks was $259,500, or more than 100 per cent. The name of the structure was changed to United Home Building.

Claim Relates to Deal.

The Hawkins company petition for an ancillary receiver, or receiver in the local court jurisdiction, does not set forth details of the claim. Harry W. Blodgett, of counsel for the company, explained that the claim related to the building deal. In effect, he pointed out, the Hawkins company was purchaser of the building, but did not obtain title.

In the petition by which State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh was appointed receiver for the United Home Builders last spring it was charged that W. M. Webb and A. A. Cocke, former trustees of the concern, entered into a conspiracy with Sacks to defraud the company in the sale of the building, and a demand was made for the return of the money used in the purchase. It was alleged that the true market value of the Holland Building was about $375,000 and that Webb and Cocke were to share with Sacks the profits due to overpayment.

Twenty-seven Indicted.

The Hawkins company purchased the United Home Builders in December, 1922, from the trustees, Webb and Sacks, and the company was moved to Portland. Sacks and Morton S. Hawkins, head of the Hawkins firm, were among 27 men indicted last January on charges of using the mails to defraud, in connection with their housing trust activities.

Sacks, it will be recalled, promoted the Republic National Bank, which was closed voluntarily recently because it was losing money. Sacks had resigned as a director of the bank and, in a statement, said he lost $200,000 in the venture.

"Dickie" Loeb in His Alleged Dream Life

Here is a photograph of Richard Loeb, one of the confessed killers of Robert Franks, in his early life attired as a cowboy. This and a series of threatening childish poses are to be introduced by the defense to corroborate the testimony of the defense alienists that Loeb's childhood was a "dream life," wherein his games had a criminalistic aspect, which led to the murder.

—Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Loeb, at an early age, supposedly about the time he entered the University of Michigan, where he graduated at eighteen years—the youngest scholar ever to graduate from that University.

the witness continued, replying to a question by Darrow as to Loeb's reading. Crowe again objected and was sustained.

Darrow asked if Schrayer had noticed anything peculiar about Loeb's laughter. The witness said he seemed to laugh at a great many things not humorous, and Crowe asked that the questions and answer be stricken out.

"If this witness had listened to the testimony of these alienists, I could see why anybody would get a great laugh," Crowe declared. To which Darrow retorted:

"Yes, you would laugh at anything, except possibly a hanging, and I think maybe you would laugh at the hanging of these boys."

Constant Wrangling.

The examination of the witness led to constant wrangling between Crowe and the veteran defense council chief, and Judge Caverly left his chair, leaned far over the railing about the bench, and, in a low pitched voice, made a long ruling as to the admissibility of the evidence the defense was trying to bring out.

Schrayer testified that he regarded Loeb as abnormal, that Loeb was not permitted the responsibility of being a mentor over freshmen, a duty of seniors at the university, and that Loeb was a good book student, but apparently did not seem to have logical common sense and was rather impractical.

Cross-Examination.

After 15 minutes of direct examination, Crowe took the witness on cross-examination and asked if he did not recall having made a statement to the State's Attorney that he regarded Loeb as perfectly sane and normal.

"Are you normal?" asked Crowe. "I don't know," replied Schrayer.

The court room broke into loud laughter and Judge Caverly arose and warned the crowd that any further outbreak would result in clearing the room "This is not vaudeville," said the Court.

Schrayer said their fraternity had censured Loeb for drinking.

Loeb leaned forward and watched Schrayer closely, smiling at times and conferring with counsel.

Crowe brought out that for two and a half months before Loeb was accepted into Schrayer's fraternity, he was watched closely, as is usual, to determine whether he would make an acceptable fraternity man, and that nothing to render Loeb unacceptable was noticed. Schrayer denied that his fraternity pledge bound him to aid Loeb under the present circumstances.

Miss Nathan on Stand.

Miss Nathan, former friend of Loeb, was the next witness. Dressed in black, trimmed with white, a small black hat, white stockings and slippers, she appeared even younger than her announced age of 18. She is slight, with brown hair and blue eyes. Loeb stretched far out of his seat to watch Miss Nathan as she testified.

Miss Nathan said Loeb was "just a school days friend" and that, since June, 1923, she had noticed a decided change in his demeanor. She said that upon one occasion when Loeb had called at her home he had poked his thumb into all the rolls on a plate, trying to find the softest one. She said she regarded that as idiotic but that her sister had called it "cuckoo."

Miss Nathan referred to many occasions on which she had regarded Loeb's behavior as "babyish" and "irrational." The petite witness, apparently suffering from stage fright as she ascended the stand, gradually recovered her composure and answered questions in a low, musical voice. She refrained from meeting Loeb's stare.

Miss Nathan's conclusion that Loeb had appeared "infantile" was stricken from the record. She said she had not seen Loeb since May 6, last.

Miss Nathan denied she was fond of Loeb, admitting she once had been fond of him and thought he had liked her.

"You Would Not Lie?"

"Being a lady you would not lie to help Dick out, would you?" asked Crowe. "Of course I would not."

A recess followed.

When the hearing was resumed the attorneys argued the point of permitting witnesses to refer to records of statements, the State contending the records were not "documents" but were the State's Attorney's personal property.

Judge Caverly ruled with the State that the witness should testify without reference to the recorded statements.

"Very Manly Character."

Crowe read from his record of the statement previously made by Miss Nathan in his office in the presence of her mother and sister, asking if the witness at the time had not said that she regarded Loeb as a "very manly character." "He was more of a young man than a boy," and that "there never was anything about his actions that would lead you to believe he was other than a gentleman."

To these Miss Nathan answered affirmatively. Other questions brought an "I don't remember," sometimes varied with an additional "I suppose I did."

Miss Nathan replied "I did" when asked if she had not stated Loeb "talked on almost any subject" and that he "was perfectly sane and normal in every respect."

"Were you lying in the State's Attorney's office or are you lying now?" asked Crowe. Darrow objected and Judge Caverly ruled out the question.

Miss Nathan on redirect testimony asserted an Assistant State's Attorney had tried to influence her opinions of Loeb in the questioning in the Prosecutor's office, that she was ill at the time, and that she had gone to the office because of a grand jury subpena although the grand jury was not in session, and that she could not remember details now because of nervousness when she talked with the prosecutors.

Miss Nathan denied she told Loeb she would "stick with him" and said her questioners at the State's Attorney's office had directed that certain part of her statement be deleted.

Fraternity Head Testifies.

Edwin Meiss, now a reporter for the Cincinnati Enquirer, formerly a student at the University of Michigan, testified he was the president of the fraternity to which Loeb belonged.

"Popped" Into a Room.

Meiss said he had seen Loeb faint upon three occasions, that Loeb spake in a jerky manner, would argue on valueless points, "pop" into a room instead of walking in, walked in a jerky manner, smoked rapidly and nervously, and was regarded as "childish."

Meiss said it was his duty to appoint seniors as mentors for freshmen, but that he did not appoint Loeb because Loeb's judgment and conduct were not considered sufficient inspiration for a freshman. Loeb's upper class privileges were taken from him upon one occasion, Meiss said.

Crowe on cross-examination brought from Meiss the admission that had Loeb been appointed a mentor he probably would have been guiding youths two or three years older than he was and that cision not to make Loeb a mentor.

NEVER WAS, NEVER WILL BE KU KLUX MEMBER, SAYS DAVIS

Nominee Declares That in Acceptance Speech He Will Discuss Religious Tolerance.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President, in a letter made public today declared he is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan and never was a member. The letter was written in answer to one sent Mr. Davis by Devere Allen, editor of the World Tomorrow, a magazine published here.

According to Thomas J. Spellacy, manager of the Davis eastern campaign headquarters, Allen, in his letter, called the attention of Davis to the charge that the nominee was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, and asked specifically if this were true. Davis replied:

"In reply to your letter which has been brought to my attention, I answer the question in the same direct manner you have put it, by saying that I am not, never have been, and will not become a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

"I trust that in my coming speech of acceptance I shall make my position on the great question of religious tolerance too plain for any misunderstanding or dispute."

Illinois Man Shot as He Appears in Corn Field, Where He Demanded That Sum Be Left.

By the Associated Press.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 7—Adam Nabb of Decatur, was shot and killed on the Stevens farm near Presotum this morning when, it is alleged, he went to get money he had demanded that William Kleiss leave in a corn field.

When Kleiss received the threatening letter he notified officers and a posse was formed. They were in waiting at the time Nabb came for the package and shot him.

BE COMRADES OF YOUR CHILDREN, ALIENIST ADVISES

SECRETIVENESS IN CHILD A DANGER

Dr. Bernard Glueck Says Youngsters Should Be Encouraged to Talk Freely With Parents.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Understanding based on a healthy comradeship between parent and child is the solution to the question of how to handle children, Dr. Bernard Glueck, alienist, and director of the Bureau of Children's Guidance at New York, declared after finishing his testimony for the defense in the hearing to determine the punishment of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr. for the murder of Robert Franks.

"The home should create an atmosphere that encourages the child to feel free to talk himself out, pour forth his childish troubles, his fancies and ideas—and there should be some one to listen and respond.

"I've tried to become acquainted with these families, and want to say in justice to them that they did all in their power and knowledge, but they didn't realize. Very few parents do realize that their children's thoughts and dreams may make up the whole existence for a child.

"And that is how this tragedy may do great good; if it makes parents know that contact with their children must be psychological as well as physical, and that children can't be left to their own devices," Dr. Glueck added.

Need of Frank Relation.

Secretiveness on the part of the child is apt to carry with it a sense of guilt and fear, he said, emphasizing the need of a frank relation with regard to matters of sex. Once the child is given an opportunity for unburdening his mind he becomes free and natural in his general relations, the alienist continued, adding:

"This tragedy occurred because no one ever knew these boys as 'persons'. There was never at any time an understanding of the whole child, but merely certain phases. And a child isn't a 'phase'. Their parents knew each in the conventional relation, and their teachers knew each in the pupil phase—merely as intellectual receptacles."

He condemned the conception of discipline which causes a child to build up defense mechanisms—such as lying,—and deplored the school system which requires the child to perform well as a pupil and to behave according to rules.

Teacher and Parent.

"The teacher had much better ask herself—and so had the parent—'How closely am I in touch with the lives of my children; how much do I know of what is going on in their minds; to what extent do they feel free to come to me with intimate personal problems?'"

The child's relations with his classmates, how he takes his successes and failures, how large a part his day dreams play in his life, are other points the parent and teacher should inquire into, Dr. Glueck said.

WEALTHY WIDOW, 71, CHARGES ILLINOIS MAN WITH BIGAMY

Says Walter Klinke, 49, of Jacksonville Disappeared With Her Savings.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 7. — Mrs. Elizabeth Tilford, 71 years old, a well to do resident here, today swore to a police court warrant charging Walter E. Klinke, 49 years old, 1029 West College street, Jacksonville, Ill., with bigamy. Mrs. Tilford, who is a wealthy widow with two grown children, told City Police Court Prosecutor O'Connell that she married Klinke last March in this city after a courtship of only one week.

On April 2, she said, she turned over to him her savings, amounting to several thousand dollars and he disappeared. While attempting to trace him, Mrs. Tilford said she learned that he had married a widow, on Oct. 8, 1919, in St Louis, and remained the husband of the St. Louis woman, according to an investigation made by her attorneys. Mrs. Tilford displayed a wedding ring given her by the man she charged with having betrayed her confidence, and a wedding certificate. Klinke's pension arrangements, according to City Prosecutor O'Connell, betrayed his first wedding at St. Louis and his residence.

LOEB INSANE BUT LEOPOLD SANE WITH SERIOUS MENTAL DISORDERS, ALIENIST SAYS

Dr. Sanger Brown Finds Former Insisted on Crime, Latter Joined for Sake of Fantastic Affection.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—With the evidence of the three star defense alienists now in, in the hearing of Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb before Judge Caverly for the murder of Robert Franks, an examination of their testimony shows no essential difference in their conclusions concerning the defendants' mental condition.

The alienists—Dr. William A. White of Washington, Dr. William Healy of Boston and Dr. Bernard Glueck of New York, all eminent in their profession—have agreed that the kidnaping and murder was the direct result of an abnormal mental condition on the part of both Loeb and Leopold. While avoiding the word "insanity" as too vague and unscientific, they have declared the defendants to be so thoroughly unbalanced as to have constituted a constant menace to society for several years.

They unite in declaring Loeb a victim of "split personality" and Leopold a case of "paranoid personality."

It is the stated opinion of all three that Loeb is headed for hopeless lunacy and they have intimated that a complete mental collapse could be expected at almost any time.

Dr. White stated that Leopold seemed to have established a sort of unnatural mental equilibrium which might prevent further degeneration of his faculties but Dr. Healy thought a further decline could be expected and Dr. Glueck testified yesterday that Leopold seemed to be developing a definite paranoid psychosis. In lay language, this means pronounced insanity.

Dr. Sanger Brown's Views.

In corroboration of their testimony, Dr. Sanger Brown of Chicago, another alienist employed by the defense, yesterday made public the report which he had submitted to defense counsel on the defendants' mental condition. Dr. Brown states that he avoided consulting with the other alienists or discussing his findings with them before making his report for the specific purpose of rendering an independent judgment. In other words, he says that, when he made his reports, he didn't know what his colleagues were going to say.

This is an important point because the report substantiates and agrees with the other alienists' conclusions very closely. Dr. Brown does not shrink from the word "insanity." He declares that Loeb is insane but that Leopold, while suffering from serious mental disorders, is sane. He agrees with his colleagues that it is Loeb who has the criminalistic instincts and who insisted upon the commission of the crime, while Leopold, notwithstanding his greatly superior intellect, fell in with the plan rather than lose his association with Loeb, for whom he had conceived a pathological and fantastic affection.

"Master Mind" Feature.

Loeb's admission to Dr. Glueck, related by the latter on the witness stand yesterday, that it was he who struck the blows and administered the gag which killed Robert Franks, would seem to bear out the theory that Loeb was the leader and aggressor. That role was his, however, only when bold crimes were to be carried out. In other aspects of their association, Leopold dominated.

Thus it will be seen that, upon the alienists' interpretation of the facts, the much-abused phrase, "the master mind," cannot be accurately applied to either of the defendants.

Two other alienists are to be called later by the defense, and one of them is expected to add a new element to the expert testimony, namely, a description of physical abnormalities which may be held responsible for some of the alleged mental abnormalities of the defendants. An exhaustive physical examination was made of both Leopold and Loeb, including their brains, nervous systems, spines, glands and other organs and centers. This has not yet been introduced.

Then will come three or four State alienists, led by Dr. William O. Krohn, who are expected to say that, while some abnormalities may be observed in the defendants, there is nothing in their mentality which can be regarded as sufficient to lighten their full responsibility for the crime.

KU KLUX KLAN CANDIDATE MAINE GUBERNATORIAL WINNER

Recount Changes Small Plurality for Farrington Into Lead for Brewster.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 7.—State Senator Ralph O. Brewster, who ran with Ku Klux Klan support, was declared by the Governor and Council today to have been nominated for the governorship by the Republicans at the June primary.

The official returns, giving a majority of 320 to Frank G. Farrington, president of the State Senate, were changed by a recount to a majority of 581 for Brewster.

The final vote was given as: Brewster, 47,284; Farrington, 46,703.

Gov. Baxter at the conclusion of the recount said that fraud in the balloting in Ward 4 of Portland had been definitely established. Sheriff Graham said an investigation had shown that 501 fraudulent ballots had been cast in this ward, which gave Farrington 718 votes to 153 for Brewster. After a hearing for voters in this ward, held on advice of the State Supreme Court, the Governor and council announced the accepted vote of the ward as Brewster, 111; Farrington, 53.

GERMANS ACCEPT ALLIED PLAN FOR DEFAULT RULINGS

delegates quartered there, fall somewhat strangely on the ears of foreigners from countries where the university degree is not so strongly accentuated as in the German realm. One of the London newspapers asserts there are only three persons in the German official party without a doctor's degree, these being women stenographers who have not yet completed their university work.

Chancellor Marx, with his kindly quiet manner and soft German speech, seems to have created a better impression among foreigners than any German official who has figured in the conferences growing out of the war. He is wholly unlike the type of official German depicted to foreigners by the cartoonists, and there is nothing about him to suggest the typical Prussian junker who has been the subject of such general dislike among the populations of European nations which were Germany's enemies in the World War. It is commented among the English that Dr. Marx's handling of the negotiations so far has been so tactful that he has done much to offset the disagreeable impression made by Von Brockdorff-Rantzau by his abrupt attitude at the Trianon palace when the treaty of Versailles was handed to him five years ago.

HEAT WAVE STOPS WORK; HALTS MAILS

Several Cities in East Report Deaths—Relief May Come Tonight.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Washington today continued to swelter under the worst heat blanket in six years. Government departments, especially those housed in temporary war structures, were running at slow speed, officials trying to prevent a recurrence of conditions yesterday when numerous employes were treated for heat ailments. Traffic policemen worked on short shifts, and the mid-day mail delivery was suspended.

The temperature here yesterday was 102 degrees, the highest since 1918. The heat wave has been widespread during the past 24 hours, according to reports from other cities. The highest temperatures reported were from Winchester, Va., and Phoenix, Ariz., each with 106. Norfolk (Va.) thermometers registered 103.

Relief from the heat wave is promised by tonight or tomorrow morning by the Weather Bureau. A cool wave, moving in from the Northwest, coupled with possible thundershowers, is expected to bring a moderation in temperature but not cool weather. By tomorrow, the thermometer is expected to register about 70 in the Ohio Valley and Eastern states north of Virginia. The temperature for these sections generally at 8 o'clock this morning was about 80 degrees.

Intense heat in the Mid-West began to disappear this morning with a general temperature slowly receding for that region. The northern lake regions and the far Northwest reported a general temperature of 60 degrees.

TWO EX-CONVICTS NAMED AS SLAYERS OF SALOON OWNER

WITNESSES OF SHOOTING TESTIFY

Divorcee Involved in Case Appears at Inquest With Discolored Eye—Tells of Beatings.

A coroner's jury, after an inquiry today into the murder of James Hade, 31 years old, 1824 Laflin avenue, who was shot Tuesday night in his saloon at Florissant and Mary avenues, named Frank and Charles ("Babe") Kyle, ex-convicts, as the slayers. A police order has been issued for their arrest.

Frank Kyle is 26 years old and Charles is 24. They are brothers of Miss Lydia Marie Kyle, with whom Hade had been associating and to whom he gave a beating Monday night at Broadway and Douglas avenue. The three live with their mother, Mrs. Della Kyle, at 5271 Beacon avenue.

At the inquest Clarence Bresch, 4254 Linton street, testified that one of the men who did the shooting was the one who had been introduced to him the night before at Red Gray's saloon, Broadway and Douglas avenue, as "Babe" Kyle. Roland Giese, 4105 Adelaide street, testified that he had identified at Police Headquarters a photograph of "Babe" as that of one of the men who did the shooting.

Woman Testifies.

Mrs. Kyle, who is a divorcee, appeared at the inquest with a discolored eye, caused, she said, by a blow from Hade Monday night near Gray's saloon. It was not the first time that Hade had beaten her. One night he beat her in O'Fallon Park and then took her to her brother Babe's house.

As to her brothers, she last saw them about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, when they came in and asked who had given her the blackeye. She refused to tell them, but they said they knew anyway. Then they went away in their Ford coupe "on a fishing trip."

She had been in bed but she arose and drove her Essex car to the drug store to get something for her eye. That was about 8:30 o'clock. She could not explain why the radiator was steaming hot when the police found the Essex in front of the house at 9 o'clock. It was an Essex that was used by the murderers.

What Police Learned.

The police have learned that Hade and Miss Kyle and Bresch and another woman were at Gray's saloon until 2 a. m. Tuesday, that "Babe" came in and was introduced to others, that Hade and Miss Kyle quarreled and called each other names and that as they were leaving Hade slapped Miss Kyle and when she slapped back, he knocked her down and kicked her into the gutter. A man who interfered also was struck by Hade. Miss Kyle took off a slipper and with the heel smashed the windows of Hade's coupe.

The Ford coupe used by the brothers was in front of the Beacon avenue house, with the Essex, Tuesday night before the murder. After the murder the Ford was missing and the Essex raditor was hot from recent driving.

Frank Kyle was sent to prison in 1920 for seven years for automobile holdups. He had previously been in the House of Refuge and the Boonville Reformatory. He was released July 16, last. Charles Kyle was sent up for two years for burglary. Miss Kyle had her maiden name restored when she was divorced.

SHENANDOAH LIKELY TO STOP HERE AGAIN THIS MONTH

Navy Air Cruiser to Be Sent to Iowa State Fair and Probably as Far West as Pacific Coast.

The United States navy's air cruiser Shenandoah, which visited St. Louis Oct. 2 last as the ZR-1, will probably be here again this month. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur has announced that the Shenandoah will be sent to the Iowa State fair at Des Moines, and will probably stop at St. Louis and Omaha in the course of a flight which will continue as far west as Denver, and possibly to the Pacific Coast.

The Shenandoah is to make a series of test flights with the navy's scouting fleet, joining the Patoka, which has been equipped with a mooring mast to serve as a tender and floating base. The westward journey will follow this scouting cruise, if plans can be made which will not interfere with the operation program for the Shenandoah.

The ZR-1 stopped, on its visit here, at the flying field at Bridgeton, where the international air races were held a few days later. It took a path, in arrival and departure, which made it visible to people in most sections of St. Louis.

RETURNS INCREASE MRS. MORROW'S LEAD

Her Vote of 94,759 in 2445 Precincts Indicates Nomination by Decisive Margin.

The lead of Mrs. Kate S. Morrow of Warrensburg for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State over her two men opponents continued to grow as returns from rural precincts of the State augmented the earlier results from the cities and towns.

With 2445 precincts of the 3978 in the State having reported, Mrs. Morrow had 94,759; James T. O'Brien of St. Louis, 72,428; Frank Armstrong of Harrisonville, 68,782.

This indicates the nomination of Mrs. Morrow, which became evident yesterday, will be by a decisive margin, if the approximately 1500 precincts yet out continue the trend shown by the last 500 precincts reported.

Mrs. Morrow, the first woman to run for a State office in Missouri, if nominated, will have to contest for the office against Secretary of State Charles U. Becker, who was re-nominated by Republicans without a contest.

Her supporters say she will make an exceptionally strong race. As secretary of the Democratic State Committee and active in other ways in Democratic party work she has earned the friendship of many of the influential party leaders, who are relied upon to hold in line for her most of what is regarded as the regular Democratic strength. A woman nominee of another type certainly would have difficulty in holding many Democratic men in line, as a strong prejudice yet remans among many men against participation by women in politics. Even Mrs. Morrow may feel the negative effect of this prejudice, but it is expected that her strong following among women of all parties and others not ordinarily active in politics will counteract any loss from this condition.

Becker has a wide acquaintance, however, and undoubtedly will make a close race.

PATROLMAN KILLS BULLDOG AFTER ANIMAL BITES HIM

A vicious bulldog, which had terrorized residents in the vicinity of Eleventh street and Lafayette avenue, attacked Patrolman Fred Proehl of Soulard District early today and was killed as a result.

Proehl was told that the dog was at large with its muzzle hanging loose and recognized it from the description of a dog belonging to Jacob Skapic, 1801 South Eleventh street. While Proehl was knocking at Skapic's door, the dog ran into the yard, leaped at him and sank his teeth in his chest. Proehl fired a shot which hit the dog in the head and glanced off, but attracted Skapic to the yard.

Skapic was treating the patrolman's wound in the kitchen when the dog appeared at the door. Proehl fired one shot through the screen and killed it. The carcass will be examined for rabies and Proehl was advised to take Pasteur treatment.

NIGHT RIDERS ARREST YOUTHS

Two of Trio Admit Having Served Terms in State Reformatory.

When detectives of the night riders' squad saw three youths standing in front of 1016 South Eighth street at 10:50 last night they arrested the group on suspicion and searched them.

Harvey Denn, 18 years old, 1024 South Eighth street, was found to have a loaded revolver in his pocket. The others, Fred Welschan, who gave his address as Boonville, and Edward Taylor, 2524 North Ninth street, both 18, admitted they had served terms in the Boonville Reformatory for highway robbery. Welschan said he was one of three boys sentenced last year, but was permitted to come home on a leave of absence. Taylor said he received a five-year term three years ago and was recently paroled. All denied their pow-wow was the preliminary of an intended holdup expedition.

SAYS MAN SHE THOUGHT SINGLE WOOED HER OUT OF $225 RING

Woman Also Complains to Police She Helped Friend to Buy New Automobile.

When Marshall Dean, 30 years old, was introduced three months ago to Mrs. Martha Gracey, 4123 Olive street, she understood that he was single. The impression was deepened by the interest he manifested in her, growing greater as the days went by.

She says he made love to her to such effect that she loaned him her $225 diamond ring and helped him replace his run-down Ford with a regular car and made the first payment on it.

Then she heard that he was married and demanded her ring and the money she had paid on the car. She says he laughed at her and told her to get the ring and the money if she could. Then he went away.

Mrs. Gracey told Capt. McGuire of the Eighth district about it. His men brought Dean in. Dean took the position that it was a civil matter. As for the ring he could not return that, because he had lost it in an East St. Louis dice game. As for the money paid on the car, the courts would have to decide. He gave bon, however, to answer any charge that might be made.

YOUTH KILLED, MOTHER HURT WHEN TRAIN HITS MACHINE

Auto of Tourists Traveling to Boston, Mass., Becomes Stalled on Tracks at Jonesburg, Mo.

Walter Linberg, 18 years old, was killed, and his mother, Mrs. A. J. Linberg, critically injured Tuesday afternoon when their Ford coupe was struck by Wabash passenger train No. 9 at Jonesburg, Mo., 70 miles northwest of St. Louis.

Mrs. Linberg and her son were said to have been returning to their home in Boston, Mass., after a tour of the Pacific Coast. Their car became stalled on the crossing and, before either could alight, was struck by the speeding train. The boy's body is at Jonesburg pending word from relatives in Boston. Mrs. Linberg was taken to a hospital at St. Charles early today, where she is unconscious with a fractured skull. Physicians hold slight hope for her recovery.

County Has 10 Road Patrolmen.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Aug. 7.—Six full-time road patrolmen have been engaged for the State highways of Nodaway County, J. E. James, superintendent of maintenance in Nodaway County, has announced. Ten men are now employed to work on the State roads in this county.

PAULEN G. O. P. CANDIDATE FOR KANSAS GOVERNORSHIP

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 7.—Lieutenant-Governor Ben S. Paulen won the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Kansas by a plurality which will run close to 10,000, incomplete unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary indicated today.

Gov. J. M. Davis, Democratic incumbent, easily outstripped his nearest opponent, ex-Mayor Harry Burton of Kansas City for renomination. With 478 precincts missing out of a total of 2579, Paulen had a lead of 7,098 over Reed, and Stubbs was trailing third more than 3000 behind Reed. The vote from 2,101 precincts gave Paulen 69,219; Reed, 62,121, and Stubbs 58,491. Paulen, president of the Kansas Bankers' Association was indorsed by the Ku Klux Klan.

Attorney-General C. B. Griffith opposed by the klan, because of his suit to oust the organization from the state, was polling 2 to 1 over Justus N. Baird of Kansas City, his nearest opponent in his fight for renomination by the Republicans. Returns from 1228 precincts gave Griffith 60,603; Baird 30,036; and Clarence R. Sowers of Wichita, 13,914.

Incoming returns only served to increase the overwhelming victory scored by United States Senator Arthur Capper for renomination on the Republican ticket. In 1637 precincts the vote was: Capper 105,530; Sheffield Ingalls, 29,885, and Tom D. Smith, 10,905.

GIRL'S FATHER KILLS MAN WHO FATALLY WOUNDED HER

Alleged Black Hand Extortion Plot Ends in Shooting; Gunman's Two Companions Escape.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 7—A man was killed and a young woman was probably fatally wounded as the result of an alleged "black hand" extortion plot here today.

According to the story told the police three men appeared at the home of Frank Cielitti shortly after noon. When their demands for $5,000 were refused one of them, believed to be Angelo Lettoni of Mount Clemens, fired at Cielitti's daughter, Mary, 22 years old, probably fatally wounding her. Cielitti told the police he seized a shotgun and fired point blank at Lettoni, killing him. Lettoni's companions escaped.

It was said that Cielitti has been receiving letters signed "Black Hand," demanding money.

Four young men, all armed with automatic pistols, entered the office of the Western and Southern Insurance Co., on the second floor of the Paulian Building, Union boulevard and Easton avenue, at 5 p. m. yesterday, robbed the office and the 14 persons assembled in it of a total of $600, and escaped. They were just five minutes too late to get $1000 more, which the office had collected during the day and which had been sent to the bank.

The manager of the concern, Herbert Oberer, 4959 Wabada avenue; the cashier, Miss Marie Kalbfell, 4415 Clarence avenue, and 12 agents of the company were gathered in the office checking over the day's business when the robbers entered. All were ordered to "stick 'em up," and then were compelled to stand in line and be searched.

Miss Kalbfell, with a pistol against her side, was forced to point out the cash vault, from which the robbers took about $400. Search of pockets yielded $25 from Oberer, $40 and a check for $3.75 from Luke Baker, 2523 Semple avenue; $79 from Frank Lynch and $16 from Mark Frieman. The robbers ran out and disappeared, accomplishing their exit without attracting attention of other persons in the building or on the street below.

Manager Oberer said the robbers were about 25 years old, all wore blue shirts without coats and all carried blue steel automatics. One was described as slender, while the other three were heavily built. By partially covering their faces with their hands they prevented the office attaches from obtaining a clear view of their features. None of the 14 held up was able to say how the men escaped after leaving the office.

Oberer expressed a belief that the men were familiar with the salesmen's practice of turning in money collected on accounts each Wednesday afternoon and were in quest of the receipts which had just been sent to the bank.

BARGE LINE REGULATIONS APPROVED AT MEETING

Inspection of Mississippi and Warrior Terminals and Barges Planned.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—With only one change the advisory board of the Inland Waterways Corporation, meeting today with Secretary of War Weeks, approved the by-laws, rules and regulations for the newly created government-owned corporation which will manage the barges on the Mississippi and Warrior rivers. This change provides that a meeting of the board shall be called by the chairman on the written request of four of the six board members.

This amended the by-law suggested by Brigadier General T. Q. Ashburn, chairman of the board and author of the organization plan, which provided that meetings should be held upon call of the Secretary of War. The ranking member of the advisory board is James E. Smith of St. Louis, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, who was appointed by Secretary Weeks to serve for five years.

The board considered plans for an inspection of barges and terminals on the Warrior and Mississippi rivers.

Secretary Weeks said that he heartily approved the organization plans, as they meant a saving of approximately $120,000 a year.

BRAZILIAN BANKER ARRESTED

Tried to Arrange Armistice During Sao Paulo Siege.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 7.—Dr. Jose Carlos de Macede Soares, one of the foremost citizens of Sao Paulo, Brazil, president of the Sao Paulo Commercial Association, and of the Bank of Sao Paulo, today was arrested and sent to Rio Janeiro under military guard, says a message from Santos to La Nacion.

During the time the insurrectionists were in control of Sao Paulo, it was Dr. Soares who tried to arrange an armistice between the rebels and the besieging Federals.

COONS ADDED TO FUR-BEARING PETS EXILED TO ZOO

Here's Easy Way to Get Rid of Neighborhood Pests—Tell Game Warden.

Neighbors of well-meaning but misguided persons who persist in keeping fur-bearing pets can get rid of the pests without falling out with the owners. Just tell the Game Warden about it, and he will do the rest.

It happens there's a law against keeping fur-bearing animals in captivity during the closed season, and persons found in possession of them incur not only confiscation of the animals, but payment of a fine. Most neighbors would be satisfied with confiscation of the animals, but if offenders let themselves in for a fine the neighbors cannot be squeamish about that.

Only the other day two red foxes were found in possession of Angelo J. Rosegrant, a Wellston grocer. They had been wished on him by a friend and were a bother to him, as well as a nuisance to the neighbors, but he kept them because he didn't know what to do with them. Then somebody told Deputy Game Warden Wiemeyer and he took them away and gave them to the zoo.

And yesterday somebody else told him about Henry Plouder's 'coons. Plouder lives at 2128 South Third street, where he has been keeping two raccoons as pets. Wiemeyer took them away to the zoo and Plouder will have to tell the Judge about it.

If anybody else knows where fur-bearing animals are being kept Wiemeyer will see to it that the zoo is further recruited.

service for the world flight. It was reconditioned at the time officials considered the advisability of having Maj. Martin rejoin the flight at Brough, England, and is now in first-class flying condition.

Gen. Patrick decided to place this plane at the disposal of Lieut. Wade because of the game fight which he and his mechanician made in covering three-fourths of the journey around the world. It was not sent to Iceland for fear that the delay might imperil the flight.

The air service today authorized this statement concerning ice conditions around Greenland:

"The ice pack reported around Greenland is not an impossible barrier to the American aviators flying around the world. It is possible for the planes to land beside vessels at sea and refuel before flying from the east coast of Greenland round to Ivigtut on the west coast. The ice itself is no bar to the flyers, but should a forced landing be necessary rescue would be difficult. The little harbors or fjords along the coast of Greenland afford ample protection to air craft against storms at sea and these fjords are also usually free from ice. It will be no novel experience for the Americans to refuel from ships at sea, for this was done in the China sea, the Hue river and the Pacific ocean.

"Should temporary weather and ice conditions on the Greenland coast preclude immediate landing of the expedition there, the flight will remain at Iceland until conditions improve. It is not contemplated that an attempt will be made for a nonstop flight from Iceland direct to the coast of Labrador."

Zanni Gets Away for Calcutta After Breaking Propeller.

By the Associated Press.

ALLAHABAD, British India, Aug. 7.—The Argentine world flyer, Maj. Zanni, who arrived here from Nasirabad yesterday, departed for Calcutta at 9:20 o'clock this morning. Zanni got away after a slight accident. While "taxying" across the parade ground for the take-off, the wheels of his machine sank in the rain-sodden earth, causing the propeller to smash. A spare one was fitted and he got away the second time in good shape.

MEMBER OF COUNTRY CLUBS ON $30 A WEEK

E. T. Ustick Jr. Opposes Former Wife's Plea for Increase in Allowance for Child.

Arguments on a motion to increase from $40 to $100 a month the allowance paid by E. T. Ustick Jr., 4207 Westminster place, to his divorced wife, Mrs. L. T. Hudson, 762 Eastgate avenue, were heard by Judge Hogan in the Court of Domestic Relations today. The allowance of $40 granted to her at the time of her divorce on Feb. 19, 1923, Mrs. Hudson contended, was not sufficient for the support of their 10-year-old daughter, Helen Cornelia, nor compatible with Ustick's ability to pay.

Ustick, who is the son of Edward T. Ustick Sr., millionaire president of the American Bank Check & Cover Co., took the stand in an effort to show that his income, which he declared was only $30 a week, would not justify the increase. While he admitted membership in Sunset Hill and Riverview Country Clubs, that he drove an expensive automobile and had an account in the Liberty Central National Bank, he declared his only source of revenue was his position as salesman for an automobile agency owned by his father on South Grand boulevard. The $30 a week earned in this capacity he characterized as "spending money" from his father. Ustick is 36 years old, and resides at his father's home.

At the time of his divorce, Ustick testified, he had $10,000 which he divided equally with his wife. It was what remained, he said, of a $20,000 gift from his father upon his marriage. Further testimony disclosed that he was two months behind with his alimony payments of $140 a month. These payments he agreed to make up.

His former wife, who has remarried since her divorce, contended that Ustick's luxurious living and expensive habits justified her application for $100 a month, which, she said, was necessary for the education of their daughter.

Judge Hogan took the case under advisement pending further investigation into Mrs. Hudson's needs and Ustick's financial condition.

NIGHT RAIDERS IN KENTUCKY

Destroy Tobacco and Cut Fences—Farmers Organize Patrol.

By the Associated Press.

GLASGOW, Ky., Aug. 7.—Seven acres of tobacco were destroyed, wire fences were cut and cornfields damaged when stock were turned in them in raids in Hart County Tuesday night. Many farmers in northern Barren County, adjoining Hart, established patrols last night to protect their crops.

Farmers are organizing a law and order league, and peace officers have been invited to join the organization. George Horde, a farmer, and a neighbor, said they were warned of an impending raid on their fields while they were attending church at Hideville Sunday night. They refused information as to how their warning was given.

A MAN AND HIS BASKET

Police Night Riders Arrest Saloon Keeper Carrying Whisky.

A man with a basket, trying to open the door of a saloon at 1300 South Seventh boulevard at 11:45 p. m. yesterday, aroused the suspicion of police night riders passing in an automobile.

The man proved to be John Yanushus, who owns the saloon and lives upstairs, which was all right, but the basket contained two two-gallon jugs of moonshine, which resulted in Yanushus' arrest. He refused to say where he got the whisky.

LATER RETURNS FAIL TO CHANGE COUNTY RESULTS

About 16,000 Voted Out of Registration of Approximately 33,000, Unofficial Count Indicates.

ESSEN'S MACHINE SWEEPS PRECINCTS

George Moore Is Given Plurality of 290 Over Dr. Nelson With Priest Running Third.

Nearly complete unofficial returns from St. Louis County do not change the general result of the primary election made apparent by the early returns—the defeat of the Clean Election League and victory of "Boss" Essen's machine—but they serve to show that only about half the registered voters chose to exercise their franchise in picking party candidates.

The registration is about 33,000 in addition there are about 17,000 qualified persons who failed to register, but only about 16,000 voted. The unofficial vote on all candidates for Governor on the Republican and Democratic tickets in 95 of the 111 county precincts was 14,645. The vote on other tickets was slight. The precincts not included are outlying, with small votes.

Republicans Active.

Chief efforts to get out the vote were made by the Republican machine. The weather was fair, an inducement to a large vote, but hot. Politicians had expected a heavy vote because of interest aroused recently in local fights and because of the gubernatorial contests.

A general registration in advance of the general election will be held in the county, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 and 2.

Less complete returns showed the county followed the city's lead in giving large pluralities to Victor J. Miller and Henry S. Priest for Governor, but the Democratic returns of 95 precincts gave George Moore 1389 votes, a plurality of 290 over Dr. Arthur Nelson, the nominee, with Priest a poor third. Miller gained an 803-vote plurality over Hiram Lloyd.

Ralph Is Winner.

Re-election of State Senator Ralph, an Essen lieutenant, is assured by a large majority over Harry Castlen. In 95 precincts the vote was: Ralph, 6643; Castlen, 4726. Gasconade and Franklin Counties, in Ralph's district, are expected to increase his lead.

Opposition to State Representative George Heege (Rep.) in his campaign for renomination by his fellow townsmen in Kirkwood, seems to have made his defeat certain. The nearly complete tabulation was: Walter Wehrle, 2402; Heege, 1974. Wehrle was indorsed by the Clean Election League.

In only one other case on the Republican ticket where the league expressed a choice between candidates was its indosement upheld by the vote. This was the office of Public Administrator. Edward W. Terry, incumbent, received 6084 votes in 95 precincts, while Oliver G. Kohlmeyer, backed by the Essen machine, got 5232.

Other Republican Results.

Votes for other Republican candidates in the 95 precincts were:

Sheriff—Al Wilmas, 6427; Al Lill, 4340.

Coroner—Louis H. Bopp, former Coroner and former Sheriff, the only candidate not a physician, 5991; Dr. John H. Sutter, 2881; Dr. Chester A. Poe, 1860; Dr. Paul V. Kaesser, 681.

It is believed that the Republican nominations are equivalent to elections, judging from the preponderance of Republicans voting.

Votes for some Democratic candidates for 80 precincts were:

Prosecuting Attorney, Adam Henry Jones, incumbent, 2358; J. Porter Henry, 1670.

July Postal Receipts Gain $87,123.

St. Louis postal receipts for July show a gain of $87,123.70, or 11.24 per cent, over receipts for July of last year, according to statistics announced by the Postoffice Department at Washington. The receipts for July, 1924, were $862,192.99, against $775,069.29 for July, 1923. The statistics from 50 selected cities show an increase of 7.99 per cent in postal receipts, July, 1924, over July, 1923, a similar increase the year before, and 11.62 in July, 1922, over July, 1921.

Famous marches, very unlike one another—one grave and stately, the other quaint yet sumptuous. A charming orchestral record worthy of the conductor and of the Victor.

A beautiful record of the brilliant and capricious Twelfth Rhapsody of Liszt. Almost every human mood finds expression, and the number is recorded in inimitable Victor fashion.

Two popular hits, sung by a great artist with splendid sympathetic power. Both are "heart-songs." Hear Werrenrath sing them and you will appreciate how perfectly they are recorded.

San—Oriental Fox Trot I Can't Get the One I Want—Fox Trot	Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	19381	.75
June Night—Fox Trot Only You—Fox Trot (from "I'll Say She Is") with vocal refrain	Waring's Pennsylvanians International Novelty Orchestra	19380	.75
Just Hot—Fox Trot Red Nose Pete—Fox Trot	Waring's Pennsylvanians Ted Weems and His Orchestra	19377	.75

Whiteman has made a daring record of the favorite "San," with some startling new details, and with extraordinary power and finish. Its companion is a gem, too, in playing and recording. A most remarkable dance record!

Melodious fox trots. "June Night" has some polka-like rhythms. "Only You" has a tender vocal refrain. For dancing or for listening, these are admirable records.

Fox trots worthy of their names—the first with singular kazoo-and-megaphone ululations, the second with cornet pleasantries and brilliant piano-work. Both numbers attest the skilfulness of Victor recording.

There is but one Victrola and that is made by the Victor Company—look for these Victor trade marks.

Special Sale of Misses' Dainty Wash Frocks

$7.95 $10.00 $12.75

THESE groups offer types of Frocks that will tide the miss smartly over the remainder of the Summer and be accorded a delighted welcome when they are unpacked for another season's service—so dainty and charming are they.

Sheer French voile, crisp linen, practical ratine, lovely crepe de chines and tub silks—here adopt youthful lines and the smartest of trimmings, including frills, laces, tucks and buttons. The prices are exceptionally low for Frocks of this character.

Sizes 14 to 18 Years

Elastic Wrap-Arounds for Stout Figures

$1.89

THE woman who requires a large size need not sacrifice comfort in her Corset, for these Elastic Wrap-Arounds are especially designed for her. They are well made, with reinforcement over the thighs, which holds the flesh firmly. For negligee wear they provide a maximum amount of comfort—and for such sports as golfing or riding they solve the problem of a Corset that permits absolute freedom of movement.

(Second Floor and Thrift Avenue—Main Floor.)

Sale of Chiffon Silk Hose

$1.25

EXCELLENT values in full-fashioned, finely woven Chiffon Hose, silk from top to toe, and well reinforced. Although they are classed as "slightly irregular," the defects appear only as a slight shadowy effect in the weave, in no way affecting the wearing quality.

Sale of Women's Shoes

Attractive Selections in Three Groups at Extremely Low Prices

$2.45 $4.45 $6.35

DRASTIC reductions taken on many of our smartest Footwear models, place them in these three low-priced groups. Sandals, cut-out Pumps, strap Slippers and Colonials—all the favorite styles of the season, in patent leather, kid, satin, colored kid and suede. The heels are in various heights, and the soles may be turned, welt or street weight.

Wherever your choice lies, you are assured of an unusual value, for in every instance the price is unusually low.

TWO PATROLMEN DROPPED BY BOARD

Henry Moorkamp and Louis Ploeger Dismissed After Hearing.

Policemen Henry K. Moorkamp, Soulard Street Station, and Louis E. Ploeger, Laclede Avenue District, were dismissed by the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday under charges of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming an officer.

Moorkamp's dismissal followed a hearing on charges resulting from his arrest July 29 by Police Inspector Vasey and Captain Patrick Kirk of the Soulard Street Station, after the policeman had accepted two marked $5 bills from Frank Kiesling, proprietor of a soft drink saloon at 1827 South Second street. Kiesling testified that Moorkamp frst approached him July 3, and received $10. On July 29, Kiesling said the policeman returned and demanded more money. Kiesling told him to return in the afternoon. In the interim the saloonkeeper notified Capt. Kirk, who with Inspector Vasey, supplied Kiesling with the marked $5 bills.

Hid in Rear of Saloon.

Major Vasey and Capt. Kirk testified that they hid in the rear of the saloon until after Moorkamp collected the money, and then stopped him as he was crossing the street with the two bills in his hand. Vasey said Moorkamp handed over the money with the remark "here it is," before he could ask him for it.

Moorkamp admitted getting the two bills from Kiesling, but said it was the last payment of a $50 loan made the saloonkeeper last May. Kiesling, when testifying, failed to give a reason for heeding Moorkamp's demands for money. He admitted that he had been arrested once for violating the dry law. Moorkamp is 47 years old, and lives at 3832 Pennsylvania avenue. He joined the force in 1907. Inspector Vasey sought to have a warrant charging bribery issued against Moorkamp at the time of the arrest, but this was refused by the Circuit Attorney because of insuffcient evidence that the money had been paid as a bribe.

Policeman Ploeger was dropped from the department following his plea of guilty to unbecoming conduct and neglect of duty resulting from an assault on Edwin Brinkman of 2707 McNair avenue, in the latter's automobile at Arsenal street and Ohio avenue early in the morning of July 21.

Tells of Assault.

Brinkman, who was treated at city hospital for a skull fracture, told Inspector Vasey the following day that Ploeger struck him over the head twice with a jack handle during an altercation, and then walked from the scene. Yesterday Ploeger admitted striking Brinkman after the latter attacked him. The dispute arose during an automobile ride in which Brinkman accused Ploeger of taking his purse, Ploeger said. The latter was off duty at the time and said he did not feel called upon to escort Brinkman to the hospital as he did not believe him to be badly hurt.

Last March Ploeger was fined $100 for leaving his beat. On that occasion he went for an automobile ride in the West End and, while returning to his beat, knocked down a street light in the center of Oakland avenue, near Forest Park Highlands. As a result of the accident Ploeger was confined to Barnes Hospital several days with a broken nose, fractured ribs, and lacerations. He is 37 years old and lives at 3150 Iowa avenue.

CONTRACTORS ASKED TO HELP FIGHT STRIKE OF ELECTRICIANS

Independent Firms Appealed to by Associated Building Interests of St. Louis.

A letter urging independent electrical contractors here to co-operate with the Electrical Employers' Association in combating the strike of Electricians' Local Union No. 1, was sent the independent contractors today by R. L. Murphy, secretary of the Associated Building Interests of St. Louis.

The letter sets forth that the electricians went on strike Aug. 1, when employers refused to renew the working contract to expire July 15, next year. It states that this refusal by employers is justified in the interest of both the public and the building interests, as the expiration of working contracts in mid-season is harmful to all concerned, including the unions. The Associated Building Interests ask the independent contractors, at present employing about 100 electricians, to cease work and join the associated employers in working for a change in labor contracts.

The 16 firms in the Electrical Employers' Association have made no attempt to complete any of their projects since the strike began. The union in turn has announced that the strike will be maintained until a contract is signed and so far there have been no arbitration conferences. There are 463 men in the union.

Stock Removed From Official List.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7.—The Montreal Stock Exchange today carried the following notice: "Owing to the small number of the Illinois Traction common stock in the hands of the public, the Governing Committee has decided to remove it from the official list on Thursday, Aug. 7, 1924." One share of the stock was sold on the local exchange Wednesday at 101.

Woman in Want, $9600 in House.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SENECA, Kan., Aug. 7.—In a serious condition from a stroke of paralysis, Mrs. Alice McCord, an aged woman, was found yesterday in her home here where she had lived for years with a daughter said to be demented. Both the women were in a half-starved condition. Although the women were believed to have been in abject poverty and no food was in the house, Liberty Bonds and cash to the amount of $9600 were concealed in one of the rooms and in a tin box were deeds to a Nebraska farm, the total value of Mrs. McCord's property being estimated at about $90,000.

Missouri Pacific Railroad Points Way to Future Prosperity.

RETURNING confidence in the outlook for the future is evident on every hand. Prosperity is returning to the farmers. Bankers report their frozen credits are rapidly thawing out. Merchants who have been holding stocks of goods to minimums are placing large orders for immediate delivery. The iron and steel industry is expected to be compelled to increase production. Railroads are prepared to handle record-breaking volumes of traffic. Everything points to prosperity.

All of this is in line with recorded events of the last thirty years. Railroads are generally regarded as the best business barometers. Statistics collected since 1890 show that every Presidential election year since that date, with a single exception, has been the best year in the history of the railroads. The one exception was in 1908 when the country had not recovered from the financial depression of 1907.

This will mean that the railroads of America will again be called upon to provide exceptional transportation service. They are prepared to do this. The Missouri Pacific Railroad will exert every effort to give to its patrons and the communities it serves the limit in adequate and dependable service.

The traveling and shipping public can be of great assistance in the expected situation. Anticipating requirements for coal, merchandise and manufactured articles will be "good business." Prompt placing of orders for items that must be moved will insure prompt delivery. It will, in addition, tend to further strengthen the potential purchasing power of the country by providing more employment for both men and capital.

Shippers, especially, can assist by loading cars to capacity and by promptly loading and unloading cars.

More business will enable the railroads to earn the money with which to further develop their properties to handle more business. They can be depended on to do this to the extent of their ability and as fast as is practicable.

It is significant that the natural laws of business economics have brought about the improving conditions. Farmers are financially better off now than they were at the beginning of the year. The railroads are better able to provide adequate and dependable service than at any time in their history and this, too, can largely be credited to the fact that they have been permitted to meet the necessities without further handicaps and restrictions being imposed on them by legislation.

The public and the railroads can do much to help each other in this time of increasing business activity. The railroads are making every effort to do their full duty in this respect. The Missouri Pacific Railroad is continuing to render superior service. I ask the friendship, the confidence and the co-operation of the public to this end. And most especially I ask the public to study the railroad transportation situation that all concerned may have a better understanding of the problems involved and the way to assure continuing and improving business conditions.

I solicit your co-operation and suggestions.

WALTON 4000 AHEAD IN OKLAHOMA RACE

Deposed Governor Seems Assured of Senatorial Nomination—Denounced K. K. K.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Aug. 7.—Slowly piling up a lead over Congressman E. B. Howard, whom he passed late yesterday, J. C. Walton, impeached Governor, appeared today to have been nominated by Oklahoma Democrats for the United States Senatorship to succeed Robert L. Owens.

Returns compiled by the Associated Press late last night from Tuesday's primary showed Walton to be leading Howard by 4084, with 729 of the 2996 precincts in the State to be heard from. Political observers do not believe later returns will materially alter the present standing, unless it be to strengthen Walton's lead.

C. J. Wrightsman, another candidate in the race, yesterday conceded Walton's nomination, and the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City, which has opposed Walton, predicated in today's issue that Walton had won by 10,000 plurality.

When tabulation of returns was suspended last night Walton had 62,247, Howard 58,163, former Senator Gore 39,355, Wrightman 38,093, and former State Attorney-General Freeling 11,902.

Walton is a bitter opponent of the Ku Klux Klan and severely attacked that organization in his speeches. Howard and Wrightman had the indorsement of the klan.

With more than a 2 to 1 lead over his nearest opponent, W. B. Pine of Okmulgee seems assured of the Republican senatorial nomination. Returns from 1137 precincts gave Pine 28,023, Lorton 13,952, Scott 7373, Leedy 1628, Leiber 1089, Bingham 987. Pine had the indorsement of the Ku Klux Klan, while Lorton opposed the organization.

Incumbent Congressmen are leading their opponents in districts where there were contests and seem assured of renomination.

Charging that there have been flagrant violations of the election laws in certain counties by persons controlled by the "grand dragon," Walton issued a statement saying he would demand a "full investigation."

WOMAN'S CHARRED BODY FOUND; HUSBAND HELD

Police Act When Firemen in Beaumont, Tex., Discover Bullet Hole in Skull.

By the Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Aug. 7.—J. E. Bishop, 51 years old, is held by police for investigation, following discovery of the charred body of his wife in their home here, with a bullet hole at the base of the skull. The body was found by firemen early today when a fire alarm was sent in by neighbors who saw the house in flames. Oil had been sprinkled over the floors, firemen said.

Both Bishop and his wife had been previously married. The woman's former husband was Dr. A. L. Carlton of Blewett, La.

RUSTY NAIL CAUSES DEATH

John Rice, 41 years old, a teamster, died at city hospital last night of tetanus, which resulted from stepping on a rusty nail a week ago.

Rice failed to treat the wound caused by the nail until Tuesday, when he applied for admission to the hospital. Because of the delay, Rice failed to respond to anti-tetanus treatment.

DECAPITATED BODY FOUND

Salesman, Killed by Bullets, Discovered in Ravine in Texas.

By the Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 7.—The decapitated body of a man identified as R. O. Wilson, calendar salesman for the Leach Art Company of Chicago, was found last night in a ravine near here. Two bullet holes were found in the head.

Apparently the man had been dead for about three weeks.

Tobacco Price Fraud Charged.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—Tom G. Taylor, former official of a tobacco manufacturing concern at Winston-Salem, N. C., appeared before United States Commissioner Stephen G. Long here yesterday, to deposit $10,000 bond and waive removal hearing, on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud in connection with his company's operations. He is alleged to have misrepresented the prices being received for tobacco in order to influence prospective investors.

August Sale of New Silk Frocks

Early Fall Models $9.75 All Regular Sizes

CAREFUL workmanship to insure perfect fitting is the outstanding feature of these attractive Frocks. The styles are those brought out for early Fall wear and will make instant appeal through their smartness of line and trimming.

They are fashioned of Canton crepe and satin-faced crepe — two fabrics that are well-known for their wearing qualities — and are shown in black, cocoa, brown and navy.

Some are elaborately beaded or braided, and others have charming touches of silk embroidery. The nine models sketched will give an idea of the attractive styles to be found. There is a complete range of sizes 36 to 46 in each style and color. (Downstairs Store.)

GIRLS! USE LEMON TO WHITEN SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

FARMERS TO CONDEMN GRAIN MARKET PLAN

Missouri Association Opposes Taking Over Corn Belt States, Member Says.

The Missouri Farmers' Association, at its annual meeting in Sedalia Aug. 25, 26 and 27, will take action condemning "in no uncertain terms," the proposed taking over by the farmers of the Corn Belt States the new $26,000,000 Grain Marketing Co., which began to function Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

This action is forecast in a communication to the Post-Dispatch from W. W. Hirth of Columbia, Mo., a member of the association's Executive Committee and editor of "The Missouri Farmer," its official organ. Already, Hirth states, the executive committee has reviewed and unanimously disapproved the proposal, which calls for disposing of ownership and control of the new company to the farmers. As has been told, the Grain Marketing Co. absorbed the Armour Grain Co., the Rosenbaum Grain Corporation, Rosenbaum Brothers and the Davis-Nolan-Merrill Co. of Kansas City.

Says Proposal Is Unsound.

"Even assuming that the properties are worth what is asked for them," Hirth asserts, "and this is open to serious question; and even though the matter of control were placed squarely in the farmers' hands, the proposal would still be fundamentally unsound—first, because the immediate task that confronts the 5000 farmer-owned grain elevators in the corn belt is to get control of grain movements in the various terminal markets through the establishment of their own co-operative grain commission companies (where such companies are not already in existence) and, secondly, having obtained control over grain movements, it would be infinitely wiser for us to lease such terminal elevator facilities as we may need from time to time, rather than to buy them.

"In other words, the plan is fundamentally wrong because it 'puts the cart before the horse'—because it seeks to solve the problem from the top down, rather than from the bottom up. To a 'man up a tree' it would seem that the big Chicago grain merchants who have become such sudden converts to the co-operative idea, 'see the handwriting on the wall'—that is, they realize that a measure embodying the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill is very likely to be passed in the Sixty-ninth Congress, thus doing away with dealing in grain futures; furthermore, they no doubt realize that the farm organizations will soon be duplicating in the various boards of trade their performance at the different stockyards and hence the apparent desire of these gentlemen to 'unload' before the full force of the storm breaks.

"But there is little likelihood that this scheme, which is being sponsored by certain officials of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will ever get beyond first base, for almost from the first announcement it brought down upon its head the sharpest criticism from those who speak for the corn belt farmer, and among these is 'Wallace's Farmer,' which reflects the views of the Secretary of Agriculture, ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who speaks for the organized wheat growers, and the National Grain Dealers' Association, which represents several thousand farmer-owned grain elevators. And with these powerful forces arrayed against it, there is little likelihood that the average farmer will 'bite' when he is approached by stock solicitors."

RULES AGAINST VIOLENCE IN EVICTING MINERS FROM HOUSES

West Virginia Attorney-General Says Company Must Use Peaceable Methods.

By the Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 7.—A coal company may evict the family of a striking miner from a company house in West Virginia but it does not have the right to use any violence or do anything inviting a breach of the peace, Attorney-General E. T. England ruled yesterday in an opinion submitted to Gov. Morgan.

The opinion was requested after a conference with John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, at which the union head compared the circumstances of the evictions now taking place in the Kanawha coal fields to those which preceded the Matewan killings in 1920.

The opinion by Attorney-General England supported the union contention as laid before Gov. Morgan that under a recent Supreme Court ruling coal companies were given the right to evict striking miners after due notice, but could not use force. After the conference, both Lewis and Gov. Morgan declared the attention of the Governor had been called to evictions by employes of a detective agency and Lewis declared the Governor had intimated that if the Attorney-General's opinion sustained the union contention he act in accordance with it.

Speakers at a meeting on Campbell's Creek counseled the miners to wait on the Attorney-General's decision, and that if it gave them the right they expected it would, to object to being evicted without a writ from the courts in the hands of county authorities.

3 KILLED WHEN THEY GO TO ACCIDENT SCENE

Two Others Severely Hurt at Grade Crossing Where Woman Lost Life Day Before.

By the Associated Press.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 7.—Three men were killed and two severely injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train at Voorhee's Crossing today.

The victims, all employes of the Public Service Co., went to the grade crossing, where a woman was killed and two others injured yesterday, out of curiosity. Instead of driving directly to work it was decided to make a detour and view the scene of the disaster. The dead are: Thomas Miller, Ray Cole and John Scheska, all of New Brunswick.

ANN LUTHER'S SUIT CALLED BLACKMAIL BY EX-POLICE HEAD

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 7.—The suit for breach of contract and breach of matrimonial promises in which Ann Luther, film acress, asks $100,000 from Jack F. White, rich Mexican mine owner, received a jolt in Judge Valentine's court yesterday.

Testimony that Charles Jones, former Chief of Police of Los Angeles, had asserted that the litigation was "pure blackmail," was made part of the court record.

This testimony was part of the deposition of Mrs. Mabel Condon Birdwell, friend of Miss Luther, and her agent in the transaction which led to Miss Luther's action asking $100,000 from White. Attorney Howard for the actress read the deposition and cross-examination. Mrs. Birdwell stated that among those she, as an agent, had placed prior to 1922, were Leatrice Joy, Gloria Swanson, Bebe Daniels, Anna Q. Nielson and Miss Luther.

Miss Luther called her to her hotel in June, 1923, and told her White was going to back her in four pictures at $100,000 each, Mrs. Birdwell testified. Later she saw White but "he fussed around Miss Luther so much, kissing and hugging her, he would not talk business. Finally he told me he would back her for the sums she named and told me to go ahead.

"I went to the Robertson Cole studios. They had a story there prepared for Pauline Frederick but given up by her. Miss Luther liked it but White did not think it was big enough for her. He wanted her to go back to New York and get a stage success. They returned to New York.

"Six months later Mr. Jones, who said he had been Chief of Police, came to me and said Miss Luther was suing White and that it was blackmail. The part Miss Luther was to play was a wild, untamed girl full of spirit. It was exactly like Miss Luther."

CHARGES IN BOOK ON CHARLES OF AUSTRIA TO BE DELETED

Ex-Prussian War Minister Decides to Revise Memoirs After He Gets 7 Challenges to Duels.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Assertion that the late Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary received bribes from the allies, which appeared in the recently published memoirs of Lieutenant-General von Stein, former Prussian War Minister, will be deleted from the next edition in order to pacify seven Austrian former Field Marshals who challenged Von Stein to duels on the contention that his statement was untrue, it is announced.

The former Prussian War Minister did not retract his statement but promised to eliminate the bribery remarks about the former Emperor in the new editions of his work and he sent word to this effect to the Austrian officers who replied that this action would be satisfactory. Among those who challenged Von Stein are F. von Georgi, Ritter von Krobatin, von Lehar and Czapp von Birkenstetten.

KILLS WIFE, SONS AND SELF

Buffalo Man Wipes Out Family Before Taking Own Life.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Henry H. Lyon last night shot and killed his wife and his two young sons. He then killed himself with the same pistol.

U. S. Ambassador Sued by Bank.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 7.—Suit was filed in Federal Court here yesterday against C. L. Kagey of Beloit, Kan., American Minister to Finland, and W. S. McClintock, Kansas City lawyer, by the First State Bank of Fredericksburg, Ia., for $4420. The suit grew out of the failure of the Kansas State Bank at Salina, Kan., in May, 1919. Kagey and McClintock were the indorsers of a certificate of deposit for $5200 drawn on the Salina bank, according to the petition. The certificate was in the hands of the Fredericksburg bank when the Salina bank closed. Only $780 was paid on the certificate, the petition states. Kagey was appointed to the Finland post in 1921, by President Harding and now is at Helsingfors.

Roots and Herbs Best for Kidneys

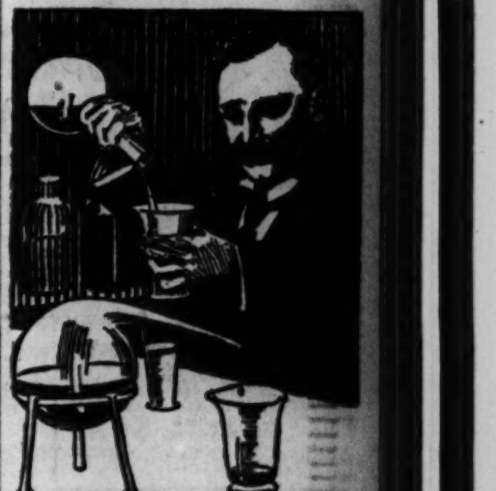
BACKACHE

said Dr. Carey is a pretty sure sign that all is not well with your kidneys.

Delay may be dangerous—thousands of people die every year from kidney troubles and many could be saved if the right medicine was taken in time.



Dr. Carey knew how to mix roots and herbs and for over 40 years his famous Marshroot Prescription 777 helped thousands of despairing people. It's the one remedy for backache troubles. Don't take chances—ask your druggist for it by name—liquid or tablet form—equally good, 75c.

Old Sores, Piles and Eczema Go

First Application Stops Itching of Eczema and Piles, Says Peterson.

"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson of Buffalo. "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents a large box, and I say to these druggists, if anyone buys my ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and is not benefited, give them their money back."

"I've got a safe full of thankful letters, testifying to the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, sore feet, broken breast, itching scalp, chafing and blind, itching and bleeding piles."

SAYS U. R. WAS JABBED FROM ITS SLUMBER

Bus Co. Head Likens Permit Plea "to Second Awakening of Rip Van Winkle."

The application of the St. Louis Bus Co. for street permits to operate on the basis of a universal transfer system with the United Railways savors of a "second awakening of Rip Van Winkle," R. W. Meade, president of the Peoples Motorbus Co. said today. The St. Louis Co. was formed by the interests engaged in reorganizing the street railway system to bring it out of receivership.

"The United Railways Co. has been asleep for 20 years," Meade said. "Its awakening was not accompanied by a yawn and a morning stretch. It was jabbed into wakefulness by the fact that we had installed a transportation system that the people have wanted for years. As soon as it rubbed its eyes, it came to life and applied for virtually the same routes which we have been seeking for a month or more.

"We are prepared to place busses on the lines we seek as soon as permits are given us. The construction of new garages is being temporarily held up until that time. We have ordered more than 70 new busses and a number of those are completed. Delivery is being held up merely because we can not place them in service at this time."

Meade said he was not prepared to talk about the status of the deal wherein the Peoples Motorbus Co. was offered to the United Railways Reorganization Committee for $2,400,000. However, John A. Ritchie of Chicago, president of the bus holding company, said recently that a four-month option had been given the proposed purchasers providing the city officials favored the co-ordination of the systems.

It is known that the Reorganization Committee still desires to own all the busses. However, it is likely the city will be consulted in the event of an agreement, and it is probable the city hall's stand on the matter of a fair price will be considered.

BUTLER SAYS TEAPOT DOME MATTTER IS CLOSED ISSUE

Great Interest Aroused When Investigation Started Has Been Calmed, He Thinks.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, before leaving for Washington for a series of political conferences, said conditions throughout the country were encouraging and there was extraordinary demand for party speakers and literature. Regarding the Teapot Dome issue, Chairman Butler said:

"When the investigation started, it naturally aroused great interest all over the country, as there was a certain amount of political agitation. But all this was calmed by the appointment by the President of two lawyers and the subsequent orderly court processes to bring about such a result as could be, would be, and probably will be attended by orderly court proceedings.

"In that sense I thought the matter was closed and I think that is true, but this is a free country where people are accustomed to say what they say especially in a political campaign."

During the afternoon Butler announced the appointment of former Representative James Francis Burke of Pennsylvania as assistant to former Representative Frederick Hicks, in charge of the campaign in Northeastern states.

BULGARIA FEARS OUTBREAK

By the Associated Press.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 7.—Government circles are aroused over advices of effective joint action between the communists and agrarians, indicated in the successful flight into Jugo-Slavia of former Ministers Athannasoff and Stoyanoff, of the Bulgarian Cabinet of Stamboulisky, with the communist leader and former Cabinet Minister Bakaloff.

An international aspect is given the affair by allegations that the fugitives were received by Serbian customs guards, apparently in pursuance with previous arrangements and that they crossed the border without passports.

15 OF MISSOURI'S 16 CONGRESSMEN LEAD IN PRIMARY

All Seem to Be Out of Danger for Renomination but J. Scott Wolff in 14th District.

ONLY WOMAN FOR POST RUNNING BEHIND

Mrs. Alice Curtice Moyer-Wing Apparently Defeated as G. O. P. Nominee in 13th.

Fifteen of the 16 Missouri Congressmen, all who ran again, appear on the face of incomplete returns to have been renominated. Ten are Democrats, five Republicans.

One Democrat, Henry L. Jost of Kansas City, for the Fifth District, retired voluntarily. In addition to these incumbents, four former Congressmen, three Republicans and one Democrat, appear to have been rechosen by their respective parties. Of the 19, nine were unopposed.

The one woman candidate for Congress, Mrs. Alice Curtice Moyer-Wing of Greenville, State Industrial Inspector, seeking the Republican nomination in the Thirteenth District, is facing defeat at the hands of Charles E. Kiefner of Perryville. Returns from 175 precincts gave Kiefner 4144, Mrs. Wing 2919, Coulton M. Becker of Williamsville 2796.

One Congressman, J. Scott Wolff of Festus, Democrat, is not out of danger yet. Two hundred four precincts of his district, the Fourteenth gave Wolff 4957; Arthur T. Brewster of Ironton, 3853; A. J. S. Baldridge of Fredericktown, 3408; Charles H. Richesin of Potosi, 1559; Fred Twomey of Bismarck, 797.

Romjue Has Big Lead.

M. A. Romjue of Macon, Democrat, incumbent, in the First District, in 128 precincts has obtained a commanding lead with 12,538 against 2536 for his opponent, John F. Daily, who lives in Missouri, but whose postoffice is Centerville, Ia.

Former Congressman Frank C. Millspaugh of Canton, now State Finance Commissioner, was unopposed for the Republican nomination in the First.

In the Second District Congressman Ralph Lozier of Carrollton, Democrat, was unopposed. No Republican sought a nomination in the Second, so the place will have to be filled later by the District Republican Committee.

Congressman Jacob L. Milligan of Richmond, Democrat, in 121 precincts of the Third District has 9550 votes against 5274 for William E. Campbell of Liberty.

Former Congressman Wins.

Former Congressman H. F. Lawrence of Cameron appears to have defeated Fred W. Mitchell of Excelsior Springs for the Republican nomination in the Third, with 5367 votes against 2352 for Mitchell.

In the Fourth, Congressman Charles L. Faust of St. Joseph, Republican, was unopposed, while John McDaniel of Savannah for the Democrat nomination had 8329 votes against 8163 for Bart M. Lockwood of St. Joseph.

George H. Combs Jr., Democrat, had no opposition in the Fifth (Kansas City) District. A bitter fight for the Republican nomination was won by E. C. Ellis by a narrow margin. the vote was: Ellis, 8766; Clarence I. Spellman, 8442; Fred W. Coon, 8282; Clarence C. Outhier, 2071; J. Ed Stevens, 1785.

Returns in Sixth District.

Congressman Clement C. Dickinson of Clinton, Democrat, has a long lead over his two opponents in the Sixth District, the vote from 111 precincts being: Dickinson, 8189; Leslie M. Crouch of Harrisonville, 3443; Oliver Royse of Warrensburg, 2873. Former Congressman W. O. Atkeson of Butler, Republican, likewise has a decisive margin with a vote of 2593 against 299 for H. W. Insley of Rich Hill, in the Sixth.

In the Seventh District, Congressman Sam C. Major, Democrat, had no fight, but four Republicans waged a real fight for the right to oppose him in November, Oliver J. Page of Springfield leading in 113 precincts with 6177 against 4540 for State Representative O. B. Whitaker of Waubleau, 2359 for C. H. O. Leimbrock of Gilliam and 1448 for Lionel Davis of Fayette.

Republicans of the Eighth have renominated Congressman Sid C. Roach of Linn Creek, giving him 5580 votes against 3373 for Mayor Cecil W. Thomas of Jefferson City. Scattering returns indicate the nomination of former Congressman William L. Nelson of Columbia by the Democrats of that district.

Hackmann Leading Cole.

In the Ninth, Congressman Clarence Cannon, Democrat, of Elsberry, was unopposed, while State Auditor George E. Hackmann of Warrenton has 7405 votes in 118 precincts against 6237 for former Republican State Chairman W. L. Cole of Union for the Republican nomination.

Congressman Cleveland A. Newton, in the Tenth (St. Louis and St. Louis County) District, decisively defeated Walter F. Schelp of Webster Groves for the Republican nomination, getting 41,845, against 14,151 for Schelp. Henry J. Schleper of St. Louis was unopposed for the Democratic nomination in the Tenth. In the Eleventh (St. Louis) District Congressman Harry B. Hawes, Democrat, had no opponent, while Michael J. Hart got 9106 votes and the Republican nomination over Bernard P. Bogy, who got 6850 in the Eleventh.

Both Congressman L. C. Dyer, Republican, and Jerome Duggan, Democrat, were unopposed in the Twelfth (St. Louis) District.

Democrats of the Fourteenth District renominated Congressman James F. Fullbright of Doniphan without contest, while the Republicans in 136 precincts of that district have given Ralph E. Bailey of Sikeston 7444 votes against 5748 for James A. Adams of Ozark.

Congressman Joseph J. Manlove, Republican, was unopposed in the Fifteenth District, while Democrats of that district gave William G. Warner of Joplin a long advantage with 6160 votes against 3461 for Stephen A. Newman of Cassville and 1532 for Carlos Copeland of Monett.

Both Congressman Thomas L. Rubey of Lebanon, Democrat, and former State Representative William P. Elmer of Salem, Republican, were without competition in the Sixteenth District.

Attorney Held for Forgery.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 7.—E. R. Reddy of Wheeling, W. Va., who claims to be a former Assistant Attorney-General of that State, was arrested here yesterday charged with forgery. According to local police, Reddy is alleged to have obtained $1500 of jewelry from jewelry stores by means of spurious checks.

Make a thick Rinso solution for your tubs—always use enough to get creamy lasting suds after the clothes are in

Honest Pride
in their fresh clean clothes
-so easy now to keep them spotless!

YOU take an honest pride in having your children always look fresh and clean. And rightly so.

School dresses, party frocks, even everyday rompers and playthings—you love to have them spick and span looking, clean and dainty when the children are under the friendly but critical eyes of neighbors.

A new kind of wash day makes it easy for you

Today you do not have to pay the price you used to pay for cleanliness—today you can have a snowy wash and still keep your energy, your spirit.

A new kind of laundry soap that millions of women are now using saves them the hardest work of wash day, the constant rubbing that was so harmful and tiring.

RINSO is not "just a new soap"—it is an entirely new kind of soap—creamy white in color, fine and made especially to do the family wash more quickly and easily than ever.

Rinso dissolves quickly and completely in boiling water. It gently penetrates every thread of the clothes with its rich soapsuds.

Now, just soaking in the suds of this new soap loosens all the dirt so that getting it out is easy—it simply floats off after the Rinso suds have thoroughly soaked into your garments.

These suds do the hard work for you

Wherever water penetrates even the inmost fibers of the clothes you are washing, it carries with it in a wonderful soapy solution the cleansing suds of Rinso. Gently they detach the dirt from places you couldn't reach with the hardest of old-fashioned rubbing.

The grimiest of play clothes, the meanest of cuff-edges, hems and neckbands need only a light rubbing between your fingers with dry Rinso sprinkled on them.

Then a thorough rinse carries away the loosened dirt and all the soap solution, too. There can be no bits of soap left to stick to your garments.

Rinso is ideal for all types of washing machines. Nineteen leading makers unite in endorsing it—makers of American Classic, Apex, Bluebird, Coffield, Gainaday, Getz, Haag, Horton, Johnson, Laun-Dry-Ette, Meadows, "1900" Cataract, One Minute, Poole, Ring Vac, Rotarex, Savage, Sunnysuds, Sunbeam, all say "Use Rinso!"

Women have found that the qualities that make Rinso so wonderful in the laundry also make it a splendid household soap. "The magic-like way it cleans enameled surfaces," says one; "wonderful for floors and linoleum," says another. "At last something that does not hurt my hands," writes a third. A fourth says, "The most satisfactory thing for washing dishes, pots and pans. I use it, too, on walls and woodwork and for general cleaning."

PLANS INQUIRY INTO EAST ST. LOUIS POLICE

Street Commissioner Will Ask for Investigation Charging Innefficiency in Department.

Street Commissioner Ralph Cook of East St. Louis announced today he would ask the City Council to order an investigation of the East St. Louis Police Department, charging general inefficiency and failure to apprehend criminals.

He will do this, he said, because the Police Department refused to supply Special Deputy Sheriffs Joseph Schrader and Henry Bishop with the engine number of a Street Department automobile stolen July 9. Schrader was formerly a member of the police force, and it is understood he is seeking to replace Chief of Police Barry as the head of the department.

Schrader and Bishop have accused Paul Glasco, a prisoner at St. Clair County Hospital, of stealing the automobile. They arrested Glasco in East St. Louis last Monday, and when Glasco sought to escape, Deputy Edward Carr was critically injured by a bullet from Schrader's revolver. Schrader maintains that Glasco pulled the trigger of his revolver while they were struggling for possession of it.

PRISONER SAWS OFF HANDCUFF CHAIN AND ESCAPES FROM AUTO

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 7.—Sheriff Roscoe Walton of Stoddard County, arrived at the State penitentiary today with one prisoner and a report that a second prisoner with whom he had started, William Metcalf, under five-year sentence on conviction of burglary and larceny, had escaped from the Sheriff's automobile early yesterday morning, 35 miles north of Poplar Bluff, after sawing through a handcuff chain while sitting next to a guard.

Walton said Metcalf and the other prisoner, under a two-year sentence for stealing an automobile, were chained together with one pair of handcuffs. A lead chain fastened to the handcuffs was in the hands of a guard, sitting next to Metcalf. Walton and County Treasurer Herman Lufey were in the front seat.

Some time after leaving Poplar Bluff at 2 a. m. Wednesday, Metcalf sawed through the steel links between the handcuffs with a hack saw, Walton said, and jumped out of the car just as the guard discovered what Metcalf had done. Metcalf escaped in the darkness. Walton said he had examined the handcuffs at Poplar Bluff.

Metcalf had attempted previously to escape from the Stoddard County jail at Bloomgield, Walton said, but was discovered after partially sawing out several bars of his cell.

Woman Seriously Hurt by Auto.

Mrs. Johanna Kolb, 65 years old, a widow, of 4260 Connecticut street, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries at noon today when struck by the automobile of Egbert Geeving, 32, a salesman, of Overland Park, at Broadway and Olive street. She is at City Hospital in a critical condition. Mrs. Kolb had stepped into the street to board a Broadway street car, when Geeving turned his machine south into Broadway, knocking her down.

Driver for Laundry Held Up.

George W. Link of 4724 Beacon avenue, a laundry chauffeur, told police last night he had been held up by two armed men near 4900 Rosalie avenue and robbed of $35 and his truck, containing a number of bundles of laundry.

Reports Attack by Stranger.

Ernest Febern, 68 years old, was taken from Levee and Miller street to City Hospital last night suffering from a fractured arm and lacerated scalp. He told police he was approached by a stranger who asked his address. "I haven't any home here," Febern replied. "Well, I'll give you one," the stranger said, and struck at Febern with a club. Febern raised his arm to protect the head and the arm was fractured. The stranger escaped.

Kept Awake by Nervous Heart

Many people are often kept awake for hours at night by a peculiar nervous feeling in the heart region. Sometimes the distress begins as soon as you lie down, but occasionally you are awakened out of a sound sleep by the heart fluttering or pounding. Such an attack may be accompanied by extreme nervousness or a terrible feeling of oppression. Perhaps you struggle and gasp for breath, wondering if each moment is your last on earth.

Most persons troubled in this way blame the heart, when in reality the condition may be due to gas in the stomach pressing against the heart. Where the discomfort is caused by gas, Eopa Gas Tablets will generally bring relief within a few minutes. They prevent gas from accumulating in the stomach and bowels and help to end the trouble permanently. Eopa Gas Tablets—price $1.00 a package—are sold in St. Louis by Judge & Dolph Drug Stores, Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and all leading druggists. Boericke & Runyon Co., Mfrs., San Francisco.

Omaha City Filling Station Closed.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 7. — Announcement was made yesterday that Omaha's municipal gasoline station would close because it could not operate at a profit by selling at 11½ cents a gallon. Paul Leidy, in charge of the station, said the station could open again if prices became unreasonably high.

Fire Damages Four Stores.

Four stores in a row, at 2909-17 Marcus avenue, were damaged by fire starting from undetermined causes at 3 a. m. today. The losses reported were by Philip Reis, grocer, $500; Alex Lapp, tailor, $300; George Finazo, shoe store, $100, and W. L. Chandler, barber, $100.

COOLIDGE URGED TO USE BLUDGEON ON LA FOLLETTE

Old Guard Leaders Tell Him to Make Campaign in Northwest a Finish Fight.

SUGAR DUTY AS POLITICAL FACTOR

Ex-Senator McCumber, Representing Protected Producers, Urges Delay on Tariff Report.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Old Guard Republicans are trying to impress on President Coolidge the importance of a sure enoguh fight with Senator La Follette, using every political bludgeon within his reach, and the danger of reducing the tariff on sugar.

The Republican National Committee has asserted it would give "Fighting Bob" no quarter, and is conceding nothing to him.

The demand for a stand pat policy on sugar, a thorough campaign in the Northwest, and a desperate battle with La Follette is rolled into one bitter pill for the President. This fact is being driven home by party workers every day and it is believed now that the sugar report will be suppressed until after the election. That is what the opponents of a reduction desire.

Ex-Senator McCumber of North Dakota, part author of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act, yesterday appealed to Mr. Coolidge to stay action on the tariff commission report on sugar until he and those he represents can be heard. McCumber, a high tariff Republican, is afraid the White House will consider the consumer rather than the producer in passing on the findings of the commission.

"I asked the President to withhold his final opinion until we can be heard," said he, on leaving the executive office.

McCumber was asked whom he meant by "we" and he explained: "The cane sugar people of Louisiana, and the beet growers of the Western States—the sugar producers of this country."

Sugar Producers Aroused.

The report that three out of the five members of the Tariff Commission investigating sugar prices and their relation to the tariff of $1.76 per 100 pounds, intimates, if not actually recommends, that the duty should be reduced, has aroused the protected sugar producers of the United States and they have employed McCumber to represent them.

McCumber said the President gave him no assurance of favorable action. He added that Mr. Coolidge had been too busy to give the matter due attention.

"We would like a hearing before the President, if not, somebody named by him for that purpose," said McCumber.

While at the White House McCumber talked politics. He recommended an active campaign in Northwestern States.

The Republican National Committee had this to say about the visit of McCumber to the White House. "An active campaign conducted by Republicans in the Northwest will put Minnesota and the Dakotas in the Coolidge column, in November, Porter J. McCumber, former United States Senator from North Dakota, told President Coolidge.

"Following his interview at the White House, Mr. McCumber said he brought reports to the President which indicate a Republican trend. Mr. McCumber emphasized the importance of the proper campaign organization in the Northwest, and he urged the establishment of a regional headquarters at Minneapolis, from which the Northwest campaign can be directed advantageously."

Leaders Want Finish Fight.

Old time Republican leaders want a finish fight in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Idaho, Washington and Montana. Mr. Coolidge, prefering the way of least resistance, is hard to move on this proposition. He told callers as late as Tuesday that he had taken no part in the proposition to establish headquarters at Minneapolis.

"With proper work on the part of the real Republicans in North Dakota," said McCumber, "I see no reason why that State will not be for President Coolidge. And the same applies to South Dakota and Minnesota. These are Republican States and we can keep them Republican."

The Republican National Committee announced:

"The question of establishing regional headquarters at a pivotal point in the Northwest is now receiving consideration at the hands of strategists in charge of the management of the Coolidge campaign and it is probable that it will be one of the problems finally passed on in the course of the next visit to Washington of Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican National Committee.

"Senator McCumber merely stressed reports already brought to the President as to the more favorable trend of the political current in the Northwest where La Follette was supposed to be holding out in strength. Representative Royal Johnson of South Dakota, a recent White House visitor, took practically the same view of the situation as did ex-Senator McCumber, and like others who lately visited this region emphasized the importance of setting up vigorous local organization and effective regional headquarters to bring out the Coolidge supporters. The party policy, it was emphatically stated, is to concede nothing to La Follette even in what he regards as his home territory."

Flood Damage in Philippines.

By the Associated Press.

MANILA, Aug. 7.—Heavy rains, continuing for several days, have flooded the thousands of acres of farm lands throughout the Island of Luzon, on which this city is built, and caused immense damage. Great injury has been done to the rice and sugarcane fields. Many miles of wagon roads and railroads have been washed out and a number of bridges have been carried away, stopping traffic in several provinces.

100 DOUBTFUL DISTRICTS IN FIGHT FOR NEXT HOUSE

RELATION TO CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Leaders of all parties awakened today to the fact that the La Follette candidacy for the presidency makes the control of the next Congress doubtful and that this control is as important as the Presidency itself.

In the analysis of the Congressional situation, these facts were generally accepted:

A sweeping victory by John W. Davis probably would give control of both Senate and House to the Democrats with the entire machinery of government.

A sweeping victory by Coolidge would leave the Senate deadlocked and the House might be nominally Republican, but with a majority made up of Republicans in name only.

Failure to win a sweeping victory by either candidate would leave both Senate and House deadlocked, with La Follette holding a minority control in both chambers. Such a situation might easily result in a coalition control of the Congress, with the administration, whether Republican or Democratic, unable to hold the necessary one-third to support a Presidential veto.

Supremacy of Congress.

This would make Congress supreme in the government, which is the goal at which Senator La Follette is aiming.

In any event a Coolidge victory would result in divided power and an impotent government for at least two years.

These conclusions demonstrate, in the opinion of both Democratic and Republican leaders, that the control of Congress is all important and from now on more and more attention will be paid to the Congressional campaign.

Under any conceivable circumstances it is believed it will be next to impossible for the Republicans to acquire a working majority in either House, and the Democratic chances of control seem much better than those of the Republicans.

It is estimated by leaders that in the fight for control of the next House there are about 100 doubtful districts, although entrance of La Follette into the situation makes the number probably larger.

In the Senate the outlook for the Republicans is considered hopeless. Thirty-two Senators are to be elected this year. Of these 17 are Republicans and 14 are Democrats. Magnus Johnson of Minnesota is the one Farm-Labor Senator to go before the voters.

How Senate Lines Up.

In the Senate as now constituted there are 51 Republicans, 43 Democrats and two Farmer-Laborites. This gives the Republicans a nominal majority of six, but of this majority there are Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa, Couzens of Michigan, Capper of Kansas, Norris of Nebraska and La Follette of Wisconsin, Republicans in name only.

Of this group all but La Follette are up for re-election, and, including Magnus Johnson, stand a good chance of being elected. Added to these is McMasters of South Dakota, a radical, nominated to succeed the regular Republican, Sterling.

Of the 14 Democrats whose terms expire the coming year, 12 are from the Southern States and certain of re-election, with the remote possibility of a Republican victory in Kentucky or Oklahoma. This leaves a Republican chance to gain the seats now held by Walsh of Montana and Walsh of Massachusetts, neither one of which would be regarded by political actuaries as good Republican risks.

Of the 17 Republicans who go out of office, seven places will be filled by radicals. Of the others, Democrats have a chance for places in Delaware, New Mexico, Rhode Island, New Jersey, West Virginia, New Hampshire, Illinois, Oregon and Colorado.

ZR-3 UNDAMAGED WHEN LIGHTNING ROCKS SHED

U. S. Dirigible, Being Built in Germany, Comes Safely Through Storm.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, July 28.—The ZR 3, nearing completion here for its trans-Atlantic flight to Lakehurst, N. J., had its first shock from the elements recently, and came through undamaged. During a thunderstorm, the big Zeppelin shed, in which the giant dirigible is awaiting installation of her five motors, was struck by a bolt of lightning which shook the building from end to end. There was little damage to the building itself, and none to the framework or the gas bag of the ZR 3.

Thunderstorms have been particularly frequent and severe this summer in Southern Baden and Switzerland.

You ought to know that vinegar is not just a sour taste.

Real vinegar has quality, flavor, aroma and delicacy, secured by the careful selection of the materials that go into it and by slow aging and mellowing.

Heinz Vinegars are real vinegars. Once you taste their flavor-compelling qualities you will never be content with the ordinary, crude, sour concoctions that have no name and no flavor.

It surely is not an extravagance to pay a fraction of a cent more to make a salad really delicious.

GOMPERS SAYS DAVIS ASKED FOR CONFERENCE

When Arrangements Could Not Be Made, Nominee Requested Labor Leader to Submit Questions.

WRITES DETAILS TO W. B. WILSON

Latter Had Cited Work of Davis in Averting Strike and for Anti-Injunction Law.

By JOHN J. LEARY JR.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 7.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, last night made public a letter replying to William B. Wilson, former Secretary of Labor, explaining why Wilson's request that the indorsement of La Follette be deferred until after John W. Davis had made his speech of acceptance was not agreed to.

In this statement, made public after the assurance had been received that Wilson was giving out his letter in Washington, Gompers disclosed that on July 17, Davis wrote him at Brighton Beach asking for an appointment; that Gompers wired on July 23 he would be glad to see him on July 29; that Davis on July 24 wired that it would be impossible for him to keep the engagement and asked that a "statement of questions in which labor is chiefly interested at the moment" be filed with him.

In reply to this, Gompers says, he wired on July 25, "offering to meet Mr. Davis at the time designated by you, but declining to submit questions to you which would not be equally submitted to other candidates for the presidency."

Specifically, Gompers denies that Davis averted a general railroad strike to enforce the provisions of the Adamson Act, as asserted by Wilson, and dissents from Wilson's claim that Davis did yeoman service in the matter of enacting the Clayton act.

"This dissent," he declares, "is borne out by records and facts readily available. At an opportune time these records and facts will be fully set forth, in none of which does John W. Davis appear."

Wilson Suggested That Labor Committee Hear Notification Speech.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A suggestion by William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor in President Wilson's Cabinet, that the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor postpone "definite political action" until given an opportunity to study the address of John W. Davis, at Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 11, accepting the Democratic presidential nomination, was submitted to Samuel Gompers of the Federation, a day before the council took its stand behind the La Follette-Wheeler ticket.

Wilson's letter, setting forth his reasons for supporting the candidacy of Mr. Davis, was published today, having been made public by the Democratic National Committee. Emphasizing activities of Mr. Davis as a young lawyer at Clarksburg, in defense of union miners, and, as a member of Congress, in drafting sections of the Clayton antitrust act favored by organized labor, Wilson declared his record "clearly indicates his attitude of mind toward problems affecting the wage worker and farmer."

Disclaiming any antagonism toward La Follette, Wilson, who, for many years was a leader in the organized labor movement, argued that "he does not seem to have the faculty of consolidating his contentions into concrete legislation for the relief of the people" and "has allowed himself to be placed in the position in this campaign where he is being used as the auger to bore the labor organizations of the country from within."

Following is the text of William B. Wilson's letter to Gompers which elicited the above communication:

My Dear Mr. Gompers:

I have accepted an invitation from the Democratic National Committee to assist in the campaign for the election of John W. Davis as President of the United States.

WRITES DETAILS TO W. B. WILSON

Letter Had Cited Work of Davis in Averting Strike and for Anti-Injunction Law.

My Dear Mr. Gompers:

I have accepted an invitation from the Democratic National Committee to assist in the campaign for the election of John W. Davis as President of the United States.

My close personal friendship with you and my life-long association with the labor movement, prompts me to write you stating the reasons that have led me to this conclusion.

As you know, I was for a number of years a member of the committee on President's report in the convention of the American Federation of Labor. As the President's report always dealt with the problems confronting labor, it became the duty of the committee to deal with the policies that should be pursued in solving the various problems presented.

Consequently it was my duty as well as pleasure, to assist in the development of the policies expressed by the phrases: The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Labor is not partisan to a party, but is partisan to a principle. Labor will support its friends and oppose its enemies, and so on. These policies I thoroughly believe in, and for that reason have given my support in this campaign to John W. Davis.

Davis' Work for Labor.

I first came in contact with him when I was international secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, and he was a young practicing attorney at Clarksburg, W. Va. Innumerable injunctions were being issued against us by Judge Jackson at the instance of the coal operators of the State; many of our organizers were cited to appear to show cause why they should not be held in contempt—among them, Mother Jones and Thomas Haggerty, a gentleman of the international executive board from Central Pennsylvania.

Our people were holding many meetings protesting against the action of the coal operators and the courts. Large numbers of them were arrested and hailed before the local courts. John W. Davis volunteered his services to defend them. I did not see him again until he entered the Sixty-second Congress as Representative from West Virginia.

For a generation the trades union movement of the country had been seeking relief from the abuse of the writ of injunction. No headway had been made in securing Federal legislation until Mr. Davis came to Congress. He was assigned to the Committee on Judiciary, and took an immediate interest in anti-injunction legislation.

Clayton Act Provisions.

During the year 1912, in consultation with Senator Hughes from New Jersey and Congressman Kitchin of North Carolina, and myself, he wrote sections 6

Letters Interchanged by Gompers And W. B. Wilson on Attitude of Democratic Nominee Toward Labor

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Aug. 7.—The text of the letter of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor to Former Secretary Wilson, explaining the attitude of the Federation Council toward the presidential candidacy of John W. Davis follows:

Your letter of Aug. 2 requested that the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor should not consider and take definite action regarding the pending political situation until the Executive Council or some persons representing the Executive Council could attend the ceremony for the notification of Mr. John W. Davis at Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 11, 1924, was referred to the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor following the receipt of your telegram of Aug. 1.

By and with the approval of the Executive Council, I am submitting to you the following statement:

Three months ago the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor directed that the Executive Council next meet in Atlantic City, Aug. 1, to transact such business as required the attention of the Executive Council, including the defining of the attitude of the American Federation of Labor in the furtherance of its nonpartisan political campaign.

On Friday, Aug. 1, and before the receipt of your telegram, the question of determining our political course was made a special order of business for Saturday. The suggestion of a letter coming from you was mentioned during the discussion on Saturday, but the Executive Council deemed itself fully competent to deal with the problems entrusted into its keeping for consideration and action.

Dissent as to Clayton Act.

You know, of course, that officers of the American Federation of Labor are fully informed of all that transpired in the enactment of the Clayton law, especially sections 6 and 20. We are likewise fully informed as to all who rendered valuable assistance in that legislation. We must dissent from the conclusions related by you. This dissent is borne out by records and facts readily available. At an opportune time these records and facts will be fully set forth, in none of which does Mr. John W. Davis appear.

Regarding your statement that it was the Supreme Court decision upholding the Adamson law which prevented a strike on the railroads of the country and giving Mr. Davis credit for having won that decision and thus preventing the strike, let me recount facts with which you are familiar and which are in direct conflict with the statement in your letter.

President Wilson appointed a commission of four, President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, you and myself for the purpose of mediating and preventing a strike.

This commission brought about an agreement between the railroad brotherhoods and the representatives of the railroads, and that agreement was signed in the presence of the commission of which you and I were members before the Supreme Court decision was handed down, and consequently before anyone had knowledge of what that decision would be. It was the agreement, and not the Supreme Court decision, which prevented the strike. You may recall, as I do, the statement made by the late W. S. Carter, then president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Mr. Carter said, as the agreement was signed by us all: "Gentlemen, this is the dawn of a new day," and those present generally felt that he voiced the conviction of all.

It was the machinery of the labor movement, and not the Supreme Court and Mr. Davis which prevented the threatened strike.

Davis' Utterances Weighed.

The Executive Council appreciates your advice regarding the early struggle and career of Mr. Davis. It likewise has weighed in the balance his later utterances and courses, associations and training. We are confident that our judgment and action are well founded.

But quite apart from all this, your request that our Executive Council should adjourn to go to Clarksburg and there reconvene after considering his acceptance address, is utterly impossible and inconceivable. The suggestion could be made with equal propriety that we attend the acceptance ceremonies of President Coolidge so as to prevent being charged with party partisanship.

Usual Procedure Followed.

You know, of course, the practice or our organizations in such matters as this, but a brief word may clarify the situation to you. The American Federation of Labor National Nonpartisan Political Campaign Committee, appointed by authority of the American Federation of Labor convention and with the approval of the Executive Council, is charged with the duty of presenting labor demands to the political conventions. It is then charged with the duty of considering the records of candidates and platforms adopted by the conventions.

All of this proceeding has been carried out this year precisely as in every other campaign since 1906. Our committee held many meetings and considered all facts, records and platforms seriously and at length. The document adopted here was the report of that committee, the American Federation of Labor National Nonpartisan Political Campaign Committee. Not only the matters to which you draw attention, but all available information were considered and weighed and our judgment then was expressed in the report submitted to and adopted by the Executive Council.

You may not know that John W. Davis, for whom you now speak, wrote me under date of July 17, asking a conference at a time convenient to me at Brighton Beach, where I was for a time recuperating from my illness. Mr. Davis asked me to fix a time when it would be convenient to see him, preferring only that I should not fix a time when he was on his vacation in Maine.

I replied by letter on July 22, saying that I would be glad to see Mr. Davis at Brighton Beach, where I was then, in New York City prior to my coming here, or in this city after my arrival here for the executive council meeting.

Asked Statement of Questions.

To this letter Mr. Davis telegraphed a reply on July 24, saying that it was impossible to finish the work he then had on hand and return to New York by July 29, the date which I suggested to conform to his wishes, that he was planning to leave Dark Harbor on August 1 and then suggested that I file with him a statement of questions in which labor is chiefly interested at the moment.

On July 25 I replied to that telegram expressing my willingness that an interview take place at the time designated by you.

I further suggested that the several dates and places first proposed by me were still agreeable to me, but that "I cannot submit questions to you which would not be equally submitted to other candidates for the presidency."

I have heard nothing further from Mr. Davis.

We have not overlooked your reference to Senator LaFollette and we are glad, you may be sure, that you have "no antagonism towards him." You will not fail to remember that among the many constructive legislative achievements of Senator La Follette the seaman's act stands out as a beacon light. It was this great piece of legislation which in the language of our mutual friend, Andres Furuseth, "made the last of the bondmen free." We recall no instance in which Senator La Follette has hesitated to give faithful service in furtherance of legislation supported by our movement.

Compliance Impossible.

We are sure that you did not fully comprehend the nature of your requests or the impossibility of our compliance. You are aware, of course, that authorized representatives of the American Federation of Labor, including myself as chairman of the American Federation of Labor National Nonpartisan Political Campaign Committee, were in New York City during the entire period of the Democratic convention while the platform was being drafted and while candidates were being nominated and that there were laid before that convention, as well as before the Republican convention, the planks which the executive council formulated and which we believed should be incorporated in both platforms. It would have been better if these proposals had been considered when the time was opportune.

Inasmuch as you addressed us as an assistant to the Democratic national committee, and not as a trade unionist, will you kindly inform that committee of those conclusions:

For your full information there is enclosed herewith copy of the full and complete report as made by the American Federation of Labor National Nonpartisan Political Campaign Committee and adopted and approved by the executive council on Saturday, Aug. 2, 1924.

DAVIS AND SMITH ARE GUESTS AT PICNIC

Democratic Nominee Rides in Cab of Locomotive; Goes to Franklin Roosevelt's Home.

By the Associated Press.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 7.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, arrived here at noon today to attend the annual basket picnic of the Dutchess County Democrats. He motored at once to the home of Franklin D. Roosevelt, where he had luncheon. Gov. Smith also was a guest at the Roosevelt home, and will speak at the Democratic rally, near here, late in the day.

Boarding the Montreal express at New York City, Davis rode in the cab of the electric locomotive 20 miles, until it gave way to a steam locomotive, at Harmon. He ran the electric from the Grand Central Station to the 125th Street Station, and enjoyed the experience.

Under the assumption that his guest would leave the train at Poughkeepsie, Roosevelt was there to meet him. Also State troopers were on hand to accompany the automobile through the city and on the seven-mile road to the Roosevelt estate. Unaware of these arrangements for his reception, Davis continued on to this place, the train making a special stop to let him off.

The nominee was accompanied only by his personal secretary, J. N. (Bill) Nye, Mrs. Davis remaining at Locust Valley. Gov. Smith and Mrs. Smith reached the Roosevelt home about the same time Davis did. Roosevelt joined his guests after a fast ride from Poughkeepsie.

After lunch Davis and the other guests had a swim in the pool on the estate and then rested until time to motor to the driving park where the Democrats of the county assembled to greet the party standard bearer.

Women Voters to Continue Effort to Get Out Large Vote in November Election

Primary Increase Fairly Satisfactory

Mrs. George Gellhorn, Chairman of Special League Committee, Discusses Work in View and the Obstacles to Be Overcome—Move to Center on General Registration Period in September.

MRS. GEORGE GELLHORN.

Non-partisan efforts to "get out the vote" for the November election will center upon the four-day general registration period, Sept. 22-25 inclusive.

Mrs. George Gellhorn, chairman of the special committee appointed by the League of Women Voters for the purpose of encouraging registration and voting, said today that the objective would be a registration, next month, of 376,000 voters. The highest previous record is 315,018 for the 1920 election.

Mrs. Gellhorn, whose committee carried on an active campaign since early in June, to get out a full vote for Tuesday's primary, said today that the vote cast, 49 per cent of the registration, was fairly satisfactory.

Increase Tuesday Favorable.

In 1922, when the contest for nominations for United States Senator aroused probably more general interest than the recent contest for nominations for Governor, the vote in the August primary was 47 per cent of the registration. The increase of 2 per cent is considered by Mrs. Gellhorn as a favorable sign.

In the primary, adherents of minor parties have no incentive to vote, as their nominations are usually uncontested. The vote of the Socialist and other minor parties formed 4.7 per cent of the total vote case here in 1920.

The "get out the vote" committee used more than 300,000 pieces of printed matter, including explanatory circulars and automobile stickers, and sent speakers to stores and industrial plants, to arouse interest in the supplemental registration held in June, and later to vote in the election.

One Great Obstacle.

"One great obstacle to getting out the vote," Mrs. Gellhorn said, "was the date of the primary. In our work among industrial and business employes, we learned that it is not only the wealthy who are out of the city in August. The time of the primary is the very time when the greatest number of small-salaried workers are taking their brief vacations, for their employers can best spare them then.

"Why should the primary be at the time when business and public interest are at their lowest? Illinois has its primary in April. There might be objection to a spring date, as making the campaign too long, but a September date would not make it too short and would mean a much larger vote than in August. Our committee will call this matter again to the attention of the Legislature—we have taken it up in the past, but have found opposition to any change of time."

The argument usually made in the Legislature, in support of an August primary, is that farmers can get to town to vote more conveniently then. In the present year, a backward season has tended to change this condition.

Percentage Considered High.

The registration of 315,018 in 1920 was estimated as being 66 per cent of the available vote then. The vote pecentage, 89.8 per cent of the registration, was considered very high, and was attributed partly to the attraction of novelty for women registrants, who voted then for the first time. A 100-per-cent vote, on the basis of the registration, is not possible, as there is an appreciable loss, by death and removal, between the registration and election dates.

What the "get out the vote" committee will strive for, in next month's registration, is a 75 per cent enrollment of the available voters, and then for the highest possible vote percentage on the basis of that registration.

The heaviest registration is that obtained in the general registration period, in September of each presidential year. All other registrations in the subsequent 4-year period are supplemental and revisionary to this general registration, and in spite of efforts to keep up the total, the loss by death and removal tends to exceed the gain by new registrations, so that the total gradually declines.

Partisanship Not Involved.

The "get-out-the-vote" campaign is concerned only with getting voters to the polls, and not with the partisan division of the vote. In Tuesday's primary here 82,266 Republican votes and 46,449 Democratic votes were cast for candidates for the nominations for Governor. This was a percentage of 63.9 Republican and 36.1 per cent Democratic votes. This cannot be taken safely as a basis for computing the November vote, as was shown in 1922. In the 1922 primary, on the nominations for Senator, the Republican vote was 53.4 per cent of the whole, but in the November election, on the same office, it was but 36.7 per cent of the whole. In that year Senator Reed's candidacy was a disrupting factor. This year the La Follette third party will tend to upset regularity.

How St. Louis Has "Got Out The Vote" in Four Elections

	Registration	Total Vote	Percentage
General election, 1920	315,018	283,198	89.8
Primary, Aug., 1922	274,689	130,836	47.
Primary, Aug., 1924	259,789	128,715	49.

All the above were held since women have had the ballot. In the primary of Aug., 1920, when women did not vote, the registration was 135,366, and the total vote was 77,593, or 57.3 per cent of the registration.

LA FOLLETTE FUND SOUGHT FROM LABOR UNION RANKS

Scope of Campaign Depends on Amount Raised: $1 Subscriptions Solicited.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Scope of the campaign in behalf of the La Follette-Wheeler ticket, those in charge of arrangements said yesterday, will not be determined until it is known approximately how much money will be available.

Solicitation of funds is still in the organization stage, it was said, with the probability that it will be several weeks before contributions in substantial amounts are received.

Confidence was expressed by both Robert M. La Follette Jr., in charge of campaign activities here, and William H. Johnston, who is directing the work of canvassing organized labor for funds, that adequate financial support will be forthcoming.

Johnston is sending communications to locals of 20 or more national unions, urging each to appoint a committee to canvass the membership. Contributions of $1 and up are sought.

Declaring that "Wall street is ready to spend millions of dollars in support of its two candidates, Coolidge and Davis, because it knows that whichever one is elected will be subservient to the interests of special privileges," Johnston's letter continues:

"La Follette and Wheeler are both men of limited means. They have no corporate connections or rich friends. They are bitterly opposed by the forces of greed and predatory wealth. Their opponents who controlled and bossed the conventions of both the old parties, also control the newspapers, the magazines and the radio. In order to carry this fight to victory, we must send speakers over the country and print millions of pieces of literature."

BRITISH-RUSSIAN CONCORD REACHED IN TWO TREATIES

Agreement Comes as Surprise After Announced Breakdown of Long Negotiations.

MAC DONALD WANTS TO SIGN AT ONCE

Premier Unyielding Before Onslaught in Commons —Lloyd George Attacks "Cold Storage" Claims.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The proposal of Prime Minister MacDonald to sign at once the treaties between Great Britain and Soviet Russia, which were drawn up by the Anglo-Russian conference yesterday, drew a vigorous attack from the opposition when debate on the question was resumed in the House of Commons today.

The Premier refused to yield to the onslaught, and finally scored a victory when an amendment, proposing adjournment of the House until tomorrow, for further discussion of the question, was defeated by 157 to 77. The offensive of the opposition at times produced acrimonious language and bitter comments.

"I want to sign the treaty today," was Mr. MacDonald's reply to his opponents. He added that the House would be free to consider the treaty, to amend it, to pass it or to reject it.

"However, the Premier said, he insisted upon signing the treaty immediately. The debate was opened by Sir Robert Horne, with an attack on the Premier's procedure, and a characterization of the treaty as an illusion. In the House of Lords, Marquis Curzon made an address along similar lines.

The debate ended with the adjournment of Parliament for the summer recess, to a date not later than October 28. Further consideration of the Anglo-Russia treaties will go over until the next session. The Premier probably will sign the pacts immediately.

Lloyd George Calls It "Fake."

Former Premier Lloyd George, in the House of Commons last night in the course of a sharp criticism of the proposed agreement with soviet Russia, denounced it as a "fake" and as "a contract in which every essential figure is left 'blank.'" His phrase is indorsed by the majority of the morning newspapers, which share in the amazement with which the Conservatives, and most of the Liberals, received the announcement by Arthur Ponsonby, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, that a commercial treaty and a general treaty had been arranged with the soviets. Agreement on the treaties after months of negotiations, followed with a sudden change in the Anglo-Russian conference yesterday afternoon, after the announcement Tuesday of a break-down in the negotiations.

Yesterday afternoon, just when the House of Commons was preparing to listen to an explanation by Arthur Ponsonby, Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, regarding the failure of the conference, John R. Clynes, Lord Privy Seal, announced that this explanation had been delayed until a later hour, because of prospects of a settlement of the issue involved. Shortly afterward Ponsonby announced, to the surprise of members of the House, that the conferees had arrived at an agreement, and that he hoped a treaty would be signed today. Ponsonby admitted it had been a race against time, because the Imperial Government was eager to reach a settlement of the controversy before Parliament adjourned for the summer recess.

The under-secretary also explained that a somewhat unorthodox method had been used during the conference, inasmuch as the negotiations had been largely in the nature of conversations between himself and M. Rakovsky, the chief Russian representative. He considered this method justified, however, if it advanced matters better than a formal conference.

Admit Soviet to Credit Scheme.

In explaining that a commercial treaty and a general treaty had been negotiated, Ponsonby said the commercial treaty followed the usual lines of such treaties. "We receive unconditional, most-favored nation treatment, and, in return, we admit the Soviet Union into our export credit scheme," he added. This is the method under which the British government financed foreign trade to a certain legalized extent.

Municipal Opera Offerings.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I READ with great interest Mr. Stokes' timely article in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch relative to the downward trend of the opera offerings each year at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park. The Municipal Opera Association is supposed to be a public institution for the people of St. Louis, and I would like to know just why it does not live up to its motto.

This association must remember that it has to depend on the public for support and this nation-wide praised enterprise will not survive unless it caters to the wants of those supporting it. I admit it would be a hard proposition to meet the demands and tastes of all the patrons of the theater, but why is there so much repetition when there are so many new operas to pick from? I have, for three years in succession, written to the Opera Association, suggesting that "H. M. S. Pinafore" be offered the patrons of the theater, which would mean a new and glorious treat for the music-loving public of St. Louis.

As we all know, "H. M. S. Pinafore" has never been given here and in all three cases my letters were absolutely ignored, and the Opera Association failed to acknowledge receipt of my letters, which proved that the wishes of its patrons are not considered at all.

OPERA PATRON.

America Must Be Prepared.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE cartoon in Thursday's Post-Dispatch is poorly chosen and bears the earmarks of political poo-bah. I doubt if you yourself think that Europe, whose ills are self-inflicted, expects aggression from the United States. Europe as a mailed figure taking warning of America's preparation for self protection, would have been more appropriate.

Haughty France, with the world's largest army and appropriations for armament, doggedly resisting plans for peace; Japan with hatred in her heart; Russia who dreams of conquering the world with bolshevism; even little Serbia who murders Americans with impunity. These need to be shown that America can protect her honor.

The thousands who have placed themselves at the future call of their country in the reserve corps are not anxious to fight again. National guardsmen do not plan an expedition to capture the British Isles. Nor do American business men, testing their capacity for furnishing materials in time of need plan to use swords as salesmen. They know that unprepared nations are likely to be vassal nations. They are not hunting a fight, but they are warning the world not to tramp on our toes too hard.

Parking at the Opera.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

HAVE attended the opera several times this summer and every time have been struck by the splendid parking system for automobiles. I don't know to whom belong the credit, but I certainly think they deserve a vote of thanks from every St. Louisan. I was born and raised in St. Louis and love the city and I believe when anything is well done, "tell the world."

Have We Any Rights?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT is reported that the Government has ordered all Postmasters to open and examine all packages sent through the mails to see if first-class mail is in them, but many people think it is done to search for liquor.

Suppose they will be opening our letters next and reading them in search for liquor, tablets, narcotics, etc.

Where is this to end? Have honest, law-abiding people no right in this country any more?

LIBERTY.

Neighborhood Nuisances.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ANENT the appeal of "Kneads A. Rest" in a recent issue of the Post-Dispatch, for neighborly consideration for tired minds and bodies during the cool morning hours, by doing away as much as is possible, with "loud talking in back yards, across front and back porches, slamming of screen doors, etc.," he might well have added those other back yard "sleep killers," the diminutive and utterly useless dog, yap-yapping himself into a frenzy, and the half dozen hens and leather-lunged rooster, all combining to render the three hours from 4 to 7 a. m. a torture instead of the cool hours of rest they should be, and causing their owners to be fervidly disliked, who, otherwise, would be held as most desirable neighbors and citizens.

A. MARTYR.

THE PRIMARY.

A colorless primary canvass ended with a bang Tuesday, thanks to St. Louis. The nomination for Governor of Arthur Nelson by the Democrats and Sam Baker by the Republicans was pretty generally forecast and, therefore, occasioned no surprise. But in St. Louis it was a day of wrath for the party organizations.

In the gubernatorial contest the Democrats and Republicans both bowled over their city committeemen. Judge Priest's victory, in the face of the organization's support of other candidates is explainable by the fact that he voiced local sentiment in the policy of liberalism which he ably advocated. But Victor Miller's majority over Baker and Hiram Lloyd, with the party organization opposed to him, must be accredited as a personal triumph and highly emotional. It was the City Hall, however, that suffered the real Waterloo. The nomination of Schuler for Sheriff and the repudiation of McKelvey even in his own ward and precinct, together with the nomination of Sidener for Circuit Attorney, Hampe for City Administrator, Vitt for Coroner and Buechner for City Treasurer, simply wrecked the Kiel machine. Those candidates were backed by City Collector Edmond Koeln who as a machine wrecker may be said to have a batting average of 1000.

Speculation is already rife as to the probable effect of Tuesday's local results on the mayoralty campaign of next year. Mr. Kiel may still be determined to present himself next spring as a candidate, but there is no jauntiness in that resolve. In the events of Tuesday all the aroma of the Mayor's lead pipe cinch departed. If the Kiel fourth-term plans are to be prosecuted manifestly new alliances must be made. The Republican boss of St. Louis at this juncture is not Henry Kiel, but Ed Koeln.

Of course the real boss in both parties is the voters, a fact which St. Louis has smashingly demonstrated.

But the detonations of Tuesday carry far beyond the city limits of St. Louis. Confronted by the results of the primary the Democratic politicians apparently have awakened to the fact that Judge Priest's candidacy on a platform of aggressive opposition to the Ku Klux Klan and the Anti-Saloon League was not merely a forlorn hope. A hurried study of the vote seemingly has convinced them that the bearer of the banner of liberalism represents a vital cause. As they ponder the tally they are impressed with the fact that, if the liberal vote in which Mr. Moore and Mr. Jacobs shared, had not been divided the result possibly might have been different. Accordingly, they are now urging that Judge Priest come out as independent candidate, appealing to the liberal elements of all parties. They want Judge Priest to lead a bolt. They are belatedly urging a course of action which the Post-Dispatch recommended during the canvass, when it suggested Mr. Moore's withdrawal so that the citizens of Missouri who hate intolerance in every form might have one candidate on whom to center their strength.

Should Judge Priest listen to this eleventh hour Macedonian cry the immediate result can easily be predicted. It will assure the election of the Republican candidate, Mr. Baker. Even so, that were not too great a price to pay. Soon or late liberalism must match a square face-to-face fight with fanaticism. It probably will suffer reverses. It will doubtless lose a good many skirmishes. But eventually it will triumph.

A movement such as the proposed independent candidacy of Judge Priest is bound to come. Whether the Democratic party, returning to its tenets and traditions, undertakes this work of regeneration by and of itself, or whether a new party will have to come into being in which the liberals of all parties can and will unite remains to be seen. Certain it is that the present anomalous practice of both the Democratic and Republican parties in Missouri cannot continue. Today both of those parties in Missouri are truckling to influences which are repellent alike to great numbers of our citizens who, regardless of the party they affiliate with, are bitterly opposed to the ugly tyrannical menace of intolerance.

A liberal bolt against the domination of the Anti-Saloon League, the hooded terrorism of the Ku Klux Klan and the official lawlessness embodied in both those organizations is due in Missouri and in the nation.

Among the too many laws on the Missouri statute books, unfortunately, is not a law that will hit the increasingly arrogant laundry monopoly.

EPHEMERAL REFORM.

The results of the local primary in St. Louis County are a cynical comment on reform efforts. The Clean Election League two years ago showed what it could do by overturning the entrenched party machines and their candidates. The indictments for election frauds went badly, which may be charged to the usual difficulties of the law. But for the fact that the machine candidates came back Tuesday with colors flying nobody can be blamed but the voters themselves.

It is a perfect case of the machine with its self-interested followers working while the public interest, dependent solely on good citizenship which makes nobody's living, slept. The League still has an opportunity to choose an independent slate and elect it in November and to profit by the lesson of defeat. It may have to take drastic measures for many elections until the tradition of the old party machines is uprooted. As to this prospect the bosses, undoubtedly, are quite free from worry.

CONTROL OF CARNEGIE LIBRARIES.

The Librarians Union of the American Federation of Labor makes the serious charge that the public libraries founded by philanthropists, especially the Carnegie libraries, of which the St. Louis public Library is a good example, are censored by Carnegie executives. Andrew Carnegie himself was opposed to censorship, and it is doubtful if anything could be found in his plans for donation of funds for public libraries that would sanction such interference with the liberty of readers.

It is charged that the boards of trustees managing the Carnegie Libraries are appointed and controlled by the Carnegie Foundation. This Foundation, incorporated in 1906, with an endowment of $10,000,000, has for its purpose the pensioning of retiring teachers in colleges, universities and technical schools, and to serve the cause of higher education by advancing the profession of the teacher in every way. Its whole work is on these lines, and there appears to be nothing in its act of incorporation that would give it authority to meddle in the management of the Carnegie Libraries.

The Librarians Union owes it to the public to make its charges more specific.

Mayor Kiel got lost on a street he thought he knew, principally because the new electric light standards had no street names at street intersections. By the time we get the promised new street signs installed, many more St. Louisans may lose their bearings. Why not put the signs up along with the light standards?

OUR ATHLETIC SUPREMACY.

Europeans take their sports more seriously than Americans. Falling birth rates and rising death rates are menaces which can be offset by the improvement of the individuals of the species, and the all-around athlete is not likely to contribute to either of these distressing tables.

The sporting editor of the "Echo of Paris" had made a serious study of the methods employed by Americans in the Olympic games with a view to discovering wherein lay their superiority. He accepts as factors the virtues of cross breeding, the transplanting of virile European races in America, the popularity of outdoor sports among the schoolboys, and the general prosperity of America which promotes the development of the healthy, well-nourished body. But the essential winning factor, he believes, is our method of training. He visited camps of American contestants in France, and found a much greater liberty given to the contestants than was permitted by other nationalities. The training tables, while adhering to the best scientific principles, were gay and cheerful places. The men were in good humor, keen, and ready for any lark.

At the European camps he found the contestants under the strain of long lectures. There was an atmosphere which gave the impression that a serious piece of work was to be done and that deep consideration must be given to it. This, the observer records, had a chilling effect which he believes found reaction in slowed-up muscles and dulled mentality. The suggestion he makes is that the French athletic societies should be more natural, give greater latitude to the young men and watch them less rigidly. He believes that the dance and the smile are better tonics than the grim warning that defeat is just around the corner.

MR. ANTWINE'S OPINION.

"If we may judge by the election returns, Missouri is at the height of the modern crusades," Mr. Antwine said.

"The people who won on both tickets were those who were careful not to offend our nativism and prohibition. Those were the issues in the primaries, and the result leaves us in no doubt of public opinion.

"Country people determine these things for us. We are at loss to know why there should be such a difference between city dwelling and farm dwelling, but perhaps the explanation is that while cities move, farms do not. Before we came to the cities we belonged to that cast of mind which decided the primaries for us in Missouri on Tuesday. If we doubt that, we have only to recall what we thought and what our people thought when we lived on the farm.

"Cities are cosmopolitan because great numbers of people congregate in them and the necessities of living together impose a mutual tolerance. Nothing of the sort occurs on the farm. The farm is removed from either the close indwelling of the city or the necessities of living which make it tolerable. It dislikes what the city must accept.

"Thus with the growth of cities the conflict between them and the farm becomes more acute. In politics it creates a distinguishable division such as we had in Missouri on Tuesday.

"If this alarms some of us and some of us do not like it, we must recall that man has always been the product of his environment and dissimilar environments never yet produced the same man. Our former homogeneity as a people was due to the fact that we all lived on the farm. We cannot enjoy it now that some of us live in the city.

"City people ought to be very quiet and thoughtful. They are the people who moved, and consequently it is they who have changed."

Ramsay MacDonald says that only the socialist is without class consciencenesss, which is about as difficult an education as there is. It has taken England a long time to see this, just as in our own blindness we are quite incapable of seeing that the greatest radical running in the presidential campaign is Mr. Coolidge. Presumably we will not work at it as long as Europe has worked at it, now we have the benefit of her own transformation, but our realization will not come in time to save Mr. La Follette from being called some pretty hard names.

Al McCormick, well known local man, has worked out many schemes on his little country home north of the city, but the one which is attracting the attention of his friends more than the others is the cause for an electric light just over a pond on his farm. Mr. McCormick stocked the pond with catfish. There are hundreds of fish in the pond, and they are unusually fond of bugs. Mr. McCormick realized the fish could get little food in the pond, so he perfected the scheme of placing a light about two feet above the water, in the center of the pond. At night he turns the light on, and the bugs gather. They hit the light bulb and fall down into the water. The bugs no sooner hit the water than the fish grab them.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reprodu[illegible] without bias the latest comment by t[illegible] leading publicists, newspapers and period[illegible] cals on the questions of the day.

A WORD FOR LA FOLLETTE.

From the New York World.

EDWARD C. STOKES, former Govern[illegible] now Republican State chairman of N[illegible] Jersey, charges that Senator La Foll[illegible] "would have been expelled for dislo[illegible] but for the fact that a prominent Sen[illegible] now dead, was anxious to remain chairma[illegible] of the prominent Senatorial committee, an[illegible] as the complexion of the Senate was clo[illegible] he made a deal with La Follette and th[illegible] saved La Follette from expulsion from th[illegible] United States Senate."

There is no occasion for dragging in a [illegible] dead Senator. What saved Senator La Fol[illegible]lette was a statement that the Associat[illegible] Press sent to the Senate saying that [illegible] "learned for the first time on May 17, 19[illegible] that the accuracy of its account of Sena[illegible] La Follette's speech in St. Paul" d[illegible] the previous September had been chal[illegible]lenged. The statement admitted that Sen[illegible]ator La Follette had said "We have grie[illegible]ances" and that he was quoted as [illegible] "We have no grievances." After this [illegible]sion of error the effort to unseat La Fol[illegible]lette collapsed.

Senator La Follette was unquestion[illegible] the victim of injustice in this case. It [illegible] to obscure more valid attacks on his [illegible] record. The injustice seemed all the [illegible] glaring in the area of La Follette's [illegible] in the Northwest because it was only one of [illegible] a series of similar incidents in which "pa[illegible]trioteers," as they were called, fought [illegible] vocates of economic reforms by [illegible] "Disloyal" and "Pro-German." Here in the [illegible] East we had Luskers who tried similar [illegible] tics, succeeded for a moment, and were re[illegible]pudiated when war hysteria passed. Chair[illegible]man Stokes would be wiser to profit by [illegible] lesson. Some of the Stokes objections [illegible] Senator La Follette are well founded. [illegible] hurts his whole case by "patrioteering" [illegible] years after the earlier effort failed.

PROGRESS IN SOCIAL SCIENCE.

WALTER DILL SCOTT in August Cen[illegible]

ADVANCE in the physical and the bio[illegible]logical sciences during the future [illegible]ades will certainly prove as helpful [illegible] any previous time. But the most [illegible] researches during the twentieth century [illegible] probably be conducted not in the [illegible] sciences, but in the social sciences [illegible] are at last coming to see that the [illegible] study of mankind is man. We are [illegible]ning to direct our researches to the [illegible] life of mankind—to the nature of [illegible] a social and political being and [illegible] achievements of man recorded in [illegible] literature and institutions. There [illegible]ognized a need for a thorough [illegible] of all our texts on history, econom[illegible] itics, sociology, psychology, esthetics, [illegible]gogy, ethics and religion. The social [illegible] are fostering a progress that may be [illegible]ured not in mere billions of dollars [illegible] millions of human lives, but rather [illegible] finer, though less tangible, terms of [illegible]ciation, service and sacrifice. [illegible] am convinced that our universities [illegible] make as great a contribution in the [illegible] sciences during the twentieth [illegible] they did by the discovery of truth [illegible] natural sciences during the nineteenth [illegible]tury.

ROOSEVELT'S PART IN JAPANESE WAR

Speaker at Williamstown Says He Warned Germany and France to Remain Neutral.

By the Associated Press.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 7.—Dr. Tyler Dennett of Washington, speaking today at an open conference of the Institute of Politics, declared that President Roosevelt was perhaps the first American statesman to perceive clearly that the Far East question is largely a phase of European politics and that the weight of his influence in a warning to France and Germany possibly prevented a European conflict.

Dr. Dennett also said that there existed in 1905 "an agreed memorandum," of which a photostat was in his possession, the effect of which was to make the United States during the Roosevelt administration almost an unsigned member of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

"This document was approved by President Roosevelt less than two weeks before the formal publication of the terms of the second Anglo-Japanese alliance, and just before the opening of the Portsmouth peace conference. This action of President Roosevelt did not stand alone.

"At the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese War 18 months before President Roosevelt had been so impressed with the possibility that France or Germany, or both, might go to the support of Russia against Japan, that according to his own statement, in a brief letter which I have seen, he warned both Germany and France that if they went to the support of Russia he would go to the support of Japan and 'take whatever steps necessary for her protection.'

"It will be recalled that in the first Anglo-Japanese alliance, signed in 1902, this was the obligation which had been assumed by England. We may, therefore, say that this warning, which came personally from President Roosevelt to France and to Germany had only the value which attaches to the personal declaration of the President of the United States. Nevertheless the effect of it, was to make the United States assume substantially the same responsibility toward Japan that England had assumed in the first alliance.

"At the beginning of 1904, as is clearly revealed in the private papers of President Roosevelt as well as in the contemporary literature of the time, Europe was dangerously close to the brink of a world war. France was allied to Russia, England was allied to Japan. Four powers were paired. Germany had urged Russia into the war with Japan and her future policy was then a matter of doubt and grave concern.

"When President Roosevelt threw in the weight of his influence by his warning to France and Germany, he localized the conflict to the Far East and quite possibly prevented the outbreak of European conflict. The situation in the summer of 1905 was such as to make it seem quite plausible that if President Roosevelt had not made this engagement with Japan and England it would have been far more difficult and perhaps impossible for him to mediate the peace of Portsmouth a month later."

APPOINTED TO WEST POINT

John F. Doyle Notified of Being Named to Army School.

John F. Doyle, 18 years old, son of Dr. William J. Doyle, 3017 Lafayette avenue, was notified yesterday of his appointment to West Point. He will report there July 1, 1925. The appointment came through Congressman Dyer.

Doyle is a graduate of McKinley High School, where he was president of his class last year, graduating in January. As a child young Doyle was the favorite of William Young, then Chief of Police, and spent most of his spare time at the Young home and on trips with the Chief to his office and other places, the Chief having no children of his own. After his graduation Doyle was made a clerk in the office of the Board of Police Commissioners, where he has served since.

NEW OPERA BY VERDI FOUND

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

BUDAPEST, July 28.—The library of the Budapest opera house has unexpectedly yielded a hitherto unknown opera by Guiseppe Verdi, entitled "The Robbers." The libretto is none other than Friedrich Schiller's famous drama of the same title.

It appears that Verdi composed a cycle of operas which have Schiller dramas for their texts. The cycle included "Don Carlos," "The Maid of Orleans," "The Robbers," and "Cabal and Love." The discovery of "The Robbers" will, it is believed, lead to the musical production of the whole cycle in the near future.

LIBERAL PARTY APPLIES FOR PLACE ON BALLOT

Indicates That Only La Follette and Wheeler Electors Will Be Nominated.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 7.—Representatives of the Liberal Party of Missouri yesterday filed an application with the Secretary of State for a place for the party on the ballot of the November election in Missouri. The application was filed by R. T. Wood and George R. Patterson of the State Federation of Labor, chairman and secretary, respectively of the Liberal party, and William Brandt, Socialist leader in St. Louis. The application indicated that the party ballot would carry only the eighteen electors for the party's two national candidates, La Follette, for the presidency, and Wheeler for the vice presdency.

Petitions will be filed soon to place the electors on the ballot of the party. Under the law these must be filed thirty days in advance of the general election November 4. There will be one elector from each of the 16 Congressional districts and two at large. To be valid these petitions must bear signatures of voters equal in number to one per cent of the vote cast in the district for the Governorship at the last general election but the number of signatures need not exceed 1,000. The same requirement applies to the electors at large.

The party representatives also filed with the Secretary of State the official emblem of the party, which is a reproduction of the Liberty Bell, within a circle on which is inscribed "Liberal Party of Missouri, organized July 23, 1924." With the notice was announcement that the various county committees of the Liberal Party of Missouri would be organized at county meetings to be held August 19. On the same date county mass meetings will be held to elect delegates to a State convention to be held in St. Louis September 9.

MISS WADE TO LEAD GOOD ROADS CAMPAIGN

Vice Chairman of Association to Organize Women to Support Highway Proposal.

Miss Florence J. Wade of St. Louis, vice chairman of the Missouri State-Wide Good Roads Association, which met in St. Louis yesterday to outline plans for support of "Proposition No. 5," to be voted on in November, will have charge of organizing the women voters of Missouri in support of the proposal.

Upon her will rest the responsibility of bringing all the women's organizations in the State together in support of the movement. Miss Wade is a daughter of Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., and resides at 4532 Lindell boulevard.

"Phoposition No. 5" enables the State to sell $10,000,000 of road bonds a year, instead of $5,000,000, as was authorized in the $60,000,000 bond issue for hard roads in Missouri. It would also incerase State automobile licenses taxes 50 per cent and add a tax of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline to retire the bonds and provide a road maintenance fund.

Will Seek Carter's Aid.

Among the more important matters discussed at the meeting was a proposal by Miss Wade to ask W. Frank Carter of St. Louis, who directed the successful campaign for the local $87,000,000 bond issue, to head a committee to get out the vote for "Proposition No. 5" in St. Louis.

E. J. McGrew, a banker of Lexington, presided, and outlined the plan of campaign, which is educational in nature and contemplates State, division, county and subdistrict organizations, with a manager in each county.

As none of the State highway funds can be used for this campaign, funds must be raised in the counties to defray expenses, and each county will be given a quota and may retain 10 per cent of the money raised for expenses of this work.

The week of Sept. 8-12, inclusive, has been set as the date for raising the campaign money, and S. E. Trimble of Springfield, has been appointed treasurer to receive these funds and any other donations at any time before or after the campaign week.

McGrew to Take Charge.

State Chairman McGrew, with headquarters at Lexington, will have full supervision and control of the campaign, but will be advised by an executive committee yet to be appointed. The State Highway Commission and a special advisory committee, composed of all organizations in the State interested in good roads will also assist in executive direction of the campaign, both for raising money and getting votes for the proposal.

The State has been divided into 10 divisions for the purposes of the campaign, and the county managers will meet as follows this month: Division No. 1, at St. Joseph, Aug. 18; No. 2, at Macon, Aug. 19; No. 3, at Hannibal, Aug. 20; No. 4, at Kansas City, Aug. 25; No. 5, at Jefferson City, Aug. 22; No. 6, at St. Louis, Aug. 21; No. 7, at Joplin, Aug. 26; No. 8, at Springfield, Aug. 27; No. 9, at Willow Springs, Aug. 28; No. 10, at Sikeston, Aug. 29. Local county campaign plans will be perfected at these meetings.

Tell Girls

And women what I do for you

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My office sends me countless letters which thank me for new beauty and new youth. Please don't do that. Just tell to other girls and women what you've found.

I am simply passing on to others what great scientists gave me. The helps that made me a famous beauty, then kept my youth and beauty to my grand old age.

Those helps number 52, but I have had them combined in four preparations. When you use any one of them you apply quite a number of the best beauty helps in existence.

One is a cold cream which I call my Youth Cream. It combines products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. I have never heard of a cream which brings anything like its results.

Now I am placing my Youth Cream—just as I use it—at every woman's call. druggists and toilet counters supply it at 60c per jar. Also in 35c tubes. Just ask for Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. I promise you that as long as you live you'll be very glad you know it, and I shall be glad for you.

I will send you a sample to try if you wish. Also my Beauty Book. Just mail this coupon. For beauty's sake, do it now.

CALVIN COOLIDGE JR. DENIED HE WAS FIRST BOY OF LAND

"It Is My Father Who Is President," He Wrote to Friend Shortly Before His Death.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—A letter written by the President's son, Calvin Coolidge Jr., who died a month ago, to James Harold Macart of East Orange, N. J., a year ago, was given out at the White House today. It reads:

"I thank you very much for your kind letter. Yes, I remember Paul Reynolds well. Remember me to him, if you will. I believe 'Paul' was his name.

"I think you are mistaken in calling me the first boy of the land, since I have done nothing. It is my father who is President. Rather the first boy of the land would be some boy who had distinguished himself through his own actions."

and 20 of the Clayton antitrust law, approved Oct. 15, 1914. They represent the most progressive and far-reaching legislation enacted by any Government in the history of the world. I am quoting the two sections in full, that you may have them before you for reference:

"Section 6. That the labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Nothing contained in the antitrust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of labor, agricultural or horticultural organizations, instituted for the purpose of mutual help, and not having capital stock or conducted for profit, or to forbid or restrain individual members of such organizations from lawfully carrying out the legitimate objects thereof; nor shall such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restrain of trade, under the antitrust laws."

This is not the language of Mr. Davis. It is the language of the American labor movement, but it was adopted by him and through his influence written into the law of the land. The first sentence of the section lays the foundation for abolishing the writ of injunction in labor disputes. The balance removes the tain of conspiracy from labor, agricultural and horticultural organizations, and has made possible the wonderful development of the farmers' co-operative selling agencies. Without it they would have been conspiracies in restrain of trade.

Law on Injunctions.

Section 20 writes into the law what labor organizations have long been contending for. It is: "That no restraining order or injunction shall be granted by a court of the United States, or a Judge, or the Judges thereof, in any case between an employer and employe, or between employe and employers or between employes, or between persons employed and persons seeking employment, involving, or growing out of, a dispute concerning terms or conditions of employment, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property, or to a property right, of the party making the application for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law, and such property or property right must be described with particulars in the application, which must be in writing and sworn to by the applicant or by his agent or attorney.

"And no such restraining order or injunction shall prohibit any person or persons, whether singly or in concert, from terminating any relation of employment, or from ceasing to perform any work or labor, or from recommending, advising or persuading others by peaceful means so to do; or from attending at any place where any such person or persons may lawfully be, for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, or from peacefully persuading any person to work or to abstain from working; or from ceasing to patronize or to employ any party to such dispute, or from recommending, advising or persuading others by peaceful or lawful means so to do, or from paying or giving to, or withholding from, any person engaged in such dispute, any strike benefits or other moneys or things of value, or from peaceably assembling in a lawful manner and for lawful purposes or from doing any act or thing, which might lawfully be done in the absence of such dispute by any party thereto; nor shall any of the acts specified in this paragraph be considered or held to be violations of any law of the United States."

This work undertaken personally by Mr. Davis without solicitation, clearly indicates his attitude of mind toward problems affecting the wage worker and farmer.

Prevention of Rail Strike.

When the eight-hour law for railroad men was passed in 1916, the officials of the railway organization feared that it would not stand the test of the Supreme Court. That was made evident by the fact they had declared a strike on the members of the brotherhoods to take effect in the early part of 1917. The manner in which John W. Davis prepared and presented the case to the Supreme Court in behalf of the government, resulted in a favorable decision that came just in time to prevent the threatened strike.

This attitude of mind has been backed up by the action of the Democratic party in Federal legislation during the last 30 years. It has not enacted everything that the wage workers and farmers have demanded, but it has placed upon the statute books, more well-thought-out constructive legislation that opened the doors of opportunity to wage workers and farmers, than all other parties, blocs or groups combined.

I shall not, at this time, attempt to enumerate them, which would only be refreshing your memory on what your official records show.

I have no antagonism toward Senator La Follette. He has done good service for the country in the way that he is best qualified to do it. He has ably called attention to existing wrongs; he has been the voice crying in the wilderness.

He has attracted wide attention, but he does not seem to have the faculty of consolidating his contentions into concrete legislation for the relief of the people. In addition to that, he has allowed himself to be placed in the position in this campaign, where he is being used as the auger to bore the labor organizations of the country from within.

The records of all the candidates will not be complete until their letters of acceptance have been given to the public, and I take the liberty of suggesting that the Executive Council, or some person or persons representing the council, attend the ceremonies for the notification of Mr. Davis at Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 11, 1924, and listen to his letter of acceptance before taking definite political action.

Cordially yours,

WILLIAM B. WILSON.

Wolf Control Office Moved.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 7.—The office of wolr control work headquarters for Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma has been removed from El Reno, Oklahoma, to the headquarters of the State Board of Agriculture here, it has been announced at the department. The wolf control work comes under the administration of the United States Biological Survey, which ordered the change. It was also announced that wolf eradication work in Arkansas and Oklahoma has been suspended for a period and efforts will be concentrated in Missouri.

Wife Shoots Estranged Husband.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 7.—James E. Morley, 34, a contractor, was shot last night by his wife, Mrs. Regina Morley, when, police say, he refused her plea for a reconciliation. Morley was shot three times, two of the bullets striking him in the stomach and the third in the neck. Morley had instituted divorce proceedings and a court order gave him permission to visit his 20-months-old daughter. Last night, according to the police, his wife refused to permit him to see the child unless he would promise to return to her.

BRITISH-RUSSIAN CONCORD REACHED IN TWO TREATIES

the few which had been renewed, made provisions for the definition of territorial waters. This question, however, he said, must await international agreement.

With regard to miscellaneous claims, Ponsonby said an arrangement had been arrived at under which the claims are to be investigated and a lump sum determined upon. Concerning property claims, both sides would appoint members of a commission to investigate them and arrive at a decision regarding compensation. The principle adopted in the treaty was, not to reach a settlement in figures on different claims, but to get an admission in principle, and create the machinery to reach a settlement.

According to Ponsonby, when at least half the bondholders have been satisfied, and when an agreement is reached on property claims, these agreements would be embodied in a subsequent treaty, and, arising out of that treaty, the government would submit to Parliament a proposal guaranteeing a loan to the Soviet government. Nothing had yet been settled regarding the amount of the loan.

Claims in Cold Storage.

"Both Government debts and intervention claims," said Ponsonby "are set aside under Article IX. They are written down for the time being, and put into what I might call cold storage."

The Under-Secretary said a clause had been inserted in the treaty dealing with propaganda. He added that M. Rakovsky had shown an intense desire to reach an agreement. The British Government's policy had been to avoid acrimonious discussion over petty points and quarreling over detached issues, and to seek a general settlement on broad lines based on conciliation and co-operation, thus helping to restore the friendship of nations and make the European peoples feel that, at last, governments were using their power and authority, not for warlike purposes, but for the establishment of peace and brotherhood, not only in theory, but in practice. The "cold storage" phase formed the chief subject of the criticism of Lloyd George and Ronald McNeill last night. Lloyd George accused the Government of writing down these debts, and Mr. Ponsonby protested that the former Premier was reading too much into his statement.

There is some favorable comment in the morning newspapers. The "Daily Herald," labor organ, welcomes the "happy result" with "greatest satisfaction." The "Daily News," Liberal, thinks that "to have arrived at any agreement with the Soviet delegation is a very considerable achievement, for which praise is due," but it withholds definite opinion of the merits and possibilities of the treaties, pending fuller explanation of their terms.

Papers Scornful and Angry.

The "Westminster Gazette," Liberal, without condemning the agreement, says the terms need to be carefully scrutinized. The other newspapers are scornful or angry, or both.

The "Times" doubts that Parliament will ever agree to the proposals.

"The arrangement," it says, "only leaves the main issues practically undecided, but, by false expectations which cannot be fulfilled, it endangers any prospect there might be of improved relations with the Soviet. Parliament will not sanction a loan on any terms to a defaulting government."

The "Daily Mail" expresses indignation, and recalls that Mr. Ponsonby, on May 20, announced that it was out of the question for the Government to guarantee a loan. The "Daily Chronicle," supporter of Lloyd George, cannot recall "any Government ever leading Parliament worse in a grave issue of foreign affairs.

The sudden change from an announced breakdown of negotiations, to the reaching of an agreement, is attributed to the special efforts of Premier MacDonald and the trade unions.

EVANS MURDERERS IN JAIL, SAY OFFICIALS

Captured by Military Forces in Puebla, Mexican War Department Announces.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 7.—The murderers of Mrs. Rosalie Evans have been captured, according to a report given out this afternoon at the War Department. The report came from Gen. Roberto Cruz, military commander in the State of Puebla, where Mrs. Evans was shot and killed near her hacienda last Saturday.

"I take pleasure in reporting that Gen. Antonio Gomez Velasco, my chief of staff, informs me from Texmelucan that the assassins of Mrs. Evans have been captured," said the message from Gen. Cruz. "Valente Quintana, chief of the Mexico City secret service, cooperated efficiently in carrying out his mission to capture the assassins. The guilty men have been brought to the city of Puebla, adequately guarded. Accompanying Gen. Velasco and Senor Quintana, came the secretary of the British legation, who is well informed of the effective efforts which have been made to clear up the crime. I shall continue to keep you informed."

Special advices from Puebla reported the arrival in that city, under heavy escort, of sixty prisoners, principally Indian farm workers, from villages in the vicinity of the Evans hacienda. They were imprisoned immediately in the Sain De Dios jail, and will be given an opportunity to testify at a preliminary hearing to be held by Judge Miguel Munoz Gamboa. Upon the presentation of evidence showing innocence of any of the prisoners, they will be allowed to return home.

The arrests were said to have been made upon evidence obtained by General Honorate Tehutli, chief of police of Puebla, Quintana and other investigators. The evidence

Upon the presentation of evidence showing innocence of any of the prisoners, they will be allowed to return home.

The arrests were said to have been made upon evidence obtained by General Honorate Tehutli, chief of police of Puebla, Quintana and other investigators. The evidence is to the effect that five persons were directly implicated in the shooting, while five others acted as spies along the road, reporting the progress of Mrs. Evans from Texmelucan to her hacienda. The five alleged assassins, assisted by residents of the district, are declared to have carried out the crime at the instigation of "persons higher up." Two of the five are said to be among those lodged in jail.

The Puebla advices add that it is impossible to confirm reports that orders have been issued for the arrest of a former Puebla deputy and two of the foremost agrarian leaders of the Puejotvingo district, in which the crime was committed.

AUTOIST FLEES AFTER INJURING WOMAN IN CRASH

Driver Leaves Scene Before Witnesses Could Get License Number of His Machine.

A Marmon coach moving east on Chouteau avenue crashed into the automobile of James R. Rowe, 1322 South Second street, at Seventh boulevard last night, and then continued on its way before witnesses could note its number. Rowe's wife, Anna, 28 years old, was thrown from the car, suffering serious lacerations and possible internal injuries. The machine was wrecked.

Byron Glover, 28, of 2423 North Garrison avenue, riding on the running board of the auto of Emmett Liese, 3620 Dodier street, was badly cut and bruised last night, when Liese's machine collided with the automobile of John Leahy, 4823 Labadie avenue, parked at 3722 St. Louis avenue. Both cars were demolished. Glover said he asked Liese for a "lift" at Vandeventer avenue and was riding to Grand boulevard.

Michael Kreft, 5901 Laura avenue, suffered fracture of the knee cap and internal injuries, when his automobile was hit by a street car at Newstead and Maryland avenues. His companion, Oliver Kissell, 5958 Sherry avenue, was cut and bruised. Raymond Scheer, 10, 3455 Nebraska avenue, suffered severe lacerations, when run down in front of 2820 Cherokee street.

Senator Caraway in Speech Here Paints Satiric Picture Of Politics and Candidates

La Follette's Chief Glory Lies Where Samson's Did, in the Luxuriance of His Hair, Says Arkansas Democrat.

United States Senator T. H. Caraway of Jonesboro, Ark., guest speaker at the banquet of the American Retailers' Association at the City Club last night, entertained the 1000 or more diners with a demonstration of his talents as a satirist in the field of public speaking. It proved to be a convincing exhibition of the speaker's forensic powers in this line, which have earned him both respect and fear from friend and foe alike in the United States Senate.

The speaker was introduced to discuss "What Interest Has the Business Man in Politics?" His audience consisted of merchants and buyers in St. Louis to make their fall purchases and incidentally to be entertained. They were gathered chiefly from the South and West and their political leanings were quickly manifested.

Reference to Election.

"I shall not discuss the answer to this question from a partisan standpoint," Senator Caraway announced at the outset. "However, there is to be an election this year. You may not know it, but four years ago the Republicans sneaked off and held an election. But this year we Democrats will be present."

With this introduction, it became apparent the Senator had a sly twinkle in his eye and was out to give a public "roasting" to both men and measures in the world of public politics.

"I voted for the war and all its measures," he continued, "but today I am not sure we won the war. In the Senate of the United States 31 men did the most cowardly thing in all history, when they signed a round robin, saying, in effect, if you let that man—of course, I speak of Woodrow Wilson, former President of the United States—these men said, 'if you let this visionary write a provision to settle these causes of war on paper, instead of the battlefield, then we shall enter our opposition.'"

His Opinion of War.

Then, in a serious vein, the Senator declared that 'wars are the silliest and most useless invention of man.' He suggested that the plight of the growers of cotton, tobacco and grain was attributable to the failure of America to sit at the world's peace council tables.

"Yes, that's politics," he declared, "and to show you my partisanship, let me say this: I defy you, Republicans here present, to say what the Republican foreign policy has been for the last few years. Or their domestic policy. And, yes, you Democrats, I defy you to tell me what the Democratic policy has been!"

"And there's Mr. Coolidge," he went on. "He is a most estimable gentleman and I like him very much. I served in the Senate two and a half years, while he was its presiding officer. He never cared any more for the rules of the Senate than he did for the companionship of Senators. You know in the Senate cloakrooms we are expected to speak out the truth, and we do. But Mr. Coolidge never joined us. He brought his own lunch and ate alone, quite considerately turning his face to the wall.

Estimate of Coolidge.

"Lest I be criticised as being too harsh, let me assure you that I speak without malice or partisanship in appraising this quaint New Englander, about whom there has risen a unique legend as to his taciturnity. I know he is exceedingly able, fearless, courageous. And let me tell you this—he has made the best President he knew how."

When the applause that met this burst had subsided, Senator Caraway returned to his subject to express the main theme, that it was the business of politicians, business men and "all good citizens" to find out every man's viewpoint every day.

The speaker's next shaft was plainly launched at bureaucratic government. He declared that Government 'has entered intimately into the lives of every one of us," from the cradle to the grave. "If we keep on the way we are going," he warned, "the Government will not only run your business, but take your profits." Amplifying this assertions, Senator Caraway stated that more than 16 per cent of the merchant's income goes to pay for regulatory "interference."

The Senator referred to John W. Davis as "a man of vast talent, wholly acceptable in every way to be President of the United States." But La Follette—

"There is a gentleman for you whose chief glory lies where Samson's did, in the luxuriance of his hair. He is not without ability, but so far as I have been able to discern, during the 15 years that he has drawn $7500 a year of the taxpayers' money, he has achieved one distinct purpose. He has in his career served to emphasize the good stories of the Bible. One cannot look at those long locks without being reminded of the glories of Samson.

Further Comment on Hair.

"And while I am on the subject of hair, let's talk about Charley Bryan. He hasn't any. When the sun shines on him he gets a headache. And then there is Senator Wheeler, my friend, the attorney for probably the most crooked oil syndicate in the business outside the one Fall sold out to. And Senator Wheeler sees something sinister in the honorable law connections of John W. Davis!"

In closing, Senator Caraway again adjured his hearers to interest themselves in politics, if only on the ground of self-interest.

The banquet was presided over by the Association president, L. G. Boone, a merchant of Elkton, Ky. He referred to the occasion as "the first birthday" of the organization, which had its origin in St. Louis a year ago and now has a membership in excess of 2800 retailers in 41 states.

St. Louisans Also Speak.

Felicitous remarks, addressed to the retailers who are here to inspect stocks and make purchases in the St. Louis market, were made by W. T. Findly, secretary to the Mayor; Glendy B. Arnold, counsel of the Chamber of Commerce, and R. Fullerton Place, vice-president of the Advertising Club of St. Louis.

The diners were served on the twelfth and fifteenth floors. The entertainment, which was staged under the direction of Manager David E. Russell and Eugene Forde of the St. Louis Municipal Opera Company, introduced several members of the opera chorus in song and dance. Special numbers were presented by Miss Eugenia Smith, violinist, and Miss Helen McFarland, reader—both of the municipal opera—and Miss Marjorie Lampkin of Mississippi, who played the banjo and sang songs of her own composition.

American Retailers' Association Opens Second Annual Convention.

The second annual convention of the American Retailers' Association, formed last year in St. Louis, opened today in the City Club auditorium. About 1000 members, chiefly merchants from St. Louis' trade territory, were present.

Today's sessions were devoted to an "educational program," for the discussion of trade matters. Speakers and the subjects for today: Ben Allen of Washington, Ind., "The Retailer—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow"; J. H. Carter of Mound City, Mo., "Developing Loyalty Among the Employes"; Fred W. Andersen, Cozad, Neb., "Building a $300,000 Business in a Town of 1300"; Ed V. Williams, Springfield, Mo., "Half a Century of Retailing and Still Going"; Dr. Stanley L. Krebs of New York, "Selling More Goods Over the Counter"; R. A. Thompson of Sullivan, Ind., "Developing the Community Idea"; C. E. Williams, St. Louis, "Moving Slow-Selling Merchandise," and A. J. Kruse, superintendent of the St. Louis Retailers' Credit Bureau, "Solving the Retailer's Credit Problems."

The formal sessions of the convention will be concluded today. Actually, however, the convention will continue until next Monday night, the remainder of the program being devoted to entertainment. The visitors will be engaged in making purchases and inspecting stocks in the daytime, and will be entertained each night at the Fashion Pageant, which opens tonight at the Municipal Theater.

I. C. C. TO ISSUE ORDERS FOR IMPROVED AIR BRAKES

Action Is Deferred Until Specifications Are Completed and Form of Ruling Decided.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. — Improvements in the operation and maintenance of airbrakes for passenger and freight cars are necessary, the Interstate Commerce Commission ruled today.

It was specified that the enginemen should have better control over service and emergency application of the brakes, and that a power brake system should provide means whereby the enginemen might apply the brakes in emergency immediately following a full service brake application and also following a release after a full service brake application.

The case before the commission involved the attempt of the Automatic Straight Airbrake Co. to have a new type of brake authorized for all railroads. It was fought by railroads and the Westinghouse and the New York Airbrake Cos.

The case was held open to give consideration to full specifications to include the improvements held to be necessary and to the form of order to be issued.

Woman Treated for Poisoning.

Mrs. Maggie Eiseman, 23 years old, of 2622A Pestalozzi street, was taken to city hospital last night to be treated for poisoning. Police reported she was talking to her husband, Curtis, when she went to a shelf and started to take the poison. Her husband attempted to take it from her but she succeeded in swallowing a small quantity.

PANAMA CANAL WILL HAVE SERVED 10 YEARS AUG. 15

25,000 Ships Will Have Passed Through Its Locks in Decade, Marine Superintendent Estimates.

EARNS $2,000,000 A MONTH IN TOLLS

Increased Traffic of Future May Be Handled by Enlargements or by Digging Nicaraguan Canal.

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Aug. 7.—Elaborate plans have been completed by Americans at the Canal Zone to celebrate on Aug. 15 the tenth anniversary of the official opening of the Panama Canal. The Canal officials and the public are determined to make the celebration one of the red letter days of Canal history, for the opening of the Canal, just at the beginning of the World War, has proved to be one of the most important events in the history of commerce and transportation.

After 10 years of persistent fighting against enormous handicaps, American skill saw a canal sufficiently completed on Aug. 15, 1914, to permit the steamship "Ancon" to pass through the locks and along the channel from ocean to ocean, thus "opening" the canal to traffic under official auspices. This shop, the Ancon, was the first of a great procession of ships which have cut thousands of miles from pre-canal routes by passing through this vital trade artery.

Capt. Ashur W. Hinds, U. S. N., now marine superintendent of the canal, estimates that by the anniversary date, more than 25,000 ships will have followed the historic Ancon in what is now an endless line of water-borne goods, representing 25 per cent of all the marine traffic of the world. Moreover, the Captain states, when the financial chaos of Europe is settled and trade in that part of the world is once more normal, the transits through the canal will be increased to stupendous proportions; in fact, to such proportions that steps must be taken to meet the demands by increasing the existing facilities of the canal if not by building another canal along the Nicaraguan route.

$24,000,000 Yearly Toll.

In 1915, 1076 ships passed through the canal; in 1923, there were 3967, while during the first quarter of 1924 the traffic had increased to such an extent that Capt. Hinds' estimates for annual transits up to 1970 are being exceeded for the current period so materially that his figures must be revised, bringing nearer the time when the canal's capacity must be enlarged. And so heavy have been the increases in tolls, from $4,367,550 in 1915 to $17,-508,199 in 1923, that Col. J. J. Morrow, Governor of the Canal Zone, predicts that further increases in tolls will pay for the necessary enlargements of the waterway by the time they are needed without costing the American taxpayers an additional dollar.

Based on present tolls, which amounted to $2,000,000 in May of this year, Col. Morrow states that 24 to 25 millions yearly may be expected for the next semi-decade, about two-thirds of which will be net profit, on which basis his predictions appear to be sound.

Capt. Hinds has made available his estimates for increase of traffic and his recommendations for the changes in the canal property necessary to cope with the expansion as it comes. His estimates are based on the past history of the canal and the traffic statistics of the Suez Canal, plus the economic conditions throughout the world. He finds that his estimates for monthly tolls during 1925, namely, 430 transits each month, are already being equalled.

Captain Hinds' figures for the monthly rate of transits are as follows: 1930, 540 ships a month; 1940, 760 ships a month; 1950, 990 a month; 1960, 1210 a month; 1970, 1430 a month, but there is no doubt that these estimates are conservative and will be exceeded long ahead of the dates set down.

Enlargements to Be Made.

To cope with such a gigantic fleet as that estimated by Captain Hinds, it will be necessary to install an auxiliary steam plant for producing electricity to reduce the wastage of water now required for power plant purposes! a new storage dam must be built on the Alhajuela River to control and husband the flood water emptying into the Chagres River; another storage reservoir near the locks on the Pacific side; and further, another set of locks of great length must be provided to accommodate ships of large size. The old locks are 1000 feet long, not long enough to safely operate with vessels more than 900 feet long, such as our own Leviathan, 950 feet over all, or the British Majestic, even longer.

Even these changes will be in the nature of temporary relief, Capt. Hinds states, and in the end we must have another canal.

This being the case, there has been recent agitation in Washington for the revival of the Nicaraguan Canal project, chiefly on the score of military and naval necessities, one canal being considered inadequate in wartime. The Panama Canal, according to military and naval authorities, is vulnerable particularly from air attacks, and there are no really adequate defensive vestibules, in the shape of outlying islands and headlands, at either end of the "big ditch."

Urges Nicaraguan Canala.

That the Nicaraguan Canal would give added security is undoubedly true, Capt. Hinds says, and he advocates that our Government immediately take steps to build a canal across Central America along the Nicaraguan route. It will take years to do this, but when finished, such a canal would take up the excess traffic of the Panama Canal, making changes in that waterway unnecessary, at the same time, our fleets would have the insurance of two means of passage from ocean to ocean, while the Nicaraguan Canal could be adequately defended by fortifications on the Corn Islands in the Caribbean and on the Bay of Fonseca on the West Coast.

Such a course would discard the Buneau-Varilla scheme for a sea-level canal at Panama, which would cost $1,000,000,000 probably more than the cost of the Nicaraguan canal, and, too, a sea-level canal would be as vulnerable to enemy attack as the present canal. Another factor in favor of the Nicaraguan waterway is found in the economical advantages brought about by the shorter route between our Atlantic and Pacific coasts and from our Gulf States to the Pacific. Still more advantageous would be the trade developed among the Central American States now that they are being served by the International Railway system which opens up a rich territory heretofore untapped. This would add tolls of impressive magnitude.

Problem Will Solve Itself.

With this factor taken into consideration, and the surety of continued increases in tolls through the Panama Canal by expansion of trade along the Western coast of South America, there would be adequate profits to make both canals a paying proposition.

In fact, profits from the present canal would be available for building the new one, and it is believed that by the end of 20 years, which it is estimated is the time required to build the Nicarauguan project and fortify it, the problem will have solved itself as far as the costs are concerned, due to increased traffic and developing trade in those parts of the world served by an Isthmian Canal.

Sentiment among the Americans here at the Canal Zone is, of course, for the expansion of the Panama Canal's facilities, but Capt. Hind's estimates and recommendations are known to be correct and, while technical, are economically sound. In any event, there is a real national problem in connection with the future of the canal, and one which adds to the impressive importance of its tenth birthday as a vital factor in the world's trade.

Says Japan Does Not Need American Mission Board

Nippon Teacher Declares Christianity in Country Is Degraded as Result of Help Received From the United States.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

TOKYO.—Christianity in Japan is degraded as a result of help received from American mission boards, according to three prominent Japanese Christians who have been indignant over the recent passage of the anti-Japanese immigration bill of America.

The three men who are hailing the exclusion bill as an opportunity for Christians in this country to break away from American mission board aid are Kanzo Uchimura, Rev. Kodo Ozaki of the Reinanzaka Church and Rev. Masahisa Uemura, president of the Tokyo Theological Seminary.

Uchimura has been a unique figure in Christian missionary work and his attack and criticism of Americans comes as no surprise. He has been doing his work in this country independently since 1880.

In his verbal attack he said that "the Christian religion was originally an Oriental religion and the Japanese can understand it better than the American people."

Considered Offer an Insult.

"It is a shame," he said, "for Japanese to engage in Christian missionary work in Japan aided by material assistance from America. In 1880 when the American Methodist Mission Board offered me work as a missionary on certain conditions, I took it as an insult to the Japanese nation and rejected the offer.

"This spirit towards American mission boards is evident in the heart of every Japanese Christian worker, but some of the churches have been degraded and degenerated by the effect of the vast amount of money the American mission boards scatter in this country. As a result, preachers of those churches have become hypocritical and preach in the interest of America.

"There are more than 800 missionaries in Japan under the protection of America, and American mission boards have been spending many millions of dollars for their maintenance. If the people unconnected with Christian affairs learned how the money is spent they would be surprised. When American material assistance is cut off and preachers who preach for a financial consideration disappear from the scene there will be a birth of national unity for the Christian religion. From this point of view the anti-Japanese legislation is a great benefit to the Christian churches in Japan.

300,000 Christians in Japan.

"It is said that there are 300-000 Christians in Japan and they are capable of digesting the Christian religion better than our forefathers absorbed Buddhaism. Not all American preachers are bad. Some of them are very good and preach the true teaching of God, unlike many American missionaries. But if the missionary work be let alone as it is it will degrade and ruin the Japanese community all the more. Such a fear has been lurking in the heart of every intelligent person."

And in concluding he said: "It is infinitely gratifying that the anti-Japanese legislation has hastened the opportunity to reform missionary work. I think the Japanese churches will be better off financially after they are freed from American control."

GRANDSON OF QUEENSBERRY IS PROPRIETOR OF LAUNDRY

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 16.—Although the occupations of members of the peerage are many and varied nowadays, Lord Cecil Douglas has shocked the others of his class by opening a laundry under his own name. Lord Cecil is a brother of the Marquis of Queensberry and the interest which his vusiness venture has aroused has already been gratifying to the cashier of the establishment.

The members of the Queensberry family have always been noted for their versatility. Lord Cecil's father emigrated to America where he worked on various newspapers; his uncle Lord Alfred Douglas was editor of "Plain English"; a great uncle entered the priesthood, another uncle was a hotel owner, and his grandfather was a patron of boxing and author of the famous "Queensberry Rules."

PARIS SHOPPING NOW MEANS A FRANC HUNT

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, July 20.—Shopping, of course, is what the feminine tourist in Paris is most interested in. The American woman's trip abroad is just one shop after another.

But you'd never guess what she shops for most ardently in Paris. No, not dresses, nor hats, nor lingerie, nor furs.

It's francs.

"What is the rate today?" asks Mrs. Shopper as she stops in at the bank in the morning before her daily rounds of the dressmakers. "What! Only 19.25! Why, the paper this morning was 19.40."

"That was yesterday's closing rate, madame."

"Oh, dear. Well, I hate to do it, but I must have some money for lunch. Will you change this $20 bill, please? Or no—wait—I'll just take $10 worth now, and come in again this afternoon. Perhaps it will be higher."

A nice old lady who is traveling with her daughter and two nieces has two five-dollar bills and a two.

"What is the rate, please?'

"Nineteen twenty-five, madam."

"Now let me see—would that be 100 francs for five dollars?"

"Not quite. It would be 96.25."

Keeping Gifts Separate.

"What a pity! You see the father of my two nieces sent them each five dollars, and my sister sent two dollars to my daughter for her birthday. I don't like to give them odd amounts. Dear me! well I suppose it can't be helped. Will you change this five dollar bill first, and then this one, and then the two-dollar bill?"

"No, just take one at a time or I'll get them all mixed up. • • • Well, all right, if you will be sure to keep the amounts separate. I'll tell you—put the change of each bill in a separate envelope. Mark one, 'To Betty from Dad,' and the other five-dollar bill, 'To Grace from Dad,' and the change of the two-dollar bill, 'To Elizabeth from Aunt Caroline, with many happy returns of the day.' You'd better make a note of it so as not to make any mistakes. But it's too bad the amounts don't come out even."

Another amiable lady wants to change a $50 check.

"What did you say? Nineteen twenty-five? Why, I just inquired not 20 minutes ago at the Bankers' Trust across the street and they were giving 19.27!" (The difference, on $50, would be exactly one franc.)

"Yes, madam," replies the Poor Bank Clerk, "and at the same moment we were giving 19.28. But the rate has declined a little in the last five minutes."

"Well, it's very peculiar, you never seem to give as much as the others."

Hope for Exchange Tips.

Most of the lady shoppers in Paris banks have a lingering hope that if they can get the teller into conversation he will be able to give them some valuable tips on the exchange. After all, being in the bank they ought to know more about it than anybody else.

"Do you think I'd better change my money today, or wait till tomorrow? It seems that every time I buy francs they go lower the next day, and every time I don't buy them they go higher. What do you think is going to happen next?"

"I really couldn't say, madame. Of course, there is a good chance that the francs will fall still further"——

"Well, that's what I was thinking. In that case it would be better to wait?"

"But, on the other hand, the French Government is understood to be trying to keep it as high as possible, and in that case, of course, it may rise."

"Yes, I see. That is what I have been afraid of. Well, I think I'll buy—let me see—I think I'll change $25 now and then come back again later. What time do you close?"

"Four o'clock."

"Is the franc usually higher or lower in the afternoon?"

"That depends, madam. Sometimes it is higher and sometimes lower."

"Oh, is that so? Then it may be lower? Well, I guess I'll wait. I don't really need the money today, but I'll come back again a little before four. Thank you so much. Good morning!"

The poor bank clerk's day has only begun.

LEAVES $100,000 ESTATE TO NEGRO HOUSEKEEPER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 7.—By the will of John T. Hughes, eccentric trotting horse breeder, who died here Monday, leaving an estate value at $250,000, Ellen Davis, his aged housekeeper, becomes the richest negro woman in Kentucky.

She will receive as her share of the estate the colonial home, near this city, together with 275 acres of fine bluegrass land surrounding it and all stock, crops and farming implements. This property is worth $100,000. Another aged negro, Alex Rankin, who worked for Hughes for years, was left a tract of 96 acres, valued at $20,000.

The largest cash bequest went to Robert H. McCreary of Chicago, nephew and son of former Gov. McCreary of Kentucky, who received $19,000. Robert McCreary's daughter, Mrs. Gatewood Gay, received $3,000. Several schools and churches came in for substantial bequests.

SAN FRANCISCO PLANS TO EXTEND HARBOR FRONT

Improvement Will Provide Site for Big Industrial Expansion—Government Must Approve.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The water front of San Francisco will be extended 20 miles for the development of a great industrial section if the Government approves plans for dredging a deep-water ship canal south from Hunter's Point, in San Francisco, to Ravenswood in San Mateo County.

It is planned to reclaim 20,000 acres of tide lands for industrial sites. The land would be reclaimed through use of the dredged earth.

Government aid has been asked only for the channel. The reclamation and wharfage improvements are to be undertaken by private interests, with the State and counties involved. The entire project will involve millions of dollars.

San Francisco has a water front that is owned and operated by the public.

The city at present has 15 miles of berthing space for vessels, with 5,000,000 square feet of cargo area. The new facilities are intended to more than double the harbor space.

125 Acres Produce Big Yield—Fine Quality.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BIXBY, Ok.—The cantaloupe crop at Bixby this year was one of the largest in the State and of the finest quality in the Southwest.

About 125 acres of rich bottom land near Bixby were planted in cantaloupes this year. The entire cantaloupe crop was contracted for by J. W. C. Bell of Durant, who also contracted for similar crops at Pittsbug and Ardmore, Ok.

Adopts Second Abandoned Baby.

OLYMPIA, Ky.—Mrs. George Swartz received information that a 6-months'-old baby wrapped in a newspaper had been left on the doorstep of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Pierce at Montgomery, W. Va., and had been adopted as the second foster son of the family. A note with the babe stated that $20 a month would be sent to pay for the child's care.

KENTUCKIAN TO CELEBRATE 100TH BIRTHDAY IN SEPTEMBER

John McGuire Spanked on First Wedding Day, Has 11 Great-Grandchildren.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEXINGTON, Ky.—With children, grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren invited to be present "Uncle John McGuire," of English, Carroll County, Ky., northeast of here, is preparing to celebrate his one hunderth birthday on Sept. 25.

"Uncle John" is hale and hearty. He was born at Westport, Ky., his father being a native of Ireland and his mother of German ancestry. They came to the United States in a sailing vessel, his father operating a freighter on the Mississippi, between Louisville and New Orleans, for many years.

McGuire recalls that his mother spanked him on his wedding day, using a clapboard to administer the punishment. She asked him, he said, to cut some wood and he was so enamored of his bride that he refused to leave her to comply with the parental request. He was then 17 years old.

"Uncle John" has been married three times and is the father of 16 children, three by his first wife and 13 by his second wife. His third wife, who is now living, is 84 years old. He has outlived all but two of his children, but has left more than a score of grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. He served in the Civil War and was wounded twice. He expresses the hope that he will be able to exceed the longevity of Uncle John Shell, another Kentuckian, who died at the advanced age of 134.

PRISONER OF BULGARIAN POLICE REFUSES TO TALK

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

SOFIA, July 13.—The Department of Public Safety of Bulgaria is doing its best to pierce the anonymity and effect the capture of the leaders of a new organization that has been partially successful in its efforts to collect illegal revenue from banks, firms and individuals.

The name of this organization, which is collecting money in large sums, is "The Unknown Soldiers." A bank, firm or individual receives notice from this blackmailing band that it is expected to contribute, for charitable purposes, so much a month, in sums varying from 200 to 2000 leva. Such notification is sent by mail, on paper bearing the caption "The Unknown Soldiers," and the details of delivering the money are clearly given.

Following certain visible clews, the police recently arrested a young man about 25 years old. But the progress of their endeavors is barred, for theprisonerwillnotutter barred, for the prisoner will not utter a single word.

REAPPEARS AFTER NINE YEARS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SHENANDOAH, Ia. — Alvin Moore, 32, who has been employed at Olathe, Kan., appeared in Page County just in time to refuse to be declared legally dead. Notices have been appearing in newspapers for several weeks that if he was not heard from, his part in an estate would go to other heirs. It had been nine years since word was received from him. His father, John Moore, of Shell City, Mo., and himself will get the estate unless a brother and sister yet missing are found. It has been 10 years since relatives heard from them.

OKLAHOMA LOOKS INTO PROMOTION SCHEMES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok. — The State Issues Commission has inaugurated a drive on promoters who have violated the blue sky law. Charles N. Harmon, attorney for the commission, has been directed to tour the State to obtain evidence, and it looks as though hundreds of prosecutions may result.

At the same time Secretary Lewis Terry has asked every County Clerk to send him names and addresses of trustees named in trust agreements filed with the Clerks. The Attorney-General has held that trust concerns are amenable to the blue sky law in the sale of their stock or units the same as corporations and partnerships. The agreements are buried in Clerks' offices, Terry says, and neither the Issues Commission nor the public has had access to them. Flagrant violations of the law have been carried on by operators under trust agreements, Terry says. Harmon will run them down and prosecute all who are complained against.

Complaints come in daily to Harmon from investors who have been fleeced by "fly-by-night" stock salesmen and promoters. These complaints are regularly investigated and forced return of the fleeced investor's money often results. In many cases, criminal prosecutions will result.

Harmon's investigation also will extend to all corporations that have been chartered since the Issues Commission was established that have not responded to the call of the commission for information required under the Blue Sky Law. There are hundreds of these. Terry believes that many of them have sold stock in open violation of the law.

In the letter to County Clerks, Terry recites that recently he saved an investor $10,000 by apprehending a salesman selling stock without authority. The salesman represented a manufacturing concern in a Southern state. He had obtained the application of a banker for stock in the concern to the amount of $10,000. Terry wired the Issues Commission of that State and was advised the concern was passing into voluntary bankruptcy that day.

Plant From Imperial Garden.

SEATTLE, Wash.—Included in cargo brought from Japan by the Toyooka Maru was a wooden box containing the roots of a rare species of iris, from the famous garden of the late Emperor Meiji. The oriental flower was addressed to Mrs. Cyrus E. Woods of Greensburg, Pa., wife of the former United States Ambassador to Japan. The iris is known as the Prince Ichijo.

Pershing to Review G. A. R.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Acceptance by General Pershing of an invitation to review the parade of the G. A. R. in connection with its annual encampment here next Tuesday, was announced at army headquarters today. General Pershing will arrive Tuesday morning.

BUILDS OWN YACHT TO TAKE VACATI

Missourian, After 40 Years of Hard Labor, to Cruise for Remainder of Life.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—After spending two score years in toil, Thomas Ross, an engineer, who is building a yacht, thinks it is time to take a vacation for life. Ross started to build his boat early last summer and making use of his spare moments he has succeeded in constructing a craft which few men could reproduce without assistance.

He is 59 years old and it is his intention to cruise about the rivers for the remainder of his days, fishing, hunting and enjoying the country, as he is a great nature lover. The White River, upper and lower Mississippi, the Ohio and tributary rivers will be visited.

The boat will draw but inches of water, eliminating almost entirely the danger of running aground. It also will be possible to visit the swampy countries. Every available space from bow to stern and from starboard to port, has been utilized in an effort to make the craft as comfortable and compact as possible. It is 30 by 10 feet with a 2-foot deck running around the cabin. It will be propelled by a stern wheel.

The pilot house, surmounting the cabin, is 5 by 4 feet. To the rear of the main cabin is the engine room, 10 by 7 feet, in which a Studebaker motor is being installed. As a general rule, motor car engines are not adaptable to power boats, but the vibration will be so small, according to the builder, that the engine will be more serviceable than a marine engine. In the engine room as reserve tank for the water supply has been placed.

The cabin of the boat is 10 by 14 feet, and a dozen novel devices are worthy of description. It has been fitted out with the elementary idea of conserving space and innumerable doors cover cubby holes for supplies. Even the steps have hinged tops that small articles can be stowed away in their depths.

Two built-in cushioned seats open into beds when needed. The mattresses are made of dried sea moss and it is the intention of the engineer to soak them in water each morning, expanding them several times their size, making a pallet. Running water and brilliant lights and a built-in kitchen cabinet are among the conveniences.

The boat is constructed of cypress and is finished in white and red paint. Two small port holes near the bow give a pleasing and seaward appearance. The entire cost is estimated at $1100.

"OPPORTUNITY SCHOOLS" OPEN

Arkansas Extends Educational Opportunities for Adults.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

EVENING SHADE, Ark.—"Opportunity schools" are being organized at various points in this section. The object is to enable adults who have had little or no school advantages in youth to obtain, at least, the fundamentals of a common school education. State workers, for the most part, have the schools in charge, although some are taught at night by teachers of the rural "day schools." Children are also admitted, and it is not uncommon to see parents and children finish a course together.

Even the steps have hinged tops that small articles can be stowed away in their depths.

Two built-in cushioned seats open into beds when needed. The mattresses are made of dried sea moss and it is the intention of the engineer to soak them in water each morning, expanding them several times their size, making a pallet. Running water and brilliant lights and a built-in kitchen cabinet are among the conveniences.

The boat is constructed of cypress and is finished in white and red paint. Two small port holes near the bow give a pleasing and seaward appearance. The entire cost is estimated at $1100.

"OPPORTUNITY SCHOOLS" OPEN

Arkansas Extends Educational Opportunities for Adults.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

EVENING SHADE, Ark.—"Opportunity schools" are being organized at various points in this section. The object is to enable adults who have had little or no school advantages in youth to obtain, at least, the fundamentals of a common school education. State workers, for the most part, have the schools in charge, although some are taught at night by teachers of the rural "day schools." Children are also admitted, and it is not uncommon to see parent and children finish a course together.

BRITISH 'FAGS' IN TIN BOXES OUTSELL U. S. MAKE IN INDIA

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—British "fags" find a ready market in India, while American cigarettes go begging, merely because English manufacturers pack their products in vacuum tins, Consul Keblinger of Bombay has reported to the Commerce Department.

"The British manufacturer usually packs his cigarettes in tins of 50 and 100," Keblinger reported. "These tins are sealed in a vacuum and are provided with an easy contrivance for opening. The American cigarettes are now supplied in similarly packed tins, but are not sealed in a vacuum, and dealers claim that the quality of the cigarettes quickly deteriorates."

Imports of cigarettes through the port of Bombay for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1924, were valued at $1,276,560, of which Great Britain furnished $1,196,158 and the United States $29,704, Keblinger said. These cigarettes were mostly of British manufacture and known to the trade as "Virginia cigarettes," although a small quantity made of Turkish tobacco was also imported.

"During and immediately following the war, American cigarettes were smoked in this district because of the scarcity of English cigarettes, but when the English article became abundant the American cigarettes practically disappeared from the market," the report said. "The reason for this abandonment of the American cigarette was not because of the superior quality of the English make or its cheapness in price, but was almost entirely due to the failure on the part of American manufacturers to pack their product in a manner suitable for a tropical climate and in accordance with the wishes of the trade of the country.

"Since practically all of the tobacco used in the manufacture of English cigarettes of the Virginia type is produced in the United States, it is reasonable to suppose that American manufacturers could produce a similar cigarette as cheaply as the British manufacturer."

U.S. WINNING THRILLING RACE FOR SILK TRADE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

The course is 8300 miles. Swiftest steamships, special trains for which speed limits are waived, seaplanes and airplanes participate. But there is no cheering crowd in the stands, because every mile of the race is concealed with the closest secrecy. The stakes are millions.

In 1918, 81 per cent of the United States' huge silk imports from Japan came in foreign steamers, but within two years steamers flying the American flag in the Pacific have obtained an important share of this valuable trade. Why silk is rushed from Yokohama to New York at break-neck speed, outdistancing the best passenger service, and the details of this contest against time, are told in the following bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society from its headquarters at Washington, D. C.:

"Excepting gold and silver bullion, silk probably is the most precious commodity, weight for weight, carried on a large scale by commerce. A single special train will bring $5,000,000 worth of silk. Just as it costs dearly to ship money, high charges are put on silk shipments. The saving of two days' sailing time between Yokohama and Seattle is said to make a difference of 50 cents a bale at New York. Interest on the millions of dollars tied up multiplies at the rate of thousands of dollars a day and, in addition, there is costly insurance. In the silk trade time literally is money.

New Silk Course Record.

"The world's record on the Yokohama—New York silk course was set up a few months ago when the Orient was brought within 13 days, 3 hours and 8 minutes of Manhattan. Laden with $5,500,000 worth of raw silk, the President Jackson made Seattle on the ninth day. A United States mail seaplane met the liner at Victoria and winged its way to Seattle, 100 miles away. It brought port documents and forwarded cargo papers to New York before the President steamship docked.

"Special port forces moved the rich consignment in three hours to a special silk train waiting with steam up. The swift Oriental Limited passenger trains take 70 hours to reach Chicago; the 'reefer,' as the silk special is known to railroaders, makes it in 65 hours. Twelve cars were required for the President Jackson cargo. With the silk goes a heavy cordon of train guards armed to the teeth. When the treasure train safely reaches New York the shipment is divided quickly among the consignees for storage in warehouses or dispatched to mills in such famous silk towns as Paterson, N. J., or Woonsocket, R. I.

"Few people know when the 'reefer' is on the rails. Like a ship of war, it virtually runs under sealed orders. Railroad divisions seldom know when it is coming or where it is going until it and orders arrive.

Will Use Air Mail.

"The previous speed record for silk shipments was made when the President Grant landed a $10,000,000 consignment at Seattle. The 'reefer' brought this into New York in 13 days, 4 hours and 55 minutes out of Yokohama. Night air mail will be a boon to these New York silk merchants. Before silk shipments can be released many papers must be approved and inspected. Seattle has one of the two seaplane mail services in the United States, hence the silk will suffer no delay. Night air mail will hasten dispatch of silk shipment papers to New York so there will be no slip when the dusty 'reefer' reaches the Hudson.

"Although silk culture originated in China, the United States looks to Japan for most of this raw material. American mills are weaving nearly 50,000,000 pounds of raw silk annually of which about 80 per cent comes from Japanese mulberry orchards. The little silk worm brings to the Far Eastern peoples more than $300,000,000 from the United States alone.

"Queen Silk's throne is as solid as the year it was set up by a Chinese Princess, centuries before the birth of Christ. The Western World began to worship her when the Crusaders went to the East 'to kill the horned devils and returned to imitate the fine gentlemen they found there.' The merchants of Venice, thriving on the West's new knowledge, like the merchants of New York today, guarded Queen Silk well; this single city-state built 300 men-of-war to convoy its silk fleets."

SHAPE OF RAIN DROPS DESCRIBED BY SCIENTIST

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, July 14.—What is the shape of a rain drop? is a question which lately has been discussed at length by German scientists. It isn't exactly round, and to this they all agree.

Jaul Javoy, chief engineer of the Zeppelin works here where the ZR-3 is nearing completion for its delivery flight to Lakehurst, N. J., has taken moving pictures of rain drops which he says show that they are flat on the top and on the bottom due to pressure of the air, while the sides are convex. In other words according to Engineer Javoy, falling rain drops as to form might be compared with an apple placed in a press and flattened on its top and bottom to about half its ordinary height.

BERLINERS LIKE EXCURSIONS

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 28.—The German railroads have arranged, during the summer vacation season, a number of special excursions to Munich, the Baltic watering places, the Harz Mountains, Hamburg and Bremen. The rates are one-half the regular fares.

So popular are these trips that, at the Anhalter station, hundreds of people arrive the night before the opening of the excursion ticket sale, armed with camp chairs and food. Thus they sat until 9 o'clock the next morning, when the offices opened and the scramble for tickets began.

PAVING BID 33 PCT. BELOW ESTIMATE

Low Price Job Is for Paving of Alsace Avenue—Seven Other Bids Received.

The fight for business among paving contractors, which was precipitated several months ago by protests against a specification for Willite process on one-fourth of the paving program for this year in St. Louis, is still on, as shown by a bid of the Webb-Kunze Construction Co. today. The bid was 33 per cent under the estimate of city engineers. Heretofore, as a rule, bids have considerably exceeded estimates.

The job that got a low price today was the paving with straight asphalt of Alsace avenue from Euclid avenue to Kingshighway Memorial boulevard. The bid was $9641, or $4799 under the estimate.

Bids also were received for seven Willite process jobs, amounting to $214,100, which exceeded the estimates 8 per cent. The Central Paving Co., which hitherto had been a successful bidder for most of the Willite jobs, did not bid today, and the Brighton Construction Co., was low bidder.

The Willite jobs were: Devonshire avenue, from Macklind to Hampton, $43,878.45, or 5 per cent above estimates; Fyler avenue, from Watson Road to Ivanhoe avenue, $38,672.15, or 20 per cent above estimates; St. Louis avenue, from Broadway to Fifteenth street, $47,590.65, or 13 per cent above estimates; Tenth street, from Park avenue to Hickory street, $17,492.95, or 2 per cent above estimates; Utah street, from Russell Place to Bent avenue, $28,987.10, or 8 per cent above estimates; Folsom avenue, from Grand Boulevard to Thurman avenue, $47,422.75, or 2 per cent above estimates, and Spring avenue, from Forest Park boulevard, to Laclede avenue, $8,578.20, or 15 per cent above estimates.

Bids also were opened for four bitulithic jobs, all of which were over the estimates. They were: Saloma avenue, from Wren avenue to Partridge street, $35,229.25; Varrelmann avenue, from Itaska street to the south line of Newport Heights, $6213.45; Virginia avenue from Courtois street, to Malt street, $81,096.10; Walsh street, from Gravois avenue to a line 95 feet east of Steffens avenue, $39,924.90.

"CAN TOWN," A VILLAGE WITHOUT LAWS, HAS MAYOR

Executive of Fishing Settlement in Illinois Enforces His Edicts With His Fists.

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, Ill., Aug. 7.—"Can Town, the "village without a law," on the Mississippi River, near this city, now has a Mayor, who rules the little body of fishermen with an iron hand.

True, the Mayor, John Caranahan, is self-styled, and a king in name only. But he is Can Town's biggest man, physically, mentally and politically, and few dare dispute his rule. Several protesters to the Caranahan rule have met with the Caranahan fists, it is said, and no more objections were filed with "his honor, the Mayor."

Can Town, a fishing village in Southern Illinois, is situated on the Mississippi River, a few miles from here. The town is composed mostly of rows and rows of "shanty boats," with an occasional group of small cottages near the river's edge. Few people from "outside" visit Can Town, and a very few people of Can Town go far from their native shanty boats.

It is over this small village that "Mayor" Caranahan rules, distributes orders for regularity and cleanliness and straightens out the ethical problems in the quickest and most forceful way. Besides holding the position of Mayor, Caranahan is king of fishermen in Can Town, as well as for other fishing villages for miles around. He catches and sells more fish than anyone in the vicinity.

TURKS EXPEL AMERICAN COLLEGE HISTORY PROFESSOR

Instructor in Institution in Constantinople Accused of Indulging in Propaganda.

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 7.—Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, professor of history in Robert College here, has been expelled from Turkey.

Prof. Fisher was accused of having indulged in anti-Turkish propaganda on board a tourist steamer here recently. The Governor-General of Constantinople requested the principal of Robert College to send the professor away. The principal at first refused, but as the authorities threatened to close the college, he was compelled to comply with their demands.

Robert College is an American institution. Prof. Fisher is a native of New Jersey.

Democracy of Danish King.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, July 30.—The King of Denmark is a truly Democratic King and much dislikes pomp and ceremony of any kind. On his first visit in London, some years ago it was suggested to him that the Danish colony would prepare a great program of entertainments, but he demurred. "Do not let us have entertainments," he said, "I should prefer to meet every Dane in London and have a few words with each." And so he did. It was at one of these informal interviews that he told a young Danish waiter, "Your firm's shares are well worth having. Save your money and buy the business."

AERIAL CIRCUS TO BE HELD SUNDAY AT SCOTT FIELD

All Kinds of Aircraft Will Be Used to Provide Thrills for Benefit of Army Relief Fund—Planes Will Stage Race.

Sunday afternoon and evening, starting at 2 p. m., a comprehensive aerial exhibition by army flyers will be given at Scott Field, the army's chief lighter-than-air station, which is about 25 miles east of St. Louis. Airplanes, airships, balloons and airmen will unite in providing thrills.

The exhibition is an annual affair, such as all army air fields give, for the benefit of the Army Relief Fund. An admission charge of 50 cents will be made, and box seats on the flying field, including admission, will be $1; reservations for the latter may be made by telephoning Major John Duckworth, Belleville 1500.

A new all-concrete route to the field will be opened by Sunday. The route, which will be marked for the occasion, is out State street, East St. Louis, to the end of pavement; south a bock to Lake drive, east to the bluffs, north to Main street, Belleville; east through the center of Belleville to the Mascoutah road (route 15), turning from this road to a new pavement leading to the field. Refreshment stands will be in place there for the occasion.

McKee to Be in Charge.

First Lieutenant Frank M. McKee, airship pilot, will be in general charge of the exhibition, under Lieutenant-Colonel John A. Paegelow, commandant of the field.

A new lighter-than-air ship will be flown publicly for the first time. It is the TC-5, a sister ship to the large TC-3, which has become familiar to St. Louisans. The new craft, unlike the older one, has an enclosed car.

A novel event promised is the direction of these two ships and a smaller one, TA-2, from the ground by radio. Lieut. McKee will transmit navigation orders to the crews in the air and his orders will be heard by the crowd through the medium of a loud speaker, which will be used for various announcements also.

One of the most interesting events for the heavier-than-air planes will be a race of two new machines rated to have a normal speed of 165 miles an hour. These are a Curtiss pursuit craft, to be flown by Lieutenant Alex Pearson, and a Boeine pursuit plane, to be piloted by Lieutenant E. A. Barksdale. The race will be three times around a 15-mile triangular course with the field, Mascoutah and Lebanon for turns.

40 Planes to Take Part.

About 40 planes are expected to take part, coming from various posts. Lieut. W. H. Brookley will do sky-writing with a Voight and at night will drop fireworks. There will be a De Haviland with its motor upside down, a position said to allow development of more power than the normal. Lieut. Phillips of Kelly Field hopes to fly his remarkable tiny airplane, "The Fly," with a 22-foot wingspread, to the exhibition. The craft has a three-cylinder Lawrence motor, makes 85 miles an hour and uses only five and a half gallons of gasoline per hour.

Capt. Arthur B. McDaniels of Kelly Field will demonstrate smoke-screen production from the air in a special De Haviland. Parachute jumping stunts will include the drop of three men at a time from a Martin bomber. An old balloon will be burned in the air after its pilot jumps to safety in a parachute and a captive balloon will be bombed. Illuminated planes will fly in the evening. Five balloons will take off in a race to make the greatest possible distance in 10 hours.

When the program opens all the craft taking part will pass in review before the spectators.

ARKANSAS DEMOCRATS WILL MAKE NOMINATIONS TUESDAY

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 7.—With six candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the field, Arkansas Democrats will go to the polls August 12 to choose a nominee to succeed Gov. Thomas C. McRae, who has declined to run for a third term.

Nomination in the Democratic primary in this state usually is equivalent to election, with the general elections usually a formality. There is prospect, however, of more interest in the general election this year because John A. Riggs, editor of a Hot Springs newspaper, has announced as an independent Democrat, if the winner in the primary does not meet with his approval.

The chief issues to be stressed during the campaign have been economy and retrenchment in state expenditures, additional financial aid for the public school system and construction of a state highway system.

The candidates in the gubernatorial race are: Lee Cazort of Lamar, former Speaker of the House and former President of the Senate; Jim G. Ferguson of Marshall, now completing his third term as commissioner of mines, manufactures and agriculture; Senator Jacob R. Wilson, of El Dorado, President of the Senate at the last regular session; Tom J. Terrall of El Dorado, former Secretary of State; John E. Martineau of Little Rock, Judge of the First Chancery District, and Hamp Williams of Hot Springs, Federal Food Administrator for Arkansas during the war.

Besides a Governor, all elective State and county officers are to be nominated at the August primary. Senator Joseph T. Robinson is a candidate for nomination for another term, without opposition. Congressman W. J. Driver of the First District; Otis Wingo, Fourth District; James B. Reed, Sixth, are unopposed, while the incumbents in the other four districts are opposed by from one or two aspirants.

HIGH PORT COSTS HURT TRADE

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, July 31.—Higher port charges in England than those on the continent are handicapping trade severely, it was declared at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. One speaker said that British goods were severely handicapped in overseas markets by the difference between the freight rates at British and continental ports.

F. Russell Roberts, secretary of the Liverpool Steamship Owners' Association, said there was a difference of about three shillings a ton in port and handling charges between Liverpool and Hamburg, Antwerp, Amsterdam and Rotterdam. In the continental ports men worked longer hours at cheaper rates. Unless workmen could be brought to see that the cost of services rendered and goods manufactured must be brought within the reach of the purchaser, trade was bound to leave the country, he declared.

Berlin Hotel Business Declines.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 28.—The steady decrease in hotel guests during May, June and July, this year, has alarmed the hotel keepers, who say that the situation is due to the 15 per cent special tax on hotel rooms. Berlin is the only large German city that still exacts this tax. In previous years there was a steady increase of hotel guests during these months.

Hornsby Hits Home Run With Smith On; Haines in the Box

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—The Cardinals closed their series here with the Braves by winning this afternoon in the final game, thus departing with three victories in four contests.

The score was 6 to 2.

On the Boston side of the sketch the hurling role was assumed by Genewich.

In Brooklyn tomorrow the Cards start a series of five games.

Two of these will be played Sunday, Tuesday's game having been moved up.

The game:

FIRST INNING.

CARDINALS—J. Smith walked and stole second while Gibson held the ball. Holm sent a long fly to Wilson, J. Smith taking third. Hornsby hit to right center for a home run, scoring J. Smith ahead of him. Bottomley doubled to right. Blades dropped a double in right, Bottomley stopped at third. Cooney hit to Padgett and Bottomley was out at the plate, Padgett to Gibson. An attempted double steal failed and Blades was out at the plate, Gibson to Tierney to Gibson. TWO RUNS.

BOSTON—Wilson flied to Blades. Padgett walked. Stengel hit into a doubleplay, Hornsby to Cooney to Bottomley. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

Miriam Burns Beats Miss Pep In Second Round

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7. — Miriam Burns of Kansas City successfully defended her title in the women's Western golf championship through another round today by defeating Virginia Pep, of St. Louis, 4 and 3.

Edith Cummings, national champion, handily survived the second round also, by defeating Virginia Gittens, of Greenbay, Wis., 5 and 4. Virginia Wilson, of Chicago, eliminated Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Wisconsin champion, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Dave Gaut, of Memphis, improved her game as she went along, and finishing with a string of four fours, defeated Catherine Walsh, of Grand Beach, Mich., 5 and 4. Mrs. F. C. Letts, former champion, was eliminated by Dorothy Klotz in a 19-hole contest. Neither Mrs. Letts nor Mrs. Klotz did very well, both of them being especially bad on the second 9.

Two Stars to Notre Dame.

By the Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 7.—Two football stars at St. Thomas College here will enter Notre Dame this fall, it became known today.

They are George Conroy, end on the Cadet eleven for the last three years, and "Bill" Nolan, guard and tackle. Conroy also played on the St. Thomas hockey team as well as with the St. Paul Athletic Club team of the United States Amateur Hockey League.

St. Louis Tennis Players Favored In Detroit Event

Drewes and Heuerman Conceded Chance in Municipal Singles and Doubles.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 7. — St. Louis tennis players have an excellent chance to bring home both singles and doubles titles of the national municipal tennis tournament which is being played here on the fine clay courts of the Detroit Tennis Club this week.

No matches were played yesterday, because of rain, so that the initial contests are scheduled for completion today.

Ted Drewes is considered among the favorites to win in the singles, while he and Ted Heuermann loom up as one of the most formidable combinations that are battling for doubles honors.

No "Seeded" Players.

No players were "seeded" in either the singles or doubles draws. This resulted in a rather unfortunate state of affairs in the singles, as Cranston Holman, the 1923 champion, and the general favorite to again annex the title, will be pitted against Drewes, another one of the strong players in the second round.

They must, of course, win their first encounters. But Holman is counted an easy winner over Rycroft of New Bedford, Mass., while Drewes is also expected to take the verdict in his affair with Butler of Providence, R. I.

Many net fans are predicting that the winner of the Holman-Drewes encounter will win the singles championship.

Neither has been seen in actual championship play, but the dope points to these two as the logical contenders for the singles championship.

St. Louis Favored in Doubles.

It is hard to conceive of any of the other doubles teams winning over Heuermann and Drewes. Heuermann, paired with Elmer Schwarz last year, won the championship in doubles.

Heuermann is a wonderful doubles player. Teamed with Drewes, the pair won the St. Louis Municipal doubles title handily.

Drewes has also been playing good tennis, particularly in the doubles, so that the two Teds appear to be the ultimate winners of the doubles event. Ahrens and Beckman of Cincinnati play the St. Louis pair today. Although the Cincinnati champs are a veteran team they are not expected to really force their opponents to any great exertion.

With the big favorites in the upper half of the singles draw, it appears as though there will be some bitter battling before the finals in the lower section of the pairings is decided. Mac Smith of East St. Louis is down in the lower half and is expected to cause the rest of the netsters some real worry if he comes through in his first engagement with Schaefer of Buffalo. Mac was St. Louis' junior doubles champion with Ted Eggman for several years. He is a mighty tough boy to down.

VETERAN DRIVER FALLS DEAD AFTER WINNING HEAT IN SULKY RACE

By the Associated Press.

STRATFORD, Ontario, Aug. 7.—Frank Ragsdale, veteran horseman, fell dead from his sulky here yesterday after winning the first heat of the first event on the race program in connection with the Old Boys' reunion celebration. His horse, Polly Peters, had just come under the wire when Ragsdale, known as the "Pop" Geers of the half-mile tracks, swayed and fell.

Norton Picks Veteran Brookes To Defeat Harvey Snodgrass

St. Louis Tennis Star Himself Reaches Semifinal by Eliminating Howard Voshell—Robert Kinsey Surprises by Defeat of Carl Fischer.

By Brian I. C. Norton,
U. S. Doubles Champion With Tilden.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Carl Fischer, who ranks No. 7 in the United States and who last year beat both the Kinseys in this tournament, met Robert Kinsey in the last eight of the singles championship yesterday.

This was one of the most interesting matches played in the tournament so far and ended in victory for Kinsey, after three hard sets which the score does not indicate at all. Fischer started very brilliantly and, by getting to the net whenever possible, volleyed with great stress and had Kinsey running all over the court.

Fischer was also serving very well and by following his delivery to the net had little difficulty in winning his service each time. Kinsey, finding he could not pass Fischer with his chops, started lobbing and, although this paid him a little better, Fischer put many fine lobs by his opponent away for aces and won the first set, 6—3.

Foot-Faults Upset Fischer.

In the second set Fischer became very erratic on his service through being foot-faulted consistently and this seemed to upset and unsteady his whole game, while Kinsey had matters all his own way, with Fischer staying at the back of the court. The second set went to Kinsey at 6—1, and as Fischer still stayed away from the net, Kinsey won the third and final set, 6—3.

The only other singles match played was between S. Howard Voshell and myself. Voshell was not at his best while I have never played better, and I passed into the semifinal with a score of 6—2, 6—3.

Voshell, after losing the first set at 6—2, made a great effort in the second and reached 3—1, but this effort seemed to tire him and he lost the next five games and the match.

Brookes Still Great General.

Norman Brookes, the great Australian veteran who played such faultless tennis Tuesday, made his first appearance in the doubles yesterday, partnered by Robert Schlesinger of the Australian Dav team, and it was certainly an education to watch the marvelous way in which Brookes first tied his opponents up and then finished the point with a neat and beautifully placed volley.

Brookes meets Snodgrass today and a great match is expected. I personally think Brookes will win, but the general opinion is that Snodgrass will beat the veteran.

GERMAN SPRINTER IS VICTOR OVER PADDOCK IN 100-METER DASH

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Charles Paddock, the American running star, yesterday ran 200 meters over a curved track in 21 2-5 seconds, defeating Pouben, crack German champion of Crefeld. Pouben, however, took the 100-meter race from Paddock and Loren Murchison in the time of 10 4-5 seconds.

The American athletes, who stopped here en route from Sweden, captured most of the events on the program of a special meet held under the auspices of the Berlin Athletic Club. The showing of the Americans is considered remarkable because they had travelled all night and entered the meet shortly after their arrival here. The visitors were cordially applauded by a large crowd of spectators.

Lyons Replaces Kolp After Hauser Poles Homer With Two O

By Dent McSkimming,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, Aug. 7.—The Browns got off start in the opening game of their doubleheader with the Athletics here this afternoon. Joe Hauser of the Macks run off Ray Kolp with two men on the bases in the first

Gray, a righthander, was in the box for the visitors.

The game:

FIRST INNING.

PHILADELPHIA—Bishop flied to Tobin. Lamar singled to center. Welch grounded to Robertson, whose throw to McManus was too late to force Lamar and both runners were safe. Hauser's drive went through the screen in the right-field bleachers for a home run, Lamar and Welch scoring ahead of him. Simmons flied to Tobin. Robertson fell on his face in stopping Dykes' hard smash over third, but picked up the ball and threw out the runner. THREE RUNS.

BROWNS—Tobin walked. Evans hit into a double play, Gray to Bishop to Hauser. Sisler walked. McManus grounded to Dykes, who threw far over Hauser's head, and Sisler scored while McManus went all the way to third. Jacobson's pop fly fell between Bishop and Gray for a single, McManus scoring. Robertson walked. Dykes tossed out Severeid.—TWO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

PHILADELPHIA — Lyons went in to pitch for the Browns. Galloway flied to Jacobson. Perkins tapped in front of the plat and was out, Severied to Sisler. Gray popped to McManus. NO RUNS.

BROWNS—Gray tossed out Gerber. Tobin singled to left center. Evans forced Tobin, Galloway to Bishop. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

PHILADELPHIA—Bishop doubled off the right field screen. Lamar sacrificed, Lyons to McManus, on first. Welch was hit by a pitched ball. Hauser singled to right, scoring Bishop and sending Welch to third. Simmons singled to left, scoring Welch. Hauser stopping at second. Dykes fanned and Hauser was doubled trying ot steal third, Severeid to Robertson. TWO RUNS.

BROWNS—Sisler walked. McManus flied deep to Simmons. Jacobson singled to right, Sisler to third. Roberts Simmons. Severeid flied to NO RUNS.

French Davis Cup Body Announces Cochet Will Not Play in U. S.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—William T. Tilden II, national champion, and Wm. M. Johnston, former national champion, will form the nucleus of the Davis cup team which will defend the trophy this season, according to an announcement issued by the chairman of both the selection and Davis Cup Committees of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. The players have been notified by telegram of their selection.

Two additional players to complete the team will be chosen after the national doubles championship in Boston, Aug. 18 to 23, officials of the association stated. The selection will be made from the following stars: Vincent Richards, Francis T. Hunter, R. Norris Williams II, Watson Washburn, Howard Kinsey, Robert Kinsey and Clarence J. Griffin.

From the four players eventually named the doubles team will be chosen, and the final choice will be made far enough in advance of the playing dates to enable the combination to develop team work before facing the challenging nation at the Germantown Cricket Club, the second week in September.

FRENCH TEAM TO SAIL SATURDAY; COCHET NOT ABLE TO MAKE TRIP

WRAY'S COLUMN

Country Is Saved.

THE great Australian menace passed away this morning, with the announcement of the American Davis Cup Committee that "Big Bill" Tilden and "Little Bill" Johnston would represent America in the Davis Cup challenge round.

On past performance this means that, unless the Americans have slipped sadly since the last Davis cup competition in which Wood and Patterson figured, America will win four matches in the singles and possibly lose the doubles contests.

France, it may be mentioned, has little chance to reach the challenge round, with Cochet remaining at home.

The committee reserved the naming of the remaining members of the Davis Cup quartet, undoubtedly with a view to obtaining a line on the best doubles pair in the United States.

As far as the "form" goes, about the best thing the committee could do would be to let the Davis Cup team stand as it is, naming only alternates in case of injury. Our idea of the best doubles team in the United States would be Tilden and Johnston.

They formed one of the five U. S. combinations that in 24 years have been able to win a doubles match for America in Davis cup events. And they went to Australia to do it, too.

Little Bill O K.

SOME concern has been manifested about Little Bill's defeat in a recent Eastern final. However, it was Bill's first tournament for some time. Bill plans to enter the big events late this month and early in September at top form, not burned out as he was when J. O. Anderson beat him in the Davis Cup singles last year. So he started his preparation late. His opponents are three weeks or more ahead of him.

Little Bill doesn't carry any excess baggage. He rocks the scales somewhere around 120 pounds, when he is fat. A long season with so little to go on would wear out anyone of that poundage.

Why Mr. Brower!

POWER of pugilistic life and death, vested in boxing commissions, particularly in the New York commission, is not always wisely employed. At times the commission's authority has been used in such a way as to force a boxer to violate the laws of another state.

The New York Commission, through Chairman Brower, approved a match between Leonard and Walker, after threatening both with suspension, the match to take place Aug. 20 in New York City. At the same time it validated articles of agreement calling for both principals to restrain from boxing other opponents before the date of the contest.

Leonard, however, was matched to box Pal Moran Aug. 11 in Cleveland. He will violate the Cleveland and Ohio laws if he fails to fulfill his contract to meet Moran Aug. 11. If he DOESN'T box then, he will be banned in Ohio. If he DOES box he will be punished in New York.

By its action the New York Commission causes embarrassment and loss to Leonard, to Moran and to the promoters. It is more than autocratic of the New York Commission to say that little promoters and ordinary fights, must step aside and mark time while the big fights monopolize the limelight.

Not Cahill's Revenge.

THE secession of the St. Louis and the American Soccer Leagues from the United States Football Association is causing some of the enemies of Tom Cahill to accuse him of trying to wreck the United States Football Association.

It truthfully can be said that, long before the wrangle in St. Louis, which was used by Cahill's enemies to depose him, it had been the intention of both the St. Louis and the American League to quit the cup competition.

Plans for interleague meetings between St. Louis and American League teams were published in the Post-Dispatch before the national cup final was held here last spring. As all the troubles developed following that time, it will be seen that the separation of the professional leagues to form an entente of their own was not the result of Cahill's spirit of revenge toward those who despitefully used him.

Cahill for the U. S. F. A.

THERE is not the slightest doubt, moreover, that Cahill is eager to have a United States Football Association perpetuated. He has contended always that this organization was vitally necessary to the dissemination of soccer propaganda and to the building up of new fields of activity among the amateurs.

In this we differ. American baseball has grown and thriven on professional baseball, which has proved an inspiration and an aid to the amateur game. Yet we have no national organization pretending to handle both professional and amateur baseball.

In fact, the only organization that ever attempted to control amateur baseball dropped it like a hot coal. Even the colleges are wondering how to make the wayward "cheeild" behave.

British Pros Control.

IN England soccer football is rapidly reaching the same plane. The professionals furnish the inspiration.

The British Isles, once the home of soccer football, did not even enter a team in the Olympic games! America at least reached the second round and the far off country of Uruguay won the championship.

Professional football is no fledgling in this country. It has "made the grade" in the East and it has made the grade in St. Louis. With the right kind of handling other communities can do as well.

St. Louis will certainly breathe easier to be rid of the broils and coils, the matching of the strong and the weak, the wrangling of the rich with the poorer clubs over gate spoils, the one-sided games between sand-lotters and champions that prevailed under old cup conditions.

The idea of hanging the 100 or more indigent teams like a financial millstone around the necks of a few prosperous ones—prosperous by their own efforts and by long nursing of the guns—is too ridiculous to be thought of.

Six Knockouts in Battery A Fights

Six knockouts regaled the punch-worshipers among the 1200 persons who attended the amateur boxing show of the Business Men's Athletic Association last night at the Battery A Arena.

The first five events on the card terminated by the kayo route. In the fifth, one of the specials scheduled, Lou Terry of the South Broadway A. C. rather surprised the crowd by stopping Cubane.

Eddie Reith and Jack Horner failed to appear in the headliner of the card because of Horner's inability to make weight.

Summaries:

Cardinals Buy "Chick" Hafey, Young Star of Texas League

Breadon Pays Record Price for Hard-Hitting Outfielder Who Was Originally Discovered by a Cardinal Scout.

Charles "Chick" Hafey, centerfielder of the Houston Club, and considered the outstanding young star of the Texas League this season, has been purchased by the Cardinals, it was announced this morning by President Sam Breadon.

"Because of the lively bidding for Hafey, we have been forced to pay for him a greater sum in cash than we have ever paid for any player," Breadon said. "Players also will be sent as part payment but we are not prepared at this time to name the men who will figure in the deal."

Breadon received word of the closing of the purchase from Manager Branch Rickey, who has been watching Hafey for more than a week's play in games at Houston.

Cards Discovered Him.

Hafey is 21 years old and is 6 feet tall. He is playing his second year with Houston. He was originally discovered by a Cardinal representative playing semi-professional ball in Oakland, Cal., and was sent to Syracuse, in the spring of 1923. He was almost immediately shipped to Fort Worth and then was sold to Houston, the Cardinals relinquishing their claim to his services.

He is batting .361 in 399 times at bat this season. He is not a slugger nor is he wonderfully fast on the bases. He has hit 7 home-runs and has stolen 7 bases. He has scored 71 runs and has obtained 144 hits.

Manager Rickey is now on his way to California where he will look over training sites and study some of the promising players of the Pacific Coast League.

CAREER OF LEADING U. S. JOCKEY PROBABLY ENDED BY FALL IN RAC

Injury in Saratoga Spill And Rising Weight Likely To Cause Sande to Retire

Victim of Accident at Saratoga Was to Have Ridden Either Grey Lag or Zev in International Races — Marinelli Suspended for Foul Riding.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Earl Sande probably rode his last race yesterday. The country's leading rider, considered by many the greatest jockey of all time, whose mounts have won over $1,000,000, came out of a bad spill at the local course with a leg so badly shattered that it never will permit him to ride again.

The accident came in the opening dash, when Sande's mount, Spurt, crossed his legs while being taken back out of a tight place and went down. Three other horses fell over Spurt, tossing their riders from the saddle. Fortunately, none of these boys were injured.

Sande was dazed when picked up and carried to the jockeys' quarters, where it was found his left leg had been broken in two places between the knee and thigh. The muscles were bruised, but it was not a compound fracture.

The accident was the result of a slight jam, which came as the leaders sprinted for the turn out of the back stretch. Approaching the bend, Senor slanted for the inner rail, causing Sande on Spurt, to take up sharply.

The veteran rider saw the crowding was inevitable and shouldered little Bruening, who was directly inside, with Gnome Girl. Then he snatched up his mount to avoid jamming the filly.

Three Other Horses Thrown.

All would have been well but for Spurt crossing his legs. The colt took a sudden header, catapulting Sande from the saddle. He hit the ground so hard he rolled over and over.

Semper, Speckled Beauty and Cathleen Ni Houlihan were well off Spurt at the time of the spill, but coming along so swiftly it was impossible to prevent their falling over the prostrate horse.

Dawson, Gorman and Dishmon, their riders, fortunately escaped serious injury. Dawson was knocked unconscious, but recovered quickly.

There was a gasp of horror from the stands as Sande went down and the customary cheers for the winner were missing when Bother came home in front. A great crowd surged out into the paddock as the boy was brought back in the starter's wagon in the arms of one of Mars Cassidy's assistants, apparently lifeless.

In this throng was Mrs. Earl Sande, wife of the injured rider, and her tearful cries brought him out of a daze as he was being lifted from the rig.

The sandy-haired youth cried, "I'm all right, dear," and with this assurance Mrs. Sande fainted in the arms of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt had entered the jockeys' room to assist Dr. Cary T. Grayson and several other physicians who attended the injured rider.

The stewards charged the fall to jockey Benny Marinelli, on the report of Patrol Judge James McLaughlin. They first suspended the boy for nine days and later in the afternoon extended the penalty to include the meeting.

Marinelli asserts he was well out from Spurt at the time of the accident and claims Spurt must have jumped on the heels of Gnome Girl.

Sande was born at American Falls, Idaho, and spent the first 15 or 16 years of his life on a ranch. His parents came to this country from Norway a few years before Sande was born.

He first came into prominence around his home riding cow ponies in races. As he grew older, being a bit too frail for heavy farm work, he decided to become a jockey, and one day, when he was about 15, he slipped out of school and ran away from home with a man who was going to Indian Territory to race some horses.

Won Twice on 50 to 1 Shots.

In 1918 he went to New Orleans and the first horse he rode was Liberator a 10 to 1 shot, on which he finished second. In that meeting he won with two 50 to 1 shots the same afternoon and became something of a sensation.

At Hot Springs a horse he was riding in a race fell and his foot was badly crushed. After he recovered he rode in Kentucky and came on to Empire City during a July meeting. It was at Saratoga the same year that he attracted the attention of J. K. L. Ross who bought his contract.

Sande rode all the good horses for that stable, but his most notable feat was riding six winners out of seven mounts at Havre de Grace in the fall of 1919. He was beaten in the first race and won the next six, three of them for Mr. Ross.

The next year he joined Harry F. Sinclair's Rancocas stable and not without reason he has been called the "best horse in the Rancocas barn."

Sande rode Zev in the international match race against Steve Donoghue on Papyrus, and was counted on to ride either Grey Lag or Zev in the international races in which Epinard will compete next month.

Sande Had Public's Confidence.

Every time his name appeared on the jockey board his mount was backed with the knowledge, as the grandstand and lawn put it, that "You're going to get a ride."

There was nothing of the theatrical or spectacular that marked Tod Sloan or later day popular jockeys about Sande. He looked just what he was—a hard-working, serious young man.

Horses ran well for Sande. He had that perfect balance and ability to "Go with his mount" that only comes to the born race rider.

Sande's Mounts Have Won a Total of More Than Million Dollars

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.

THE turf will suffer a serious loss if, as was feared yesterday, the Saratoga accident prevents Earl Sande from riding again.

Sande, who is 26 years old, has been riding on the "big time" tracks for eight years and for four years has been considered the country's leading jockey.

His contract with Harry Sinclair, owner of the great Rancocas stable, has two years to run at a retaining fee of $15,000.

Sande has ridden a winner in every American turf classic except the Futurity, and his mounts have won over $1,000,000 under his guidance. He had been counted on to ride either Zev or Grey Lag against Epinard in the international specials.

LITTLE BILL JOHNSTON IN BETTER PHYSICAL CONDITION THAN EVER

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Billy Johnston, former national tennis champion, is in the East again, looking better than he has appeared in several years. Last summer, when he arrived for his Eastern campaign he was down to 115 pounds and looked all burned out. Now he tips the beam at 130 pounds and says he never felt better in his life. Billy is all set for a serious attempt to regain the championship. He faces a task which is well nigh impossible, but Little Bill must be commended for his courage.

At the close of the 1923 season the word went out that Johnston, after 10 years of vigorous and brilliant competition in which he established a reputation as one of our most consistent tennis luminaries, was through for good. Little Bill went home discouraged. Mrs. Johnston felt no little anxiety over the condition of her husband.

Then came a new determination in the heart of the little red-headed star from San Francisco. He consulted leading specialists and was told to do two things: First—To get rid of his tonsils; then to undergo regular physical culture treatments to build up his strength and stamina. Those terrific five-set matches, which would defy even a Jack Dempsey were he skilled in tennis, had sapped Johnston's reserve and he faced the task of building himself up again. Seemingly, Little Bill has accomplished what he set out to do.

He says he feels better, eats better, sleeps better and does not suffer from extreme fatigue after a hard match, as he did last summer. He says he never weighed more than he does now and that despite his long years of service on the courts he never faced his tennis task with greater enthusiasm or with better prospects of success.

WID MATTHEWS TIPPED OFF MACK TO LAMAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Outfielder Wid Matthews of the Washington Senators is supposed to have directed Connie Mack's attention to Bill Lamar. Matthews thinks Lamar is the finest pill pounder that has come to his attention. He played against the outfielder in the American Association and more than once was called upon to turn his back to the stands to chase one of Bill's bingles.

NATIONAL JUNIOR POLO PLAY STARTS SATURDAY

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Play for the National junior polo championship will begin Saturday at the Rumson Country Club, Red Bank, N. J., with a match between Meadow Brook and Bryn Mawr, according to the draw made today at the offices of the United States Polo Association. Although only five teams have entered, the keenest competition in the history of the tournament is anticipated. California, Rumson and the United States Army are the other three entries.

Eric Pedley, who is competing for a place on the team which will defend the International Challenge Cup against Great Britain in September, will play for the Californians. The schedule has been so arranged that Pedley will miss only one of the trial matches at Meadowbrook.

NO POST-SEASON SERIES FOR THE MINT LEAGUE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FLINT, Mich. — No financial reward will be given the club winning the championship of the Mint League this year. The announcement was made by President Thomas J. Halligan to quiet rumors that the Flint team was not eager to win the pennant in the second half of the split season. The report was that Flint wanted to enter a post-season series with the winner of the second half.

AMERICAN HANDBALL PLAYERS GAIN DRAW IN TAILTEANN GAMES

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, Aug. 7.—The American and Irish team competition in the handball singles of the Tailteann games ended in a draw, according to figures given out today by the Tailteann press bureau. J. J. Heany and O'Donnell comprised the American team. They met the Irish team in three matches each. Heany won all of his matches, but O'Donnell was defeated in all of his contests. The press bureau states that the competition now is a draw unless it is later given to the Americans on points.

An individual contest for a special prize is being arranged between the handball competitors and it is generally believed that Heany will have an easy victory. The American's matchless play was admired by all. It is said he probably will be challenged by the Irish Amateur Handball Association to play for the championship of the world. Pembroke, the Irish champion, and Kelly, the Tailteann winner, were not in the present competitions. They are said to be eager to meet Heany either here or in New York when the present games are concluded.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Is the Business Gasoline

MANY motorists have put Red Crown in the tanks of their coupes, limousines, touring or other passenger cars, after having proved in their trucks that for service and economy, Red Crown is the business gasoline.

One of the large packing houses writes:

"We find that Red Crown Gasoline gives entire satisfaction in our large fleet of motor trucks — starting easily, accelerating rapidly, and giving excellent mileage.

"In our business every truck must move on time. Dependability is essential in order that exacting schedules may be maintained in the distribution of perishable products.

"Included in our fleet are trucks of various makes and sizes, from 1-ton delivery cars to 15-ton tractor trailers, and they operate efficiently on Red Crown Gasoline."

Summer tourists will find Red Crown everywhere in ten Middle Western States, and everywhere the same. By using Red Crown, they will get more and better mileage; uniformity in quality, thoroughly dependable operation with consequent avoidance of the irritation and delay occasioned by constant carburetor adjustments.

Use Red Crown and enjoy a banner mileage summer.

CATTLE—Irregular.

HOGS—Steady to strong.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Federal Reserve Bank of New York today announced that it had lowered the rediscount rate from 3½ to 3 per cent, effective Aug. 8. This is the third change to be made this year.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, August 7.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today, says.

"Volume of trading on the Stock Exchange again dropped, the slump bringing the total turnover to but slightly over 800,000 shares. While the trend has been toward less active trading since the first of the week, the extreme heat undoubtedly was a factor today. The market was decidedly lacking in zest and values were inclined to soften under the influence of profit-taking and short selling, though the latter was not pronounced. Railroad shares received some stimulus from brisk advances in the Eastern coalers, while a few of the pools in the industrials were still active. Some groups, such as the coppers and the rubbers were better on firmer commodity prices. Nevertheless at the close declines predominated in the list as a whol. Bonds were moderately active, but prices were firm, particularly among the foreigns. Call money held at 2 per cent throughout.

Sterling Is Higher.

"Movements were mixed in the foreign exchange market as far as the two chief currencies, sterling and francs, were concerned. Sterling continued to show exceptional strength, moving up over 2 cents to $4.47½. Francs, on the other hand, were under pressure at the start but later showed a gain of 2½ points at 5.47½ cents. Belgian francs also were somewhat easier. Other rates meanwhile were higher, and so far as the action of the exchanges may be used as a criterion, confidence in a settlement of the reparations question is unshaken. News from the London conference gave further evidence of the willingness of the German delegates to meet the terms of allies. Trading was fairly brisk during the morning but died away in the afternoon as the temperature climbed.

"Commodity trading failed to develop any interesting features. Wheat and corn were rather slow in anticipation of the Government crop report, which was not due to be published until after the close of trading. Further evening up of speculative positions brought a fair rally in wheat while corn receded sharply after an early gain, but closed with an advance. The hot weather is doing a great deal for the corn crop and early estimates may have to be revised upward. December corn futures closed ⅝ of a cent higher at $1.02⅞. December wheat gained 2⅛ cents at a closing price of $1.33⅛.

"At a late price of 28.75 October cotton options were 52 points higher.

Foreign Bank Statements.

"Some explanation for the failure of the French franc to show as much strength as sterling may be found in the relative weakness of the French economic position as compared with that of England. Many parts of the budgetary reform program adopted by the French Government have yet to be carried and until this is done the franc will continue to be vulnerable. The weekly statement of the Bank of France, published today, shows an unusually large increase in circulation, amounting to 247,000,000 francs. This is the third week in succession to show an increase and total circulation now stands at a new high record of 40,353,000,000 francs. Small changes of importance are revealed by the Bank of England's statement. Circulation and reserve increased slightly and the reserve ratio declined 2 points to 16.86 per cent."

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—An advance of one-sixth of a cent to the basis of 5.09 duty paid, was recorded in the raw sugar market early today on sales of 10,000 bags Cubans to a local refiner for August shipment. Raw sugar futures were higher on European covering and further buying by commission houses, inspired by the advance in the spot market and the continued good movement of refined. Prices at the best showed gains of three to six points, but reacted partially under realizing and at midday were one to three points net higher. Refined was unchanged to 15 points lower quotations ranging from $6.40 to $6.60 for fine granulated. A better demand was reported. Refined futures were nominal. Sugar futures closed steady. Approximate sales 25,000 tons. September 3.35; December 3.45; January 3.35; March 3.25.

New York Coffee.

LOWER RANGE TO PRICE OF COTTON AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Reports of beneficial rain in parts of Texas and Oklahoma were followed by heavy liquidation in the cotton market at the opening today. Opening prices were easy at a decline of 51 to 62 points, with October selling off to 27.55c and December to 27c. Heavy covering in anticipation of tomorrow's Government report checked the decline, but rallies of 15 or 18 points met increased liquidation and the market was unsettled during the first hour. The sharp break in Liverpool was attributed to the Texas rain news. Numerous private reports were received here from the Southwest reporting showers or rains in West and North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

The early decline extended to 27.52c for October and 26.94c for December or 52 to 68 points net lower, but at these figures offerings became lighter and the market steadied on covering. The latter was promoted by the failure of the weather map to show quite as much rain in the Southwest as expected and prices worked up some 30 to 35 points from the lowest. Trading at midday was quieter with the market about steady at net declines of 27 to 32 points.

Private reports that Southwestern rains had been inadequate except in comparatively few localities stimulated the early afternoon market. October sold up to 28.02c, or within 18 points of yesterday's closing quotation and while this rally was not fully maintained, prices held steady around 2 o'clock.

Boston Wool Market.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—There was no appreciable increase in buying on the Boston wool market today, but prices were firmly maintained and in some cases showed slight advances, especially for fine staple territories. There were also inquiries for Ohio delaines and Texas 12-months wools. Equal firmness was reported from the Western ranges.

In Financial Field

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The first of the porhy copper reports for the second quarter came out today. Utah Coper showed net income of $2,335,579, after taxes and depreciation, but before depletion, equal to $1.43 a share on $16,244,900 capital stock of $10 par value. In the preceding quarter the net was $2,132,244, or $1.31 a share, while net income in the second quarter of 1923 amounted to $3,356,988 before depreciation, depletion and taxes.

The Public Service Corporation of New Jersey earned a surplus of $2,940,000 available for common stock after taxes and all charges had been paid for the first six months of 1924. This is equivalent to $4.20 a share on the 700,000 shares of common and double the dividend requirements for that period.

The Federal Light and Traction Co. yesterday declared an extra dividend of 75 cents on the common stock payable in 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and the regular cash dividend of 1 per cent. The regular quarterly dividend of ½ per cent on the preferred also was declared.

A special stockholders' meeting of the Hudson Companies has been called for Sept. 17 to vote on the recommendation of the directors that the corporation be dissolved and its assets consisting of 251,713 shares of common stock and 23,676 shares of preferred stock of the Hudson and Manhattan Railway Co., be distributed to stockholders. Approval of the dissolution probably will be followed by an application to list on the New York Stock Exchange the Hudson and Manhattan preferred and common shares.

Total subscriptions of more than $60,000,000 for the $25,000,000 Norwegian loan offered this week encouraged bankers in the belief that the forthcoming German loan would meet with a hearty response. Distribution of orders indicated a wide public interest in the Norwegian issue.

Bond Market Review

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A broad upward movement in European bonds based on prospects for an early reparations settlement, held the center of trading in today's early dealings.

Nine French issues, rallying one to more than three points, established new 1924 high prices. These included the Government 7½s and 8s, which sold at $1.04⅝ and $1.07½, respectively, and the Bordeaux, Marseilles Lyons, Soissons, Paris-Lyons-Mediterrean, Seine and Framerican liens.

Austrian 7s established a new high record at 97, with Swiss, Serbian, Finland and other continental obligations selling around 1924 high levels. The recent advance in Belgium issues, which have been selling above the others, was impeded by profit-taking. Trading in foreign bonds completely overshadowed dealings in domestic issues, which fluctuated within narrow limits. Liberty Bonds were heavy.

$20,000,000 Argentine Refunding Notes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Argentine Government today took advantage of the favorable bond market conditions to sell a $30,000,000 issue of six months 5 per cent treasury bills, refunding $20,000,000 5½ per cent notes maturing Aug. 25. Blair & Co., bankers, who have handled Argentina's recent financing, placed the bills privately on a 3⅞ per cent basis.

CORN CROP ESTIMATE RAISED 61,000,000 BUS. AND WHEAT 70,000,000 SINCE JULY 1

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Prospects for the country's harvest of corn this year increased 61,000,000 bushels during July, while the prospective production of wheat increased 70,000,000 bushels during the month, today's monthly crop report of the Department of Agriculture indicated.

The corn crop this year was forecast today at 2,576,000,000 bushels, and the combined winter and spring wheat crops placed at 814,000,000 bushels by the Department of Agriculture's August crop report. Last year 3,046,000,000 bushels of corn and 786,000,000 bushels of wheat were harvested.

The preliminary estimate of winter wheat production was announced as 589,000,000 bushels, while the spring wheat forecast places that crop at 225,000,000 bushels, compared with forecasts of 543,000,000 of winter wheat and 197,000,000 of spring wheat a month ago.

The production forecasts, based on conditions prevailing Aug. 1, include:

Oats, 1,439,000,000 bushels; barley, 184,000,000 bushels; rye (preliminary estimate), 65,800,000 bushels; buckwheat, 15,100,000 bushels; white potatoes, 399,000,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 80,800,000 bushels; tobacco, 1,202,000,000 pounds. Flaxseed, 28,400,000 bushels; rice, 32,900,000; hay (tame), 89,000,000 tons; apples, 184,000,000 bushels; peaches, 52,200,000 bushels; peanuts, 636,000,000 pounds; grain sorghums, 112,000,000 bushels.

The condition of the crops on Aug. 1 was announced as follows:

Spring wheat, 79.7 per cent of a normal; corn, 70.7; oats, 88.2; barley, 80.7; buckwheat, 87.7; white potatoes, 85.4; sweet potatoes, 70.2; tobacco, 71.7; flaxseed, 86.4; rice, 83.4; hay, 84.4; pasture, 84.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Aug. 7.—Wheat closed strong on the local market.

In the cash grain market soft wheat was steady to 2c higher. Hard was ½c higher. There was good general demand. Corn was irregular, 1c lower to 1c higher. Demand was fair. Oats were ½c to 1c lower and slow.

Firmness was shown by wheat futures early, accompanied by ⅝d higher close for Liverpool, reports on Dawes conference and Winnipeg upturn along with black rust talk. Corn futures were mixed, December selling down.

September wheat opened at $1.25⅝; December wheat, $1.30⅝; May wheat, $1.35⅝; December corn, $1.01⅞, and May corn, $1.02½.

The three Northwestern markets combined had 257 cars of wheat, against 379 year ago.

St. Louis receipts were 219 cars of wheat local and 58 through, 16 cars of corn local and 1 through, 29 cars of oats local and 8 through, 8 cars of hay local and 8 through.

WHEAT PRICES MOVE UP ON THE CHICAGO MARKET

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—There was a change in sentiment in the wheat market today. Buyers have been holding off for over a week until the Government report was out of the way and the time has now arrived for them to resume activity. There was some reinstatement of lines despite the fact that the report would not be issued until late this afternoon. This gave the market a better tone. In corn trade was light and price fluctuated wildly. Oats again were inclined to be stubborn.

Wheat started higher because the Liverpool market failed to follow yesterday's decline. There was some buying credited to foreign account and later advances from the seaboard indicated that over 600,000 bu. of domestic wheat had been sold abroad over night. This included 120,000 bu. of durum and the balance of hard winter. Locals followed the early buying because hedging sales were noticeably absent. On the bulge realizing sales contracted the advance. The movement in wheat in Kansas appears to be normally over but the Nebraska movement is getting under way and Omaha is expected to be the leading market for a few weeks. Crop news was of the same caliber, mostly bullish and from the Northwest. Spot wheat in the local market was firm and the demand was broader. There was less damp wheat in today's arrivals.

A report that Germany had accepted the Dawes plan caused a late bulge in wheat and closing prices were 2c to 2⅝c higher, September $1.29⅝ to $1.29⅝, December $1.33⅛ to $1.33, May $1.38 to $1.38⅛.

Corn fluctuated wildly owing to the failure of buying to develop on the bulges. There was an opening rush to buy that caused a big advance in prices in the absence of selling pressure. After the opening moderate offerings disclosed a lack of buying and prices weakened almost as rapidly as they had advanced earlier. Some recovery was noticed when the market met with resting orders to buy. There was a better demand for cash corn and premiums were unchanged to ½c higher. Shipping demand was light. Indianapolis and Louisville were underselling Chicago in sections. Country offerings to arrive were light.

Corn closed ½c to 1c higher, rallying with wheat. September $1.13⅛, December $1.02⅛ to $1.03, May $1.03⅛.

Oats followed the trend in corn but supporting orders were met with around the previous close. Sentiment is more bullish owing to the strength in the cash market. Premiums for cash oats were 1c higher today with receipts exceedingly light. Country offerings to arrive were nil. Wet weather in the last day or two has caused oats to lodge in certain sections of Illinois, it was said.

Oats weakened at the close under selling by local longs and last prices were ½c to ⅛c lower; September 48⅝c to 48⅛c, December 51½c, May 54c.

Lard closed 2½c higher to 7½c lower; ribs unchanged to 10c lower and bellies 10c to 15c lower.

Local cash sales were 150,000 bushels wheat, 50,000 bushels corn, 70,000 bushels oats and 5000 barley. The Seaboard reported 1,000,000 bushels wheat taken for export.

Lower corn and weaker hogs were a combination hard to beat by the provision bull. Selling was moderate in volume but the buying power was conspicuously absent.

Crude Oil Figures Drop.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The daily average gross crude oil production of the United States decreased 1500 barrels for the week ended Aug. 2, totaling 2,005,100 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute.

HOG RUN MODERATE AND PRICES ARE DOWN

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., Aug. 7.—Receipts today estimated: Cattle and calves, 3000; hogs, 10,000; sheep, 2000; horses and mules, 100.

CATTLE—Most of the day's steer arrivals were Western range cattle. The few native beef steers on sale sold steady to shade lower. General market slow and demand limited. First deals in Texas and Oklahoma grassers were steady, but late arrivals were weak sellers and off a shade, in most instances showing a 25c to 50c decline for the week. No choice native on sale. Heifers and cows were mean sellers at week's full loss of 25c to 40c. Canners and cutters, bulls and stockers and feeders are about steady, having little change in price for the full week to date. Vealers topped at $10. Practical range: Beef steers, $5.50 to $11; Texas and Oklahoma steers, $4 to $10; light yearlings, $3 to $10.75; butcher cows, $4 to $7.50; cutters, $2.50 to $3.25; canners, $1.75 to $2.25; bulls, $3.50 to $5.50; stockers and feeders, $4 to $7.50; calves, $8 to $10.

HOGS—Lower prices continued in swine today under a moderate offering of 10,000 head estimated. Early declines were placed at 10c to 20c, compared with the close of Wednesday. Top stopped at $10.25 for full loads to the order buyers and butchers, one packer taking a few hogs at prices ranging from $10.10 to $10.20. Bulk of the offerings from 160 to 260 lbs. sold on the early rounds in a spread of $10 to $10.25, according to weight and quality. Pigs were weak, with some sales 25c lower. Offerings from 140 to 160 lbs. quotable at $9.75 to $10, medium weights from 120 to 140 lbs. at $9 to $9.75, and lighter grades from 120 lbs. and down at $8 to $9. Packer sows quotable at $8 largely, with stags at $6 to $7.

SHEEP—Lambs took an upward trend today, prices advancing 25c over the best time Wednesday. Top on full loads reached $13 to an outside buyer, with a short bunch of lambs at $13.25 to a butcher. Bulk of the early sales were around $12.50 to $12.75. Good to choice lambs quotable in a spread of $12 to $13, medium to good grades $11 to $12 and plain to medium kinds from $9 to $11. Culls at $6.50 largely. Sheep were steady to strong, hardly enough on sale to furnish a true criterion of the market. Best light ewes sold around $5.50, with a few as high as $6. Medium and heavy grades at $4 to $5 generally. Choppers and bucks quotable at $2 to $2.50, with canners at $1 to $1.50.

HORSES AND MULES—Only '00 head of horses and mules arrived for sale Thursday. Market was very quiet and only a few animals that suited buyers' fancy were moving. It was the usual dull week-end market. Mules were a little better sellers. Anything strictly good moved. Good miners and cotton mules were in best call.

BUY A USED JEWETT

Save $400 to $600 on a Jewett automobile. We have a very good selection on roadsters, touring cars, coupes and sedans. Buy one of these cars at the price we are offering, then subtract that price from the price of a new car, put the difference in the bank as a surplus and in two years from now, with the interest added to your saving, you will see what a smart buyer you were for buying a used Jewett. See Mr. Daily and let him explain. Everyone wants to save money—its the prevailing spirit of today. NEWELL MOTOR CAR COMPANY, Used Car Department, 3015 Locust st. Open Sunday and evenings. Bomont 2602.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls, or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity, when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

H. E. M: — Inquire among the filling stations of your town as to the manufacturers of the gasoline compound.

A. PRETZEL. — Most St. Louis banks undoubtedly will trade in German marks at the price quoted in foreign exchange.

INNOCENCE.—We are not familiar with the language of postage stamps. Consult books at the Public Library.

BIBLE.—Christ's sermon on the mount is contained in the fifth, sixth and seventh chapters of the book of Matthew in the New Testament.

CATHERINE. — The summer rates, round trip, to San Francisco from St. Louis, over the Frisco Railroad in 1917 were $70.50, and in 1918 $84.60.

W. H. H.—Address Charles G. Dawes at 125 West Monroe street, Chicago, Ill., or at the Chicago headquarters of the Republican National Committee.

OLLIE.—You can obtain information booklets that will contain the places of interest in Chicago and Detroit at the travel information desks in hotel lobbies and the main department stores in St. Louis.

A. B. T. — We think that there should be some understanding between you and the girl before you buy an engagement ring for her. She might help you select the size and type of ring that would suit her.

F. J. M.—Eddie Collins batted second and "Buck" Weaver third in the lineup of the Chicago White Sox in 1917, 1918 and 1919. Collins' batting averages for three years are, respectively, .289, .276, .319. Weaver's averages were .284, .300, and .296.

M. C. R.—To make filet mignon, wipe and saute small filets in hot omelet pan. Arrange in a circle on platter with cock's-comb shaped croutons between, and pour figaro sauce in the center. Serve as a luncheon dish with Brussels sprouts or string beans.

MRS. E. S.—To destroy the ants in your yard, pour a little bisulphite into a hole made in an ant-hill, and then cover the hole. In this way, the ants can be suffocated. Some authorities recommend poisoned corn in their runways.

NEWLYWED.—No oil should be used on the leather seats. The atmospheric conditions here the last few months have had something to do with the leather or perhaps the leather is inferior. However, when you wish to clean the leather do it with clear water. Do not use a furniture polish. There is no remedy to keep the leather from sticking.

TOURIST. — You will pass through the following towns in going to St. Paul, Minn., from Chicago, Ill.: Oak Park, Addison, Bloomingdale, Ontarioville, Elgin, Harmony, Garden Prairie, Belvidere, Cherry Vale, Rockford, Freeport, Eleroy, Lena, Nora, Warren, Shullsburg, Benton, Hazel Green, Dubuque Ia., Dyersville, Manchester, Winthrop, Independence, Hazelton, Maynard, Fayette, West Union, Eldorado, Calmer, Decorah, Burr Oak, Canton, Prosper and Harmony.

NORMA.—Ink marks on marble may be removed with a paste made by dissolving an ounce of oxalic acid and half an ounce of butter of antimony in a pint of rain water, and adding sufficient flour to form a thin paste. Apply this to the stains with a brush; allow it to remain on three or four days and then wash it off. Make a second application if necessary. (2) To clean the feathers sew together two sheets of light material. Put into this bag the feathers to be cleaned, or enough to be easily handled in a washtub or machine. Have good, warm soap suds; then put in your bagged feathers. Rub and shake as you would any piece of soiled goods. Wring out first in clear hot water, then in cold; lastly wring out as dry as possible. Stretch your clothesline back and forth about eight inches apart, forming a bridge, where the sun and wind strike freely. Lay your feather bag over the line and during the day keep turning and shaking now and then. If not dry the first day, take into the house over night and repeat next day. When almost dry, beat lightly. When dry the feathers will puff up and fill the bag. A musty or rancid odor in a feather pillow is intolerably disagreeable, besides being excessively unwholesome. Before you decide to throw the offending member into the garbage cart, try laying it upon the damp ground all day long for a week, turning it hourly. The sweet, warm, damp earth is the best of disinfectants.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

VERA.—Repeat your question, enclosing stamped addressed envelope.

L. E. K.—Have the heart and kidneys examined for the cause of swelling of the ankles.

MUCH WORRIED. — If the mother has been actually cured, the child would not be affected. If she is not, it likely would be.

TERRY. — We think the massage would tend to enlarge, rather than reduce, the bust. The only dependable method is reduction of the general body fat. Firm support may help some, but not much.

ELSIE R.—If the condition has existed for some time, a careful examination should be made for a cause of the indigestion. Persistent disturbance of digestion suggests a possible formidable condition, such as stomach or intestinal ulcer, appendicitis, gall bladder disease. Take the following: Cholelith pills, 4 night and morning until 200 are taken, about 16 days, and if no relief consult a first-

M. H.—We advise ¼ grain pill of mercury protoiodide after each meal. Take 10 drops of a saturated solution of iodide of potash in a little water before meals. Increase the iodide of potash 1 drop at a dose until you get some disturbance of skin, pimples or stomach. Then drop back a few days and make this your dose. Occasionally take neither remedy for a week and start again. If the eruption is syphilitic, it will disappear. Continue treatment off and on for two years.

G. E. D.—Some functional disturbance causes pimples. A good remedy is one part of vleminck's solution to four parts water, dabbed on at night and let dry. In the morning, wash off and rub in a good quality cold cream. Gradually increase the strength of the solution by reducing the water. (2) As a rule, pimples do not leave brown spots on the surface, and the discoloration, if present, will soon fade. (3) Red spots on the nose would have to be seen for advice to be given.

It Seems Like a Miracle to See How Lyko, the Great General Tonic, Puts New Vigor into Weak and Sickly People

From every part of the country reports have come of the amazing benefits brought to run-down men and women by this famous tonic.

Many of these people had suffered for years from conditions which made them practically invalids, incapable of doing a real day's work; others had faulty digestion, constipation, lack of appetite, nervousness, or other ailments which made them feel and look tired, sickly, "down and out."

Now these same people are in splendid health, active, cheerful, full of life and vigor through the bracing, tonic effect of Lyko.

Reports of restored health which seem almost like accounts of miracles come from people in all parts of the country and establish Lyko as one of the most beneficial remedies ever given to the human race.

Lyko is made from pure medicinal ingredients, one of which is a mild but effective laxative; another is for the liver and kidneys; another aids digestion, and another one has a strengthening action on the nerves, helping to overcome sleeplessness and irritability.

If you don't "feel like yourself," see how quickly Lyko will bring back your old strength, ambition and ability to hold your own with active people.

SWIMMER DROWNED IN MERAMEC RIVER

Charles Kaelin, 48, Bartender, Apparently Was Seized With Cramps.

Charles Kaelin, 48 years old, a bartender, of 6003A Gravois avenue, was drowned at 3:30 p. m. yesterday while swimming in the Meramec River near Fenton.

Kaelin, accompanied by Oscar H. Baisch, a grocer, of 6001 Gravois avenue, and two other men, drove to the river yesterday for a week's outing. A short time after eating lunch Kaelin, who was known as a strong swimmer, entered the water and was apparently stricken with cramps a few minutes later, as he suddenly threw up his hands and sank. The body has not been recovered. Mrs. Kaelin and a son survive.

Body of A. M. Christman Recovered From River.

The body of Albert M. Christman, 33, of 1642 Ohio avenue, was recovered fom the Meramec River below Fenton at 7 o'clock this morning by Deputy Sheriff Slevin, who had been dynamiting that section of the river. Christman, who was assistant superintendent of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co., was drowned Tuesday afternoon while swimming near the Fenton bridge. He is survived by his widow and five children.

NOTED MEN HAVE SPOKEN AT SCENE OF COOLIDGE ADDRESS

President Will Reply to Notification in Memorial Continental Hall in Capital.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Memorial Continental Hall, which is to be the setting for the formal notification, Aug. 14, of President Coolidge's nomination by his party for the presidency, was the scene of the arms conference, and there, too, Washingtonians saw and heard King Albert, Georges Clemenceau and many other noted men. While its auditorium seats only 2000, radio will enable thousands of others to hear the notification proceedings.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution raised Memorial Continental Hall as a tribute to the patriots who achieved American independence. There are held the congresses of the society, which owns the whole block, with administrative offices in the rear, representing an estimated value of $1,000,000. The hall and its furnishings cost $700,000.

The cornerstone of the building was laid in 1904, and the building was completed in 1917. Sixteen immense drum columns support the roof of the front portico. Three pairs of bronze doors span the entrance. States' coats of arms decorate the interior, and flags of every state hang from the cornice of the auditorium. Metal chairs, framed in mahogany and upholstered in green leather, line the auditorium, with its three galleries. In the south gallery hangs a full-length portrait of Martha Washington. A large table, a reproduction of that on which the Declaration of Independence was signed, is on the platform.

POOR ROADS IN MISSOURI KEEP PUPILS FROM SCHOOL

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 7.—The total enumeration of persons of school age in Missouri showed an increase in 1924 of 12,451 over that of 1923, according to a report issued by State Superintendent of Schools Charles A. Lee. The enumeration, which included all persons between the ages of 6 and 20 years, was 906,199 in 1923 and 918,650 in 1924.

"However, the total number of days' attendance by all pupils in the State declined 1,068,255 days during that time," Lee added. He said that he wrote to every County Clerk and County Superintendent in the State where a marked decline was shown, inquiring as to the cause of the decrease, and that in every case the change was attributed to bad weather, impassable roads and epidemics of various kinds.

The State Superintendent also pointed out that the number of teachers whose average daily attendance fell under 15 increased from 2215 in 1923 to 2611 in 1924, based on the reports of the County Clerks of the State.

"The State," Lee said, "allows only $25 for each of these teachers when school funds are apportioned in this office each August."

To quote further from the reports of the County Clerks, as shown by Lee, the number of teachers whose average daily attendance was 15 or more and who received less than $1000 a year fell from 10,908 in 1923 to 10,674 in 1924. The number of teachers in the State increased from 22,346 in 1923 to 23,442 in 1924.

Freak Auto Built Backward.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 28.—German automobile manufacturers like freak designs in cars. One of the latest curiosities to appear on the streets of Berlin is an automobile with the motor in the rear, and so constructed that the front end of the car bears the appearance of the rear end of an ordinary car. In consequence, the vehicles seems to be running wrong-end first, and crowds stop in the street and laugh at the unusual craft.

FAIR WEATHER WIVES

THE OPENING OF A CHRYSALIS—CHAPTER 10.

THE fortnight at the Thornton Baynes was illuminating to Marjorie in many ways.

For the first time, she was really a participant in the world of society and fashion which was the breath of life to Mrs. Boice-Nevins. She had emerged from the chrysalis into the butterfly in an incredibly short time. Cinderella had become the Fairy Princess overnight. And, curiously enough, the evolution was accomplished quite easily and gracefully. There was nothing gauche about it—or about Marjorie. Her poise was admirable and enviable. Her gravity, the wistfulness of her dark-fringed eyes and soft red mouth, lent her the distinction of mystery, an alluring contrast to the noisy, shrill-voiced, self-obvious flappers.

"She looks like the Blessed Damozel herself," was Mrs. Thornton Bayne's comment to an intimate, "but I'd wager my best pearls she's a regular little devil underneath. The quiet ones are deepest, and make the biggest ripples in the end."

Marjorie found enjoyment and a species of incredulity, in her own sudden importance. Mrs. Boice-Nevins was insistent that Mathilda do her hair these days. Frocks and hats and sheerest lingerie were sent up from town by exclusive shops for her selection. She, who had never known a jewel except the little-girl trinkets that had come with birthdays and holidays, suddenly found herself possessed of a necklace of square-cut sapphires that deepened the gentian of her eyes to violet.

The limousine with the coat of arms on the door and Jenkins in uniform, with upraised arm stiffly at attention beside it, brought an inquiring look from Marjorie to her mother. She had thought all these outward and visible signs of wealth forever put aside.

Mrs. Boice-Nevins was quite serene and unruffled. Her pretty doll face reflected not a flicker of anxiety. She greeted Dan affectionately, inquired if he had had a pleasant fortnight.

"Beastly!" he answered shortly. "The governor got off a few days after you left and I moved over to the club. Had a rotten time. No money for bridge. I say, Mother," he broke out, "what in the name of Pete are you going to do? I'm likely to be posted for dues any day if I don't pay up pretty soon, and you ought to see the bills at home. Hutchins been dumping them in the library, and you can barely get the door open now."

Mrs. Boice-Nevins drummed lightly on the plate glass of the car window with prettily gloved fingers. Her smile was mysterious, reflective.

"Trust me, Danny. Remember, I'm all you have to look to now, since your father failed you."

A hot protest was on Marjorie's lips at this slander of an always indulgent father, but she checked herself in time, feeling the futility of it.

"Well, it's nearly time for Harvard," remarked Dan gloomily, "and the question is: am I going back or not."

"Of course you're going back," declared his mother sharply. "Don't be absurd!"

He shot her a speculative glance. "If I do—well, I'll have to hand it to you!'

Julie and Leila, who were waiting at Soundview, fairly exuded gloom and pessimism.

"I simply don't see what you're going to do, you and Marjorie and Dan," wailed Leila with a lace-bordered handkerchief conveniently displayed in case the carefully summoned tears on her fine lashes should spill over. "Ivan and I would do something for you if we possibly could afford it. But you know how little, relatively speaking, a concert artist makes, and how necessary it is to live up to his position. And we positively MUST get to the Riviera during the cold months for the sake of Ivan's voice."

Leila sighed and Julie said pityingly:

"Of course, Mother has no idea of responsibility, we mustn't forget that and we mustn't blame her. She's just like one of those pretty satin-and-tulle dolls that go on top of wedding cakes and are kept under a glass case for the rest of time. It's brutal to expect her to face realities. I wish Norris could contribute something to that tiny little income Dad left for her, but it's quite impossible. He's having bad luck in the Street himself lately, and it really takes every cent we make to keep our house going and pay club dues and dress decently."

While her children discussed her, pityingly, the pretty doll was at the upstairs telephone. The number she was calling was Reed Hollister's club.

MEDITATIONS —OF A— MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

TRIFLES, LIGHT AS AIR.

DON'T worry so much about a man's heart as about his conscience; a healthy conscience will bind him to you, long after a "strong love" has weakened and died.

It isn't until he feels himself "going down for the third time" in a love affair, that a man ceases to struggle against fate and just "gives up" gracefully and lets the girl marry him.

* * *

Every human being is born a "creator," and perfect happiness consists in just one thing—creating the thing you love, whether it's a book, a picture, a home, a garden, a fortune—or just admiration.

Romance, after marriage, should be tempered with common sense; no man wants souffle for his meals three times a day, or sentimental devotion seven days a week.

Half the time, when a man thinks that it is his digestion or his liver that is troubling him, it is really his conscience; and most of the time when he believes that his heart has been broken, it is merely his vanity which has been slightly chipped by some girl's indifference.

* * *

If a man could open the closet of his wife's mind, he might be astonished to find it filled these days with a lot of things besides clothes, hats and beauty creams.

A woman never knows whether a grouchy husband is nursing a sore finger or a sore soul, until she tries to apply balm and discovers that what he needs is not liniment, but a little soothing flattery.

* * *

* * *

Might as well try to change the brand of a man's tobacco as to attempt to change his attitude of mind toward a woman, once it has become a conviction. Nothing she can do will persuade him that she is not a devil—or a saint—as the case may be.

HOW TO MAKE AN ODD HANDBAG

QUITE an odd and attractive handbag can be made from small pieces of different colored silk by cutting the silk in strips about three-quarters of an inch wide and turning them in so that there will be no fraying or raw edges and then twisting each strip very tightly.

After they are twisted they can be arranged so as to form a design and can be sewn in place.

The colors are the most important thing in the arrangement as they will help to bring out the idea of the design. The design can be drawn on a piece of canvas or sateen and may be filled in with twisted silk, the colors being arranged according to one's own taste.

If you are not good at designing you may be able to make a very artistic bag by sewing the silk on and giving it a twist here and there in a sort of a scroll pattern, blending one color into another.

When this much of the bag is completed a top of some sort will have to be attached. Now the question is what kind of top would be most satisfactory—a frame or a drawstring? The bag with a definite design, the outline of which would be broken by folds made by a drawstring, would necessarily have a frame, whereas a bag with a continual design like the scroll pattern could have either a drawstring or a frame.

The design on a bag of this description seen recently represented a landscape and was entirely made of rosettes of twisted silk sewn very tightly together. The sky was of blue, a small house in the distance of yellow with small white pieces of silk for windows. Brown rosettes were used to form a road leading up to the house and on both sides of the road green rosettes represented grass.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

SONS OF LAUGHTER.

WHAT gracious gifts the world holds out for those who walk its ways, what beauty smiling all about, what joy of sun-filled days! And some are dowered with hope and youth, some know love's fond caress, some are the messengers of truth, while some build loveliness. To every one a gift, it seems, to make his pathway bright; to some, their toil, to some their dreams to hold for heart's delight. If one might choose, which would he take of all this splendid train, which would he ask and which forsake of high reward and gain? For many men, wind many ways that lead them far and wide, where they may follow all their days and still be satisfied. But let who will seek toil or wealth as life's most precious boons, let wise men ask the gift of health and misers grasp doubloons, but for my part I do not pause to name the thing I'd take, nor would I change for any cause the choice I gladly make. I'd join the bravest clan that dwells upon this spinning sphere, the merry ones whose laughter wells, sweet music on the ear. O, there are valiant men, we know, with stirring parts to play; but where the sons of laughter go, the shadows draw away. They see beyond the cloud the blue, beneath the snow the grass, and every lane they journey through grows greener as they pass. They laugh at toil, at care, at pain, they laugh at foolish tears, they laugh at ills that wax and wane, they laugh away their fears. For them the rarest blossoms blow, the sweetest songbird calls, and where the sons of laughter go no shadow ever falls.

A cork to scour knives? It accomplishes the work more expeditiously than a cloth.

Partners

HE, Love and She! The partnership has been formed! And Love has placed his stamp of approval on the preliminary proceedings, guiding her every thought that it may eventually bring about the signing of the final contract when one—no, both—will enter on their life work of happiness-building each for the other, with Love ever present, in fond faith. And if, for an instance, some time, perhaps a quarrel should ever creep in—there is the peacemaker to make it all up and right again, so long as both firmly cling to faith and learn to forgive.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Prevents Mold.

A bowl of lime in the closet where the preserves and jellies are stored will prevent mold from forming on the tops of the jars.

Avoid Scratching Them.

Never clean your nails with a file, penknife or any sharp article. It will only scratch the underneath part of the nail and this roughened surface will collect dirt and hold it far more quickly and stubbornly than before. Use an orange stick for this purpose.

Kitchen Walls.

If your kitchen is not a painted one, it will pay you to have it papered in an oil-cloth paper, so it can be wiped free of cooking grease when necessary. The walls and ceiling of the kitchen cannot help but accumulate grease and must therefore be washed to remove it.

That Purple Stamp.

That purple stamp you see on the meat at the butcher's should give you a feeling of satisfaction. The letters on it, U. S. I. P., mean United States Inspected and Passed. The stamp of Government approval is on the meat and we know it is fit food for the family.

Turkish Soup.

Mince as fine as you can, the white breast meat of a cold boiled chicken. Add to it a cupful of pine nuts chopped, then worked smooth in a mortar. Add a quart of well-flavored chicken broth, made of the water the chicken was boiled in. Throw the bones, skin and trimmings into the broth with a sliced onion, parsley, celery and a bunch of sweet herbs. Let this mixture boil for a half-hour, strain it, season it with pepper and salt, cool it, remove the grease, then reheat it with the chicken and nuts added. Just the moment of serving, add a cupful of hot cream, or cocoanut cream if it is available.

Steamed Prune Pudding.

Chop one-third of a cupful of fresh beef suet as finely as possible and add one-third of a cupful each of sugar and cooked sifted prune puree, one lightly beaten egg, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, three-quarters of a cupful each of grated breadcrumbs and flour sifted with one rounding teaspoonful of baking powder, one-third of a cupful of sweet milk and a tablespoonful and a half of minced candied lemon peel. Mix well, turn into a greased mould and steam for two hours. Serve with a hard sauce flavored with nutmeg.

FASHION FRILLS

Coiffures in London are not quite so sleek now as formerly. Few women can carry off the Spanish mode, and little fluffs of curled hair are appearing at the sides of the head.

More and more the engagement ring is getting away from the single stone idea. Instead of a large solitaire, one sees several small diamonds combined with other stones. Just now the diamond and sapphire ring is a favorite.

* * *

The small Paris hat, whether of silk or duvetyn, is often trimmed these days with fur. A fur scarf, such as that formerly worn around the neck, is twisted about the crown, with the tail standing up in back.

VINEGAR AS A SALAD MAKER

By Hannah Wing

An Authority on Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

THAT vinegar plays an inconspicuous but important part in salad dressings is a fact unrecognized by many persons who often express a desire to achieve a distinctive difference in their product. Flavored vinegars offer one of the easiest, simplest and most satisfactory means of varying salad dressings to secure the nicety of blended flavors desired.

Of these flavored vinegars, taragon is perhaps the most familiar. This may be purchased or made in the home by filling a fruit jar with fresh tarragon leaves, adding the yellow skin of half a lemon thinly pared and two or three cloves. The tarragon should be put in loosely and the jar filled with white vinegar. Close the jar tightly and let it remain in the kitchen in the sun for two or three weeks. Strain off the vinegar and bottle for future use.

Pleasantly flavored herb vinegars may be made by using any desired combination of seasoning herbs. Fresh green herbs should be used and chopped finely. About two tablespoons each of sweet marjoram, cress, capsicum and shallots, with a finely chopped garlic clove added to a pint of tarragon vinegar, sealed and placed in a warm place for a week or two gives a vinegar which may be used to season the salad dressing when an additional flavor is desired. Such seasoning is particularly good with salads made from cold meats or cold boiled vegetables.

During the summer one should be sure to make a supply of nasturtium vinegar and to pickle a few nasturtium seeds to use in salads throughout the year. Either the blossoms or seeds of nasturtiums will give the desired flavor. The vinegar made from the blossoms is, perhaps, more delicate than that from the seeds.

All that is necessary is to gather enough fresh blossoms to fill a quart jar. A bit of clove, red pepper and perhaps a tiny bit of garlic and a slice of onion may be added if desired. Cover the blossoms with cold vinegar and after two weeks strain and add a teaspoon of salt.

Many of the seasoned vinegars which are left from pickles, such as the sweet gherkins, are excellent to use in salad dressings. Vinegar in which cucumbers and onions have been served may find a new usefulness in a salad dressing to serve with a salad of such a cold boiled fish, as salmon, for instance.

Do You Know—

That spirits of camphor will remove peach stains and if pear and apple stains are soaked in paraffin for a few hours before washing they will disappear?

* * *

That severe pains in the stomach after eating can often be relieved by drinking a glass of water in which a teaspoonful of salt has been dissolved?

That heavy dent[illegible] is excellent for stringing beads. For convenience in stringing lay the beads, according to size, on a piece of corrugated paper.

* * *

That giving the face a lemon bath is refreshing and will remove that greasy look. Squeeze the juice of half a lemon into a basin of lukewarm water. Apply to face with a soft cloth, then rinse the face in cold water.

So good, so cool
—this new breakfast is chilled!

Here's the recipe. All you need is Quick Quaker—try it.

WANT a change in breakfast? A dish so unusual, so delightful on a summer's day that no other before has compared? Here is the latest delight in thousands of homes—it's worth while trying.

As you prepare dinner tonight, cook your regular breakfast quantity of QUICK QUAKER (the new Quaker Oats that cooks in 3 to 5 minutes).

When done, pour into a pudding mould and let cool. Then place in the refrigerator over night. Cut in medium thick slices and serve at breakfast with fresh or cooked fruits or berries and sugar—float with rich milk or cream.

The combination is delightful. A world noted chef discovered this new way. Now millions enjoy it every day. Just for the joy of it, try it yourself.

The rack is lifted to a tray and the work is done, no wiping being necessary unless the housewife desires to do it. Should the dishes be unusually greasy and fail to respond to the hose, a little dish mop, which comes with the outfit, can be used.

Many of us own refrigerators of the old-fashioned type, which never seem large enough to store what we feel should be stored in them. It is obvious that we cannot increase their size, but we can increase their carrying capacity by using the right sort of dishes to store in them—dishes that take up the least possible amount of room. These are enameled pans in square and rectangular shapes that fit one above another, like insets, and are topped with covers, so that they may be used singly or in tiers. They cannot tip over as round-bottomed bowls too often do, and not one inch of valuable space is wasted. Better still, there is no danger of breakage. Then there are the straight-sided enamel pitcher, which is a space economizer, and the square cups that are so handy when chilling ingredients measured for baking.

The folding ironing-board is considered a traveling convenience but is a boon for those living in small apartments, for it may be stored away unsuspected.

POOR Aunt Letitia or Aunt Margaret, or just whatever it is that her real name really happens to be.

Aunt Letitia has a very famous nephew, and the nephew was nominated for a high office the other day at the Republican convention.

Fine man—Aunt Letitia's nephew—beloved from one end of the country to another, and admired, too, for his sagacity and his courage! But once upon a time Nephew made a remark with the name of a place in it not to be lightly mentioned in polite society.

And all the newspapers took it up and now they call Nephew "Hell and Maria" Dawes.

Aunt Letitia is dreadfully embarrassed about it.

WHO SEES US CLEAREST?

"Charley is a good boy," says Aunt Letitia. "I do wish he wouldn't talk so. I don't see what makes him."

Poor woman, don't you know just how she feels?

It's all very well for a relative to drop a naughty word now and then in the strict privacy of his own affairs, but to have that naughty word bruited about from one end of the country to the other, as if he never said any other sort of word at all, it really is a bit trying!

And it's also unimportant, somehow, and yet—how people do love a nickname!

One of the finest men I know is called "Tightwad" Johnson, just because he's so generous. And lots of people think he's really very stingy, indeed, just on account of his name. His wife doesn't mind it a bit, she's used to it, but his daughter hates it.

Have you ever gone into a little village where a great man lived and asked a few questions about him?

It's the queerest thing in the world how many odd things you can hear in a little village, and how few people there are who can know a man really well and see him as he really is—behind the little veil of peculiarities and temperament that looks so important to the casual acquaintance.

I wonder if it isn't the stranger who sees us with the clearest eyes?

I heard the wife of a brilliant Justice of the Supreme Court say to her mother once that she didn't mind Billy being cross sometimes. What she hated about him was that "he is such a fool."

No doctor's wife ever wants her husband to prescribe for his own children. And oh, my dear, have you ever noticed the way a woman always acts about her husband's driving?

No matter how clever, how quick, how resourceful, how absolutely competent he is, John can never please the lady on the back seat.

She always has to tell him how to drive, and when to slow down, and when and where to pass another car.

A CURIOUS CONTRAST.

If I were a man and had a wife like that, what would I do with her? Stop the car and ask her politely but firmly to step down and out?

Get home as quick as I could and never take her out with me again?

No, I'd make the punishment fit the crime!

The next time she was out in the kitchen beating up a cake, or stirring up a pan of biscuits, I'd go out and stand over her and tell her how to do it.

And when she began to trim a hat I'd snatch it out of her hand and arrange the trimming, not to suit her at all, but to suit myself.

Once the cleverest woman executive that I ever knew, took me home to dinner with her. Fine woman, quick-witted, clear-headed, self-possessed—the idol of her club, and a very successful president of it!

What sort of man was her husband? He was a fussy little bossy person who acted as if his wife were a sort of well-meaning imbecile entirely dependent upon him for ideas.

Peter Rabbit's Queer Find

'Tis foolish and 'tis never right.
—Peter Rabbit.

PETER RABBIT, having nothing better to do, had gone up to the Old Pasture to see what he could find. For awhile he wandered about aimlessly, without finding anything of particular interest. Then, as he was passing a big bramble tangle, he was startled by a loud, angry thump. He knew it was an angry thump, because he had often thumped in just that way when he was angry. Peter didn't have to guess who was thumping. He knew. It was Old Jed Thumper, the gray old Rabbit, who has lived so long in the Old Pasture that he thinks it belongs to him.

Peter knew what that angry thump meant. It meant fight or get out. Peter was tempted to stop and fight. He wasn't afraid of Old Jed Thumper. There had been a time when he was afraid, but now he was so big and strong that he wasn't afraid. So he was tempted to thump back just as angrily. If he did he would have to stay and fight. He was just making ready to thump when he changed his mind.

"What's the use?" thought Peter. "There is nothing for me to fight about. Old Jed Thumper probably feels just as I would feel if he should come down to the dear Old Briarpatch. All he wants is to drive me away. I'll let him think he has done it. It will make him feel good, and it won't do me any harm."

So instead of sending back an answering, angry thump, Peter took to his long legs and away he went, lipperty-lipperty-lip. He looked back to see if Old Jed Thumper was following. But Old Jed Thumper wasn't, and so presently Peter hopped along more slowly. It was just at the beginning of dusk. The first of the Black Shadows were just beginning to creep out from the Purple Hills. It was very quiet and peaceful. Peter sat down close to a big, flat rock.

For a long time he sat there, just resting and listening to the sweet evening song of Melody the Wood Thrush. It came to him softened by the distance from the Green Forest and was like a fairy, silver bell. At last he began to think of moving on. It was then that he chanced to turn his head and look across the top of the big, flat rock beside which he was sitting. Right on the middle of it were what he at first took to be two odd-shaped, smooth pebbles. Then he noticed that they were just alike and were lying side by side.

"They are not pebbles at all!" he exclaimed

"Those are funny looking pebbles," thought Peter, and hopped on the big rock to have a closer look at them. Then his ears stood up straight and his eyes opened wide in surprise. "They are not pebbles at all!" he exclaimed. "They are eggs! Yes, sir, they are eggs, or I don't know an egg when I see it."

They were eggs. They were dull white, covered with little fine specks of grayish-brown. But there was no nest. They were resting right on the bare rock. There wasn't even a leaf or a spear of grass under them. Peter stared all around. It was a queer find. Yes, sir, it certainly was a queer find. How did it happen that two eggs were lying there side by side right out on a bare rock? Peter couldn't understand it at all. The only way to account for them that he could think of was, that Farmer Brown's Boy had taken them from a nest somewhere and had put them down on that rock and then forgotten them. But it wasn't like Farmer Brown's boy to take eggs from a nest. Peter scratched a long ear with a long hind foot, and wondered and wondered.

Acids in Canning

THE housewife who plans to use a preserving powder or a canning compound to insure the keeping of the fruits and vegetables she puts up this summer is advised that the use of such powders may prove harmful to health, say the specialists of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, who have investigated these preparations. Canning compounds usually contain salicylic acid or boric acid, although sold under different trade names and at a price much above their real value.

While salicyclic acid is a medicine useful in certain diseases, it is also known to be a poisonous substance and its excessive use in canned foods may lead to serious disturbance of the health. Boric acid is recognized under the pure food law as harmful to health, and while it possesses some antiseptic power, it is not safe to depend upon it alone to prevent or check the growth of harmful bacteria in foods. The safest method is to prepare fruits and vegetables in a cleanly manner and to sterilize them properly.

Top Mixture.

Mix thoroughly three tablespoons of sugar, three-fourths teaspoon of cinnamon, three-fourths cup of soft, stale, bread crumbs and two or three tablespoons of butter; add one-fourth cup of blanched almonds chopped fine. Sprinkle mixture thickly over top of cakes.

The rich smoothness—the tantalizing difference of this new loaf cheese makes your guests ask "Is this a new kind of Cheese?"

The new loaf cheese with the pie you love best

Crisp brown crust so light and crumbly it fairly melts in your mouth, thick juicy apples and generous squares of the new kind of American cheese.

And such cheese!

Rich and creamy with a mellow delicate flavor you never tasted before. With it apple pie becomes something special—still your favorite but an added distinction makes you proud to offer it to your guests.

The richness, the rare delicacy of flavor of this delicious loaf cheese, is achieved by a new way of mellowing. This single further step undreamt of by earlier cheesemakers is applied to the best American, Pimiento, Swiss and Brick Cheeses after they have been carefully ripened in the finest way.

LIVES OF GREAT MEN.

HOW would you like, my little son,
To be another Washington,
Who put the British on the run
And always told the truth?"
"Oh, I dunno," the youth replied
"While Washington may not have lied
(The truth of which has been denied)
"I'd rather be Babe Ruth."

PRETTY FAIR.

George Washington never made a home run in his life, but he made the British run home.

Probably Babe Ruth couldn't fill the presidential chair, but he can fill more seats at a ball park than any one man in the game.

Babe Ruth never went after the veracity record, but his home-run record speaks for itself. Figures don't lie.

Ty Cobb, being mortal, might stretch the truth on occasion, but when it comes to stretching a single into a double, the Peach is there like a celluloid duck.

Far be it from us to take anything from George Washington. We are willing to let his reputation for veracity stand unchallenged. George never played golf.

Like George Washington, we are against taxation without representation. We pay our taxes, but our Representatives represent nobody but themselves.

QUITE A LIST.

When the evil-smelling River des Peres which flows past the back door of the Municipal Theater has been boxed and the new bandstand erected on the island in Pagoda Lake, Forest Park will be well worth a trip to as the feller says.

Due to the heavy rains this summer the River des Peres has been high both in volume and aroma.

The River des Peres has frequently given the actors and actresses on the stage of the Municipal Theater a wrong impression when they observed people in the audience holding their noses.

However, when the justly infamous river has been finally boxed up and laid away the golfers on the municipal links will have to look around for some other hazards.

See where the cornetist of the prison band at Jefferson City has been turned out. Couldn't they have taken his horn away from him and kept him in?

The Warden of the penitentiary at Jeff City appointed his 16-year-old son a guard at the prison. Was there no member of the Old Guard who wanted the job?

ONE OF THOSE EXPERT BELLRINGERS.

AT ONE period of his early journalistic life Bill Nye lived on the Pacific Coast. Mostly he made his headquarters in San Francisco. But business took him to San Jose and he liked the surroundings and stayed on for quite a spell.

Then he made the acquaintance of a dissipated, middle-aged free-lance journalist. Having more or less congenial tastes, the budding humorist and the newspaper man became fast friends. The latter had no fixed habitation. His residence address was the number in his hat and he was at home wherever he sat down—or fell down.

Nye had occasion to go away on a special assignment for a syndicate to which he was furnishing articles. In his absence he invited the veteran to occupy his chamber at the local hotel. Upon his return at the end of four weeks the management handed him a bar bill for eighty dollars. The entries showed the account had been run up in his absence.

He went to his friend for an explanation.

"How about this?" he asked, spreading out the statement before the beneficiary who sat on the side of the bed in a pleasant alcoholic daze.

"Bill," said the other, between gentle hiccoughs, "it's like this: You remember when you went away you told me I was to use anything in this room?"

"Yes."

Young Man Caught as He Enters the International to Demand $1200 From Teller.

OVERPOWERED AS HE DRAWS REVOLVER

Citizen Had Seen Weapon in His Pocket Through Hole in Coat and Notified a Policeman.

A lunchtime crowd in and near the International Bank, Fourth and Olive street, today saw two policemen overpower and disarm a young man woh had prepared to hold up one of the bank's tellers.

The young man, whose clothes were shabby, was standing at the entrance of the bank, leannig against a pollar, when a passer-by, Henry Schenk, of 1431 Hamilton avenue, saw, through a hole in the man's coat, a revolver in his rear pocket.

Schenk casually edged up to Patrolman Weisbrod, who was in the middle of the street directing traffic, and caled his attention to the man. At that moment, the man went into the bank.

Overpowered by Policemen.

Weisbrod followed him, and was about to seize him from behind when the man turned toward him and reached for the revolver. There was a struggle, which had not reached a decision when Patrolman Schlewing, guarding a payroll messenger, came in. He seized the man, and the two policemen got the revolver and subdued further resistance with a few cranial taps from their own revolvers.

Just what might have happened, if the police interference had not come when it did, developed only after the man, suffering from scalp wounds and alcoholism, had been taken to the city hospital. There he said he was Ernest Fuller, just in from Chicago, and a search showed he had but 45 cents. He "played" deaf and dumb at first, but was induced to talk and hear.

In his pockets were two notes, written with a lead pencil on the backs of blank checks of the International Bank. They were meant, apparently, to be laid before one of the tellers of the bank at an oportune moment.

Notes Ready for Teller.

One of the notes, apparently meant to be shown first, read:

Stand still for a minute. I have two pals outside. They have got the drop on you through the window. Don't start nothing.

After this should have made the inteded impression, he was ready with this follow-up note:

Pass me out $1200 quick, or you are a dead man. Make any noise or one move, and I will plug you. Make it snappy. I am desperate.

It appeared that the man had gone into the bank and written the notes, and that he had awaited a more favorable moment for presenting the notes at one of the paying windows. The revolver was a new one. The prisoner said he was a carpenter, and declared that, because of the effects of drinks which he had bought near Union Station, he had not known what he was doing. He made no attempt to explain the notes.

Previous Similar Incidents.

A man made a verbal demand for money, a few months ago, on one of the tellers of the Mercantile Trust Co. as the teller was at his window. He threatened to throw a small bottle, which he said contained nitroglycerin, but the teller temporized with him, and called to another teller, whereupon the man fled.

In 1898, a young man who called himself John Smith went to the penitentiary for attempting to hold up George A. Madill, president of the Union Trust Co., in his office at Seventh and Olive. He served a five-year term, left the prison and disappeared without having disclosed his identity to anyone.
